MORE OF CHRISTIANITY.

There are more Christians in the world today than ever before and more of christianity. Christ is better understood, more loved and his spirit and teachings more generally exemplified than in any day or age of the world's history.

It is well to think of this fact between Christmas and New Year's, 1926.

It is possible to take a narrow view, judge others by one's own warped standard and conclude that there was never so much atheism, materialism and anti-christian propaganda in the world as at present.

But such a view is based on prejudice not fact.

The editor has observed many Christmases and read and observed with an open mind. He is convinced he never passed through a Christmas season before in which the spirit of him "who went about doing good" was so rife.

There never was more harmony among religious sects. There never was more universal reverence for God, for Christ, for sacred institutions. There never was more respect for religious institutions or more generous support of the agencies for relief which, whatever their name or auspices, are inspired and maintained by christian faith and teaching.

The sentiment of brotherhood was never more prominent than now. Religious teaching and work was never more acceptable and that anywhere in the world.

Civilization advances. God reigns and all is well with his world. Not all the wrongs have been righted, of course, but there is more of knowledge, justice, truth, goodness, temperance, love and righteousness among men these closing days of 1926 than there were a generation, a century, a millennium ago.

A Washington correspondent says that while the "temptation is natural to brand congress as an idle, cantankerous body, due reservation must be made and credit given to men like Madden and Dinneen of Illinois, Fess of Ohio, Tilson of Connecticut, Curtis, Metcalf and Jones of Washington to name only a few important figures who really keep the wheels a-turning." The writer might well have added the name of Hawley, Sinnott and McNary, of Oregon, who are a credit to their state and the nation.

"America is not and must not be a country without ideals. They are useless if they are only visionary; they are only valuable if they are practical. . . . We need ideals that can be followed in daily life that can be translated into terms of the home."—President Coolidge.

DEALING WITH CRIMINALS.

The whole system of dealing with crime is wrong from top to bottom, says Dr. Philip A. Parsons, of the University of Oregon, in a book on "Crime and the Criminal," recently published. He says that in spite of the weight of tradition and the resistance of the legal profession the use of the jury in dealing with criminals is lessening.

The author advocates putting "the entire matter of criminals and their treatment into the hands of specialists," and "permanently segregating those offenders whose physical or mental condition or anti-social attitude cannot be corrected, regardless of the gravity of the offense which brought them into the hands of the law."

Passing Strange.

When a load goes by ship we call it a cargo and when it goes by car we call it a shipment.

A smile exercises 16 facial muscles while a frown exercises 67, it is said. Hence it is less tiresome to smile than frown.

The 1927 auto license plates are now legal. This is your chance to get a few days ahead of Father Time.

The Japanese emperor, Yoshihito, who recently died, was the 123rd in direct succession in the line of Mikados beginning with the warrior Jimmu Tenno, who conquered the native people of the island in 660 B. C. No other existing nation can boast of such a long line of ruling monarchs. A little figuring shows the average reigning period of these 123 rulers was 21 years. The late emperor, however, had a short reign, only 14 years. He was born in 1879 and became emperor in 1912.

Something to Worry About

"To seat or not to seat" Vare of Penn.—Smith of Ill. and Watson of Ind., is a problem which is causing many Senators no little concern just now, even through the issue will not be decided until opening of the next congress in March. History shows its easier to keep them out than kick 'em out.

ONE OF PORTLAND'S FINEST.

The new Ross Island bridge, dedicated last week, is said to be the longest of Portland bridges crossing the Willamette, being 3,706 feet in length. It has no draw, its height giving 123 feet clearance under center span at low water. It has a very long concrete approach on the west side of 1,484 feet. The width over all, including five-foot sidewalks on each side, is 51 feet. The approximate cost with approaches is $2,000,000.

Many driving from this part of the county are trying the new route across the river and find it shorter and very convenient, although the streets leading to the bridge are a little hard to negotiate.

The southern and eastern parts of the county should feel that they have a special interest in the new span. The cadets from the Bealey military academy, near Troutdale, were honored with the position of bridge guard during the dedicating exercises. One of the young cadets was the escort of little Rosina Corbett who christened the bridge with a bottle of Bull Run water.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

Music certainly helps to make Christmas what it is and the more music the better the Christmas festivities.

It may be an impression growing out of an increased appreciation but it seems to us the community has been treated to the finest Christmas music ever heard here.

The various Christmas programs have been featured by fine singing, music having a larger place than usual. Several church choirs have given excellent concerts. The carolers were heard on Christmas eve with great delight by scores of families including many shut-ins.

Christmas singing is a natural expression of the season's joy and helps to deepen the true and joyous appreciation of the meaning of the occasion.

Our poets and song writers have understood this important significance of Christmas music. What a wealth of sentiment they have produced in verse and song.

When Bernard Shaw says "Christmas is a nuisance," he shows what a bear he is and how out of touch with that which exalts and rejoices and blesses.

"I have always thought of Christmas time," said Charles Dickens, "as a good time, a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely,—and I say, God bless it!"

Another has said: "Christmas without music!—what a dull and colorless thing it would be! In some mysterious way music seems to be at the very heart of the spell which the Christmas season casts around us all."

Radio Messages

"TUNE IN."

Farmers Benefitted by Radio. For farmers the radio has ceased to be a novelty and has become a utility.

Today the world's largest user of the radio for informational purposes is the United States department of agriculture. Daily it broadcasts from a hundred stations its educational programs lasting a half hour or more. In addition it broadcasts daily market service and weather reports.

According to Secretary Jardine, a potential million farmers are reached daily by the department's educational programs. In a few years he says it will be possible to reach other millions.

It is believed by those directing this line of information that the regular and careful guidance thus broadcast will help greatly to put agriculture in a strong and secure position. A lack of unity in thought and action has worked to retard agriculture.

The welding process is going on today. The possibilities for constructive organization and united action were never so good in the history of agriculture.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

COLDS.

Colds are not "simple ailments." Here are some things to be remembered:

- (1) All colds are infectious-contagious.
(2) The careless "sneezer" must be shunned carefully.
(3) Colds are the result of germ invasion.
(4) They are invariably carried from person to person.
(5) They are not caused by exposure to cold, or by changes in the weather.

The latter statement may be doubted; but the fact remains that, prolonged exposure to cold and wet, weakens the resistance of the body, and permits the germs to multiply rapidly; we may carry germs for years, that never develop sufficiently to make us sick, because our resistance is capable of holding them in check. Then comes prolonged effort, or exposure, and the enemy asserts itself.

Colds are unlikely, if the body is in first-class condition. Good, wholesome, nutritious food is a preventive, if properly taken. Ample, comfortable clothing, plenty of rest and sleep and a tranquil state of mind, will keep colds in the background.

If you have a cold, correct the bowels and kidneys, and stay indoors all well; you have no right to appear at gatherings, snort, sneeze and cough—to infect others. To sneeze in the general direction of everybody is a crime committed only by the very ignorant. Hot lemonades, teas and foot-baths are old remedies, but very useful. Surface circulation must be maintained, and the cold skin brought back to normal.
