

Gresham Locals

The Areme club will give its mid-winter dance at the Masonic hall Friday, January 14. The committee promises to show its patrons an unusually good time. There will be feature dances to add to the variety and the hall will have special decorations. Gigray's orchestra will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Woodard and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Paris and daughter of Portland called on Gresham friends Sunday afternoon. The Paris family lived here for many years and Mrs. Woodard was a former teacher in the high school.

The Women's Auxiliary to the American Legion will meet at the home of Mrs. K. C. Roberts Tuesday afternoon, January 11, at which time sewing will be continued for the veterans' hospital. Ladies outside of the auxiliary are invited to participate in the sewing bee.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen, who recently disposed of their vulcanizing shop in Montavilla, have purchased a large garage on 92d street and Foster road. There is a storage capacity for 26 cars and Mr. Hansen will do auto and tire repairing. A line of gas, oils and accessories will be carried.

O. I. Neal left last Wednesday for a trip to California, going by water. His boat, the Admiral Farragut, was obliged to weather two severe storms between Portland and San Francisco which somewhat damaged it, but they finally got through 30 hours behind time.

M. D. Kern, who left for Vancouver, Washington, a short time ago with the intention of residing with his son and family permanently, has returned to Gresham to live. He has taken rooms at the Hornish apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harris, the latter the sister of Mrs. Ralph Deaville, with their daughter Luanne, were New Year guests at the Deaville home. Mr. Harris returned that evening to their home in Pocatello, Idaho, but Mrs. Harris and daughter will remain for a month's visit with relatives in Gresham, Portland and Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chiodo have returned from a two-weeks' trip as far south as Dunsmuir, California, where they visited Mrs. Chiodo's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Kleaver.

Elvis Stockton, who came from Bend to visit with his brothers and their families during the holidays, returned to his home Monday.

George Duncan and family are enjoying a new Atwater Kent radio receiving set which they presented themselves with as a Christmas gift.

A good number of Gresham people attended the rendition of the "Messiah" given by the Portland Oratorio society at the municipal auditorium in Portland last Sunday afternoon, in which four Gresham singers took part. Guy D. Jones sang the tenor arias of "Comfort Ye" and "Every Valley" and his solo work was admirable. The other soloists on the program, all Portland singers, were also much enjoyed. Miss Gertrude Alexander, Miss Katherine Bratzel and Leslie Walrad occupied places in the chorus as soprano, contralto and basso respectively. It was thought that Joseph A. Finley, conductor of the chorus, would be able to bring the oratorio to Gresham soon, but these plans are still indefinite.

Miss Joyce Kidder returned to her studies at Willamette University Monday after remaining at home since the Thanksgiving vacation on account of illness. She was accompanied to Salem by her parents and Miss Mina Gilbert. Miss Kidder makes her home at Lausanne hall.

At the annual meeting of the Oregon High School Athletic association held in Portland last Friday at the Lincoln high school Roy E. Cannon, principal of Gresham Union high, was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization to succeed J. O. McLoughlin of Corvallis. Eighty high schools of the state were represented at the gathering. The position which has been tendered Mr. Cannon, while not lucrative, is one entailing considerable responsibility. Upon him will rest the arrangement of state athletic tournaments and the selection of officials for the same.

At the election of officers of the Rebekah Welfare club held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. McManus, Mrs. Gus Donley was elected president. Mrs. Geo. Lane vice president and Mrs. F. A. Lundquist secretary and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richter of St. Johns have come to Gresham to reside. They have exchanged their residence property in Portland for the six-acre place on Cleveland avenue which J. William Smith disposed of to W. B. Peacock about a year ago. Mr. Richter was a foreman in a large flouring mill in St. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kinyon motored to Goldendale, Washington, for the New Year week-end, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. S. S. Thompson on Thursday afternoon, January 13, at 2:30. The day of prayer, also victory day, will be observed with Mrs. B. W. Emery as leader. A number from Gresham are planning to attend the victory luncheon which will be held on January 16 at the Benson hotel in recognition of the seventh anniversary of national prohibition. This promises to be a very pleasant and profitable event, as speakers of prominence will take part in the program. Those wishing to make reservations for the luncheon, are asked to notify Mrs. H. S. Clow.

The Ladies Guild of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. H. S. Clow on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. W. A. Winters received the sad intelligence Wednesday of the death of her mother, Mrs. Rachel Eamen at Morrisburg, Ontario Canada. Mrs. Eamen, who was 69 years of age, died as the result of organic heart trouble, from which she had been a sufferer for a considerable length of time. Mrs. Winters spent nearly two months with her mother last fall and assisted in her care.

At the annual election of officers for the Gresham Fire department held on Monday evening the following were elected for the coming year: M. J. Allhouse, fire chief; Theodore Van Doninck, assistant; Roy Gibbs, secretary and treasurer;

G. A. Cox, fire marshal; William Beers, assistant fire marshal; A. G. McMurtry, captain.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Springstad and three children have moved in from the Powell Valley district and have leased the 8-acre berry ranch of Frank Kinyon on Cleveland Ave.

As an added attraction to the second concert of the series to be given by the Gresham band Wednesday, Jan. 12, the double quartet of the Portland Electric Power company has been secured and will sing. These singers will be favorably remembered as they were in Gresham on a former occasion and won many friends in their audience by their friendliness as well as excellent numbers.

I. A. Baker has been ailing for the past month or longer and his trouble has been diagnosed as serious by a local physician. Just at present, however, he is feeling better.

The Areme club will meet at the home of Mrs. Louise Stapleton Monday afternoon, Jan. 10. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Benj. Cameron, Mrs. S. B. Hall and Mrs. A. M. McManus.

SEARCH ABANDONED FOR LESLIE BROWNLEE

Hope has now been abandoned in the search for Leslie Brownlee 20, lost New Year's day in an effort to climb Mt. Hood in the face of a raging snowstorm. Organized effort in the search is practically at a standstill after at least five days of as strenuous work as hardy mountaineers are often subjected to in a lifetime. Sixty searchers returned wearily to camp at Battle Axe inn last evening with the report that no trace or clue could be found although the mountain fastnesses had been combed in every direction.

Calvin, 16-year-old lad who was found late Monday evening after battling with the elements of the mountain for two nights, is now reported to be recuperating favorably and his recovery is assured.

The two boys belonged to separate parties.

PLEASANT VIEW AVENUE

I. W. Butler, who has been ill for some time, is now on the way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Halstead gave a Christmas dinner at which a number of their relatives were present. The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Paul Bliss on Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Selfer have returned from Mt. Angel where they spent the holidays visiting relatives and friends.

Elbert Butler is spending a few days at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Butler.

A Christmas dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hall at which were present a sister, Mrs. K. Bjorndal, her daughter Lillian and son Richard, and Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dahm.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Preston and daughters Lucile and Myrta, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson and son Eldon, all of Bonneville, were New Year's day visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edleman.

Mr. Fitch of Portland visited on Christmas and New Year's with his friend J. D. Johnston. Mr. and Mrs. Wright and children, Lucile, Alice and Buster of Gresham, were recent dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. William Laug, of Portland visited at the Halstead home Monday evening.
