Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

"Harken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation; for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people."—Isaiah 51:1.

God's law is fundamental. The nearer man-made laws conform to the principles of the supreme law the more enduring and beneficial they will be.

VOTE.

It doesn't matter so much what your party affiliations are so you vote your honest convictions. If you haven't any honest convictions you aren't much of a citizen, and if you don't express your convictions when the occasion demands it you aren't honest with yourself or your fellowmen.

Now we can gather up a lot of propaganda that has accumulated in this office and throw it in the waste basket.

The name of Louis E. Bean, of Eugene, republican, will be pasted on the ballot for the office of Public Service commissioner. He was nominated by the state republican central committee to fill the vacancy on the ballot caused by the withdrawal of Thos. K. Campbell. Mr. Campbell's death occurred this week.

LOOK FOR THE KINDLY.

There probably never was so much sordid news to print or so much printed as is the case now day after day. And everybody reads it!

We are apt to see only the sordid side of life, yet there is much news of a kindly character if we will only train our eyes to look for it. "Amid the raucous blaring of the crimes of the degenerate few," says Dr. Frank Crane, "there can always be found the soft notes that speak of the great mass of common, everyday, homely, honest folk, who make up the worth-while part of humanity." And this kindly writer records a few instances that should encourage us to look for more.

A New York scrubwoman, while her husband was serving a term in jail for non-support, was working for ten dollars a week to support her two children. The rent was overdue and they faced eviction. In the hallway where she scrubbed she found a pocketbook with a hundred dollars in it. In spite of her great need she turned it over to her employer, saying: "It's better to be honest."

The town of Newent, in southern England, is known as "the Daffodil Village." Its inhabitants each year sell tons of flowers in London. Recently they set aside a day and gathered five thousand bunches to send free to the thirty hospitals there. The railway company also transported them without charge.

On a busy corner in New York a traffic officer held up traffic for a minute while he rescued a young bird that had fluttered from a nest to the pavement, but was unable to fly.

In Providence, R. I., a man who had lost his wife and three grandchildren in the Mackinac disaster last August returned a check for five hundred dollars to the Red Cross, saying: "Others need it more than I."

A patrolman making his rounds on the East Side in New York warned two men who were arguing in loud tones on a street corner late at night. When he returned they were still shouting at each other, so he locked them both up. The next morning they were arraigned for disorderly conduct, the case was continued and bail fixed at twenty-five dollars. The day before had been rent day and one of the men had no money. If he stayed away from work he would lose his job and his seven children would go hungry. The officer sadly shook his head, reached into his own pocket and gave the clerk the twenty-five dollars to release the prisoner.

"As you read the news each day keep your eyes open for the little revealing glimpses of the noble and the loyal and the kind in human nature that the items often show," says Dr. Crane.

Special Combination Rates Offered. Until November 1, 1926, special combination prices are offered for the Gresham Outlook and The Portland News. The regular subscription price for the News is $5 and for the Outlook $1.50. Until that date the two in combination will be $2.98. Special price on the News alone is $2.98.—Adv.

Queen Marie's visit to this country is the occasion of such a social flurry and flood of publicity that one is apt to think they are right who say we are a nation of seekers after the sensational. Why should the visit of a queen cause such a stir? Perhaps it is due partly to the element of curiosity as to why she is here. That has caused much speculation. She says she came because she wanted to see us. The desire at last grew so strong she just couldn't put off her visit any longer. She is coming to Portland. Will visit the livestock show on November 3. Will be heard over the radio. Will dedicate the Hill museum at Maryhill, Washington. Will go to Seattle, but not to California. She is a granddaughter of Queen Victoria and is quite modern, alert, affable and talented.

Master the Horse. In the successful training of horses great patience, gentleness, and firmness are needed. A horse should be trained so that he thinks there is no limit to his power to do the things required of him and believes that he has no power to do that which is against the wishes of his master. Never ask of a horse something he can not do. To do so may make him balky and worthless. Do not work a colt after he is tired. Always, if the horse can not do or can not be made to do what is asked of him, make him do something else. So long as he is not allowed to do what he himself chooses he will consider man his superior and master.

The last green tomatoes have many uses. They make good pickles and chow chow, and also marmalade; they can be used for pie filling, for mock mince meat and served fried. Adds add to your ad-venture.

Not one penny has been spent for surplus bulk or ornamental castings which raise the cost of a furnace, but add nothing in the way of heating efficiency, hence you can get one of these furnaces installed in your home as low as

$85

If you are contemplating building or installing a furnace come in and let us explain other reasons why the Sibloco is the most practical.

Meet Sarah Ann Duplicate

YOU may never see Sarah Ann, though perhaps you might. Sarah Ann was pronounced the world's greatest Holstein last year—the All-American Aged Cow. And where did she appear? Why, at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland—where many, many world's champions appear!

Sarah may be there again this year, October 30-November 6. But, if not, you will see thousands of the finest bred, best producing dairy stock in America—for they come from the four corners of the continent to be at this—the greatest combined livestock exposition now known in the world. Also come the finest Beef Cattle, Horses, Hogs, Sheep, Goats and Foxes. Then there's the famous Horse Show and Land, Industrial and Dairy Products Exposition—all housed in the tremendous 10-acre exposition building.

It is our sincere belief that there is not a farmer in this community who can afford to miss, or who will fall to profit by this opportunity.
