APPLY THE GOLDEN RULE.

In many local homes are little yellow strips, just one foot long—a golden rule—with places for twelve dimes. These are to be saved and donated to the Near East Relief—a worthy cause. The Golden Rule foot rule, filled with dimes, will measure off "miles of smiles."

This we are informed is an activity of the Tri-Y club of the Union High school. The young people should have plenty of encouragement in this activity.

If the Near East children were located in South America where the seasons alternate with our's there might be a contrast that would help us visualize the condition and suffering of those in a winter climate. Perhaps, however, we would be so warm and well fed we could not imagine others to be suffering. As it is the region of the Near East where the orphanage children are in winter about like Oregon in temperature. We are so well clad and fed we are free from suffering and hardly realize how those less favored can suffer even in our winter temperature.

But—imagine your children going half naked and poorly fed these chilly days. It may be our first duty to take care of "our own" but these others are in a Christian sense "our own" in so far as we have enough and to spare and they need our help.

It may be assured that the money contributed is used economically for the good of the needy children.

SO, IT'S WAFFLES.

That peppy little leaflet, Watt's Watt, edited by our friend "Bill" Strandberg for the P.E.P. company, has quite a refreshing discussion of waffles. Any reference to waffles seems to be in order this month as this is said to be waffle month, and they are being featured locally.

The point "Bill" raises is why should this shortest month of the year be chosen as waffle month when this delectable "flapjack with a college education" deserves a long month or several months or even a whole year. He goes even farther. "Bill" would make waffles one of the attractions of heaven. He says:

"In a word, great injustice is being done a great American institution when but a single month of 28 stinky days is allotted to the waffle." As time is spaced, we should say that a couple of million years would be a fair period within which to do fitting honors to this subject, and if it were done three times a day, with a fourth generous encore just before bedtime, we might feel that ample justice were being done."

Campaigns of publicity against carelessness have their beneficial effect whether pertaining to fire, auto or other hazard. The American people are proverbially careless and need to be warned. Due regard to "Safety First" will save not only lives, which is most important, but also property, time, money and annoyance. The Southern Pacific gives out the information that out of millions of individual shipments made on its Pacific lines during 1926 only 156 were reported as lacking proper identification marks and of this number 86 shipments through shortages claimed were properly delivered at destination. This record is the lowest noted and followed a campaign against carelessness.

The Jantzen Knitting company is enlarging its plant in Portland. It has an annual output of over two million dollars.

CRITICIZES BOND ELECTION.

The Outlook is in receipt of a letter from a resident of this locality who voted at the recent school bond election who commends the Outlook on the fairness of its stand, but he severely scores the method of conducting the election. He says:

"I voted that day, and I must say, the method of handling the voters certainly corresponded with a bargain sale rush. "After one received their ballot, if unfortunate enough not to have tough hands or an envelope handy, their next best bit was the window sill, wall or floor, to mark their ballot on. Furthermore, you marked it with all eyes focused your way, then, after handing to the keeper of the ballot box, he went through the performance of poking you ballot with a lead pencil, endeavoring to get it into an already filled box."

"However, I will say, the gentlemen who had charge of the box, requested another one, but who his remarks were directed to, it was hard to tell, as no additional box was forthcoming in my 45 minutes of waiting."

"As you say, the election is over, though the opposition was none too fair, however, no one likes to lose, at the same time being on the losing side with clean hands is a good accomplishment."

SOMEONE WANTS TO KNOW.

The Outlook is in receipt of a letter which raises a question we cannot answer but which is hereby referred to those who may know. We hope the school authorities will explain the matter for her benefit and others. The gist of the letter is this:

"While discussions seem to be in order relative to the so-called efficiency in our high school regime, please permit me to ask a question as I am one of the taxpayers. Why is a young lady, living about three miles from school, say a ten-minute drive, kept on the bus one and a half hours? If that is efficiency then I am from Missouri, too. I call it criminal inefficiency. This young lady's father is a heavy taxpayer, and we who have paid taxes to build and maintain this school feel that our pupils are at least entitled to humanitarian treatment."

The name of the young lady or her taxpaying father is not given although the Outlook knows the name of the writer.

The strawberry root weevil is now controlled in Oregon by a new poison bait says the entomologist of the experiment station. This bait is made up by mixing 95 pounds of dried apple with five pounds of calcium arsenate. This bait is not applied until berry harvesting, but the growers are already ordering the materials for the bait, so they will be ready to put it on at the proper time.

Sepalla and Togo

Leonard Sepalla and his lead dog "Togo" of Nome fame again proved their class by winning with ease the Poland Springs, Maine, annual sled classic last week.

At the Legislature

An old stamp tax, never enforced, has just been repealed, just as some bright minds are considering a new act to raise more revenues for state expenses.

Permission for cities to levy $3,500 annually for publicity, at petition of 20 per cent legal voters and authorization at special or regular election, is asked for by Norblad in S. B. 123. Funds for county publicity provided for by Gordon and Bailey in H. B. 278. Special tax not to exceed 4-10 mill on assessed valuation property, with power of county court to raise amount to $5,000 from general fund.

Rep. Briggs has a bill creating $13,000 appropriation for high school supervisor to be appointed by state superintendent of public instruction.

February 12 and October 12 proposed as legal holiday by judiciary committee in S. B. 130.

H. B. 325, by Settlemier, permits parents of children of school age residing within the district to vote without property qualifications in school elections raising revenues.

NEW TAXES.

Governor Patterson has tried to work out the tax problem we believe with sincerity and fairness and has made his recommendation to the legislature. It includes an income tax, in spite of the fact that the people have twice defeated such a measure. It may be that a measure can be presented that will commend this as a fair and necessary method of raising taxes. Apparently the former measures have been too complicated, cumbersome and expensive to administer to meet public favor. The necessity for some such means of state income seems to be more and more apparent. It is doubtful if an income tax law that might be adjudged reasonable would interfere materially with industries coming into the state.

Crisp, golden brown hot waffles—made right at the table in the twinkling of an eye. Not long ago you'd have believed that impossible. The thought of hot waffles was associated with a ponderous iron affair, heavy to handle—slow to act—one that smoked most inconsiderately when it wasn't greased just right. Now, you can make these delectable golden waffles at your table, electrically, without using a bit of grease or having any smoke.

During February we offer MANNING-BOWMAN $12.50 Waffle Irons of shining nickel —for $8.80 You pay only 80c down and $2 each month —and without extra charge
