ASTORIA.
Astoria, where the Columbia meets the ocean, is the objective point on which not only state-wide but nationwide interest has centered the past week because of the historical expedition which led to that city. One of the significant features of the recent celebration was the dedication on last Thursday of a towering monument on Coxcomb hill, the gift to Astoria of Vincent Astor, descendant of John Jacob Astor, founder of the city by the sea. The monument will contain historical etchings depicting events connected with the history of Astoria. John Jacob Astor is not the only one honored in this event. Lewis & Clark and Captain Gray were honored.

Astoria is rich in tradition. It was the first white settlement west of the Mississippi river. It stands where river and ocean meet. It has a great destiny.

A year ago an Outlook party visited the Astoria city park, situated on a high point near where the new Astor monument stands. The situation is beautiful and sightly. It leads one to conclude that, in spite of appearances often, it is not all commercialism that dominates our cities today, especially when one reads and ponders the sentiment inscribed at the entrance to this same park, as follows:

All you who enter here
Forget your worldly cares
Think not of strife, of fame, of gold,
Behold God's glory in his handiwork

A CHEER DISPENSER.
Ladies and gentlemen, meet Dr. Frank Crane. Read his cheer-o-gram in the Outlook.

Does life drag a bit? Is there an occasional knock in your make up? Do you need overhauling? tuning up? In your inner works and polishing exteriorly to bring the shine back to your face?

Well, we can do it for you. We've hired a specialist to handle your case. He is a cheer dispenser, a gloom dispeller.

Dr. Crane never preaches, but his short, shrewd, kindly common sense, vigorous optimism and cheerful humor will set you right with yourself and the world. And—
Oh boy, ain't that a grand and glorious feeling!

THANK YOU, MR. HAYS.
Will H. Hays, well known as the movie czar, has mounted a step higher on the ladder of fame, made his name still more respected and won the thanks of millions of good citizens by decreeing that hereafter there shall be no more ridiculing of prohibition on the silver screen or belittling of religious teaching and practice.

That suits many of us to a tee. Some day the movies will be the great educational and uplifting force they should be—not all mere amusement and scandal.
Thank you, Mr. Hays.

Through the affiliation of A.A.A. clubs throughout America, the Oregon State Motor association is distributing motion pictures made in the Pacific Northwest, to the tourist centers of America that more interest may be created in the attractions of Oregon and its sister states. While at the national conference of secretaries of more than 800 affiliated clubs in the A.A.A. organization, held in Washington, D.C. last winter, George O. Brandenburg, general manager of the Oregon State Motor association, showed four reels of the Oregon films that created a great deal of interest. As a result of that showing, calls have been coming in for the films to be shown by the various A.A.A. clubs interested in the co-operative work of the A.A.A. clubs in the tourist industry.

It seems to be getting quite popular nowadays to have a monkey for a pet. The only objectionable feature is they are too common.

We always thought dog days came in August. We are led to believe the season is far advanced for this time of year judging from the many dogs on our streets.

The world throbs with activity. No living thing is lazy unless overfed. Fall in with the grand procession of progress, led on by divine power. Keep your head, heart and hand steady—and keep moving.

A harvest of approximately 32,768,000 bushels of small grains will be Oregon's contribution to the nation's store of agricultural products this year, according to the Sears-Roebuck agricultural foundation. An average of one thresher for every 27 farms in the state will be used in making this vast amount of small grain available for shipment and use.

WOODMEN EXCURSION TO HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN

Multnomah Camp No. 77, W. O. W., is to have a special excursion train over the Southern Pacific to Tillamook, enroute to Oceanside, Sunday, August 1, leaving East Side Morrison street station at 6:45 a. m.

Provision has been made for more than 500 people on the trip. Upon arrival at Tillamook, there will be automobiles to take every one immediately over to Oceanside, the newest and most attractive of the Tillamook beaches.

This excursion is unique in that this is the first time one of just this kind has been made, and the manner which has made it possible. It was the idea of District Manager Adolph Gerwin to offer a beach trip to every one securing an acceptable candidate for the camp during the months of May, June and July. But the expense would have been prohibitive had it not been for District Manager J. A. Pate, of the Tillamook district, and the Tillamook Camp Woodmen, who came forward and cooperated by arranging transportation to Oceanside, an excellent dinner of clam chowder, baked salmon, Tillamook cheese, bread, butter and coffee. There will also be every kind of beach entertainment, allowing for a full day of sports, bathing, hiking, clamming, crabbing, fishing, sea lions, etc.

Tickets are now on sale for those who were not fortunate enough to secure a candidate.

Tillamook Camp Woodmen of the World, has been making preparation for this visit from Camp 77 for over a month, and there have been various kinds of entertainment planned for every one. The Boys' band, the city fathers, fire and police departments, are all on the program of entertainment and reception committee. In fact, it is generally expected that Tillamook will prove an excellent and hospitable host. Dr. David Robinson will have charge of the transportation to Oceanside and return to Tillamook. Clam chowder and baked salmon will be served under the expert supervision of Messrs. Victor Mennen and Howard Brooks.

Other committees will be presided over by Adolph Erickson, Addison Harris, Frank Matthews, John Zeller and W. F. Robinson, all under the general management of J. A. Pate. Adolph Gerwin of Portland will have charge of the sports and prizes.

Among those who will be making the trip are Camp 77's Rose City quartet, E. A. Clark, Judge Richard Deich, Judge Martin W. Hawkins, Joe Dunne, J. O. Wilson, Clerk of Multnomah Camp, T. J. Kreuder, W. H. Mitchell, J. L. Wells, Geo. Funk, Frank Weed, C. A. Bigelow, and many other notables, who have promised entertainment and to keep the party lively on the train both to and from Tillamook.

Returning the train will leave Tillamook along in the evening, allowing for a full day at the beach.

MT. HOOD LOOP FOLDER OFFERED TO PUBLIC

A new pocket folder, entitled "Mount Hood Loop Highway Log," is now available for free distribution in single copies at the Portland offices of district forester C. M. Granger and supervisor T. H. Sherrard. This highway log and map is issued by the forest service as a means of systematically answering the large and constantly growing tourist demands for directions and distances connected with this highly popular trip.

In the table of distances, 38 separate places of tourist interest are listed, starting with the west boundary of the Mt. Hood national forest at the Zigzag ranger station, 44.6 miles from the courthouse in Portland, and ending at the district ranger's headquarters, ten miles beyond the northeast forest boundary, near the Mt. Hood P. O., an additional distance of 48.1 miles. Among these points of interest are mentioned adjoining roads and trail, while a brief description of the more important trail trips is furnished elsewhere in the folder.

The small map shows the location of the most important places listed in the road log, and in addition furnishes distances between the major points of tourist interest along the Columbia River highway to where it is joined by the Mount Hood Loop highway at Hood River, or a total round trip distance of almost 175 miles.

In the descriptive matter, brief attention is given to the historical naming of Mt. Tabor and Barlow Pass, and to the forest fire detection service rendered by the Mt. Hood lookout station.

DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS

DR. FRANK CRANE

"The man with a million friends." What reader has not heard of Dr. Frank Crane and read with mental and spiritual exhilaration his cheer-full editorials? He broadcasts the gospel of cheer. He believes in keeping physically fit, mentally hopeful and morally clean and spiritually triumphant. He is one of the writers for the Outlook and as our space permits the readers will be given the benefit of his helpful messages. For instance read what he says about Our Friends:

Some people enjoy enemies. They enjoy the spiritual attack. I am not of that class. I have just been over to see a lady who has a dog she calls Ford. Her husband is in the automobile business. I will not offend by saying what Ford looks like. But his main trait is affection.

Ford is a veritable sensitive plant. When his mistress speaks crossly to him he shrinks like a withered leaf. He is the picture of utter, abject misery.

And when she speaks kindly he ties himself into bowknots, leaps, runs, barks, laughs and turns somersaults. So when I say I am human as a dog, I feel to be boasting.

Sympathy means "suffering with," and we usually use the term for the communion of griefs only. That is good of course. It helps a lot for any one to feel sorry because you have bumped your nose. Still, it is a deal easier to share grief than joy.

People who understand our moods of happiness are rarer than they that comprehend our woes.

If you would be my real and longed-for friend, I pray you cultivate a capacity for sharing my lighter moments. Then I know that you are genuinely sympathetic, that between us run the cords of a unity of heart and soul that mean something.

There are certain goods you get from life as you go along. For instance, there is food and drink for your belly and clothes for your back, shelter for your head and money for your pocket; there is the impact of familiar things at home, the cat and the dog and the old blue china tea set; there is a cigar for a man and a new dress for a woman; there is a deal of enjoyment one way and another, but not the least considerable of all satisfactions in this vale of tears is that warmth which comes to the cockles of your heart when you meet the man who takes to you and believes in you and the woman who understands and likes you.

This world would be a poor slavepen if all appreciation were banished, and there were no more greetings of friendship and fat hours of fellowship. For good or ill my friends become a part of me, and so do my enemies.
