

Brockway & Nelson Begin New Building

The ground was broken yesterday for the foundation of the new $10,000 Brockway & Nelson building to be erected on east Powell street, which will house the Gresham branch of the Dodge Brothers sales and service at this place. Several months ago a tract of ground 76x138 feet was purchased from Mrs. Annie Hevel on which the new building is to be located.

Claude Stockton, the well known Gresham contractor, is in charge of the construction work for the new structure, the main building of which will be 50x100 feet. It will be one story in height and of concrete and hollow tile throughout. The floors will be composed of concrete and the flat roof of tar and gravel. A 26-foot arch will extend over the driveway on the west of the front, forming an ornamental entrance. Denny-Rentno tile will be used for the cornice across the front and the exterior will be finished in stucco.

In addition to the exclusive sales and service department of the Dodge Brothers machine, Brockway & Nelson will have a completely equipped garage for the servicing of all makes of cars. A separate building, 16x24 feet in size, at the rear of the main building, will house complete wash rack, office. A show room, parts room, equipment, and inviting rest rooms will complete the interior of the building. The entire front is to be of plate glass. Weather conditions permitting, it is thought the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of April.

J. E. (Ed) Nelson and P. E. Brockway are Portland men who have selected Gresham as the promising site of their center of activities in the distribution of the Dodge auto, one of the popular cars of the day. Mr. Nelson will move to Gresham upon completion of the building to take complete charge of the shop. He has had many years' experience in this line and it is no exaggeration to say he is one of the best known Dodge experts in the northwest. Mr. Brockway will have charge of the sales end of the enterprise. Their territory extends from the 82d street in Portland to the eastern boundary of Multnomah county.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO GEO. W. LUSTED

A large number of sympathetic friends and neighbors gathered at the Baptist church at Pleasant Home Tuesday afternoon to pay their last tribute of respect to a friend and pioneer, George W. Lusted, who died Sunday at the age of 70 years as the result of a paralytic stroke. Dr. John W. Beard, pastor of the Mt. Tabor Presbyterian church, spoke words of comfort, and Guy D. Jones sang, accompanied at the piano by Miss Muriel Bradley of Portland. A wonderful array of beautiful floral offerings attested the esteem in which the deceased was held. Concluding services were held at Lincoln Memorial park.

The pallbearers for the occasion were James Goger, Hans Koch, William Craswell, N. W. Jackson, Hans Nelson and Guy H. Robertson.

Mr. Lusted is survived by his widow Mrs. Ara Lusted; two sons Arthur T. of Portland and Walter R. of Youngston, Ohio, and a daughter Mrs. B. J. Goff of Myrtle Creek, Oregon.

Mr. Lusted was born in Cape Vincent, New York, and came to Oregon in 1875. He had resided in the locality of Pleasant Home since that time and had built up a home of more than ordinary pleasant surroundings on the farm where he spent the greater part of his life. He enjoyed a wide circle of friends who admired his integrity as a man and who esteemed him as a worthy neighbor.

Gresham Temple Services.

Sunday school will be held at the Undenominational temple Sunday at 10 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. S. F. Pitts will preach at 2 in the afternoon. The Sunday afternoon spiritual uplift is evident. The singing at these meetings is ever a source of enjoyment and blessing to all and special music is an added attraction. The evening service will begin at 7:30. Prayer meeting is held on Tuesday evening at 7:30 and the young people's service on Friday evenings. Everyone is welcome.

Haley Baptist Services.

At 11 o'clock Sunday morning the Rev. John S. Nordell, pastor of the Haley Baptist church, will speak at 11 o'clock, while in the evening at 7:30 group 2 of the young people will have charge of the service. Sunday school will begin at 10 o'clock.

The services last Sunday were well attended. In the evening the Billy Sunday gospel team conducted a splendid and profitable service. The Sunday school under the able leadership of the superintendent, Mrs. H. Lindgren, is gaining in number and efficiency.

Card of Thanks.

We are deeply grateful to our friends for their kindness and sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings in the hour of our great sorrow.

Mrs. Ara Lusted, A. T. Lusted, Mrs. B. J. Goff, W. R. Lusted.

Woman Buys Part of Gresham Butte Farm

An important real estate transfer within the past few days is that of approximately 53 acres of R. F. Walters' Gresham Heights farm to Miss Maude M. Aldrich of Winona Lake, Indiana. The part sold to Miss Aldrich includes all of the Walters farm north of the county road and a part of that on the south side of the road, including the old house and a large barn.

The farm will be occupied by the brother of the new owner, Willis Aldrich of Sandstone, Minnesota, who is expected here with his wife and three older children as soon as traveling by auto is possible. Four younger children are coming by train with the mother of Mrs. Aldrich, who will make her home here with the family.

Miss Aldrich will be remembered as the principal speaker at the state convention of the W. C. T. U. in Gresham last October. She was charmed with this location, and particularly with Gresham Heights farm, which she visited then and several times since, and concluded that this was just the place for her permanent home.

Miss Aldrich is director of one of the bureaus of the national Board of Education of the Presbyterian church. She is also in demand at many of the larger gatherings of the W. C. T. U.

POWELL VALLEY

Word has been received from the Wilner family at Hoquiam, Washington, that Miss Eleanor Wilner, who has been in the hospital with a severe attack of pneumonia, has now been obliged to undergo an operation for the removal of pus from the lungs. It was necessary to remove a portion of the ribs.

A new order of services will be inaugurated at the Sagon Lutheran church next Sunday. Formerly only two-thirds of the services have been held in the English language, but beginning Sunday there will be two services in English each Sunday. In addition to this there will also be Swedish services twice a month. The schedule for next Sunday is, Bible school 9:45 to 10:30; young people's service in English 10:30 to 11:15; worship in Swedish at 11:45. At 8 o'clock in the evening there will be an illustrated Bible lecture on the anti-diluvian world and the flood. The Bible lecture will try to answer the questions, "Why the flood? Was the flood universal? Can we believe in a flood? What kind of civilization existed before the flood?"

Zion Evangelical Services.

The Sunday school of the Zion Evangelical church will meet at 10 a. m., followed by the preaching service at 11. The pastor, the Rev. E. Horstmann, will speak from the topic, "Which Way? God's Way, or the World's Way?" "Every Christian should know which way he is going. There are many ways in this world you may travel, but there is only one way that leads to life." All are invited to the services Sunday where help will be given to find the right way. The senior league will meet at 7:30 Sunday evening.

SUDDEN DEATH TAKES HENRY WALDO COE

Death came to one of the best known personages of Portland and the Pacific northwest last Tuesday, when Dr. Henry Waldo Coe succumbed to a sudden attack of heart trouble in a sanitarium at Glendale in southern California. Dr. Coe was a prominent physician and a specialist in mental diseases. He was the founder of Morningside hospital in Portland, where patients are sent for treatment. He was a man of wealth and had traveled widely, being particularly interested in works of art.

Dr. Coe was the donor of four beautiful statues to the city of Portland, two of which, Joan of Arc and Theodore Roosevelt are already in place. One, George Washington, arrived by steamer from Philadelphia Thursday and was to have been met by Dr. Coe and city commissioners to arrange for the placing. A statue of Lincoln remains to come.

Much sympathy is being expressed by Gresham friends for the aged mother of Dr. Coe, Mrs. Mary J. Coe, 92, and for his brother, Chas. Coe and family of Gresham. Another brother, Jay H. Coe, of Klamath Falls, is known here also.

PLEASANT HOME

The comedy-drama, "Sunshine," which is being played by the young people of Pleasant Home will be given at Sandy Union high school tonight, February 18.

A good representation of Multnomah grange attended the quarterly meeting of Wednesday county Pomona grange on Wednesday at Russellville grange. An unusually interesting day was spent and the attendance was much above the average. Among those attending from Orient and vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Max Kligel, Joe Albel, Mrs. Mary G. Fritz and Mrs. Louise Nelson.

Services at Pleasant Home Baptist church will begin on Sunday morning with Sunday school at 10 o'clock. There will be preaching at 11 and 8 o'clock. The Happy Hour class meets at 3 p. m. and B. Y. P. U. at 7:30. The mid-week prayer service is held on Thursday evening at 7:30. All who have no regular church home are invited to meet with this congregation.

The victims of Sunday's wreck are well on their way to recovery. Jessie Nasshahn and Louise Miller were able to limp about the high school on Monday.

Mrs. P. M. Miller, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis during the holiday season, is able to be out again, and her friends are glad to see her happy smiling face among them.

D. D. Jack was quite ill the first of the week, but is reported somewhat improved at this time.

Sunday school will convene at the Pleasant Home Methodist church next Sunday at 10 o'clock, followed by the preaching service at 11:15 from the subject, "Life's Responsibility." The Junior church will be held at the same hour under the leadership of Mrs. Alta Stafford. 7:30.

Martha, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert King, is recovering from the attack of diphtheria and her complete recovery is expected.

Dr. Mary Becker has had a telephone installed in her residence. Her number is 329x2.

Obituary Given of Miss E. Shoemaker

Impressive and beautiful services were held last Saturday afternoon in Hinson Memorial church, Portland, for the late Edna Grace Shoemaker, whose death occurred in Portland on February 10 at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Gunther. The services were presided over by Dr. O. C. Wright, secretary of the state Baptist convention, who spoke briefly of her work. Prayer was offered by the Rev. E. G. Judd of the Gresham Baptist church, where Miss Shoemaker held her membership for the past 15 years. Dr. T. J. Villers of the White Temple read the scriptures and Dr. W. C. Driver, pastor of Grant Park Baptist church, led the congregation in singing "Asleep in Jesus." Two songs were sung by a chorus from Mrs. Hinson's class of girls. Mrs. H. C. Compton of Seattle, representing the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission board, paid a tribute to the splendid work of Miss Shoemaker at the Girls' school in Huchow, China, and of her heroism during the war period, when the school became a camp for nursing the sick and wounded Chinese soldiers.

Miss Shoemaker was one of Christ's "overseas soldiers," said Dr. Wright, who had enlisted for life and who died at her post, triumphant in the faith. She numbered her friends by the thousands. She was born in Dayton, Washington, where she was graduated from the grade and high schools. She studied in the normal at Ellensburg and taught in the Dayton school. Answering the call to foreign missionary service she made the best preparation possible. She attended the Chicago Baptist Training school and the University of California. While in California she worked in Chinese missions in San Francisco for three years. She studied for two years at Reed college and one year at Teachers' college, Columbia University. She sailed for China in August, 1915, and after studying further at the language school at Nanking she became the director of an extensive system of schools for girls at Huchow. Her success was outstanding and her death will be keenly felt, not only by her family and friends here but by large numbers in China who have come under her influence. She was one of the missionaries of Hinson Memorial church.

The immediate relatives of Miss Shoemaker who survive her are her mother, Mrs. Mary Shoemaker and her sister May of Gresham, a brother, Roy, and two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Gunther and Mrs. H. A. Samuel of Portland.

Card of Thanks.

For all the kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement and for the many floral offerings, we wish to express our sincere gratitude.

Mrs. Mary S. Shoemaker, Mrs. W. C. Gunther, Mrs. H. A. Samuel, May Shoemaker, D. R. Shoemaker.

TIME IS SEASONABLE FOR FRUIT PLANTINGS

This is the desirable time for the planting of certain plants, while others should be delayed a few weeks, according to D. E. Towle, manager of the Berry Growers Packing company. Interesting suggestions are given as to the plants most likely to yield profitable returns to the growers in the near future in the following letter to berry grower members and others:

This is a desirable season of the year for the planting of Cuthbert red raspberries, vetch, gray oats and onion seed if the soil is in good working condition.

Strawberries should be planted later to save a few hoarings and to prevent fruiting the first year as the fruit grown tends to stunt the growth of the plants and reduces the yield next year.

Loganberry and blackberry tips should be planted about April 1st, as the tip plants are more mature and will make a better, stronger plant. Berry growing costs are expressed principally in labor so there is no economy in planting poor plants.

Most authorities agree that the best spacing for red raspberry plants is three and one-half feet apart in the row and the rows seven and one-half to eight feet apart; for strawberries three and one-half by three and one-half feet checked in on the square so as to admit of power cultivating both ways; for logan and blackberries from eight to nine feet apart both ways.

In trying to guess the future as to what kind of berries to plant in this territory to come into bearing in the next two or three years we would advise going slow on strawberry planting as there is liable to be a period of over production and a slump in values. We think the Cuthbert red raspberry acreage can be increased at least 10 per cent or a planting of from 100 to 200 acres can be safely made.

Loganberry futures look good at about current values and this territory could stand a planting of from 50 to 100 acres and we are advised by commercial canners that a planting of Evergreen blackberries properly cared for on lands that have an abundance of moisture would give fair returns, as the wild blackberry is not a satisfactory canning product and that the cultivated Evergreen would command a premium for their market and in as much as we have a very small acreage it would probably be well to consider a planting of this variety on suitable lands.

In tree fruits the Bartlett pear and Royal Anne cherry planting offer the most encouragement. Bartlett pear planting should not be undertaken unless a planting is made of sufficient size to embrace an acreage of from five to ten acres and to make it worth while to give proper care in cultivation, pruning and spraying to make a success of the venture. Local pears have an advantage over eastern Oregon and Washington pears for Portland canning of $6 per ton in freight difference.

The future of the Royal Anne cherry seems bright and as this fruit does not need much cultivation, if any, after four or five years, it is suggested that a planting of this fruit tree as a roadside shade tree and taxpayer would be a good idea. The trees should be planted not less than 50 feet apart and as this tree needs little pruning or spraying except for the cherry fly would require little care and would be a source of revenue. Why not line the roadsides with Royal Anne cherry trees. The future of the black cherry seems black and it would probably be well to consider top grafting them over to Royal Annes.

Free Methodist Services.

The attendance is increasing at the revival services being held at the Free Methodist church by the Rev. Ralph J. Milton of Walla Walla, Washington. The meetings will continue all of next week. Special singing is a feature of every service.

"The Day of Visitation" will be the topic of the sermon this evening, and tomorrow night the evangelist will speak on "The Branch of Sin." On Sunday morning the theme of the sermon will be, "The Power of Penance," and in the evening at 8 o'clock he will use the subject of "Gold."

Proceeding the Sunday morning service there will be a half hour's love feast. Sunday school will convene at the usual hour of 10. A young people's chorus will sing Sunday evening. Every evening service will begin at 7:30. All are cordially invited to these meetings regardless of church affiliations.

Tax Payers Attention.

All tax payers wishing to join the local Tax Payers' League should do so at once as the election of the executive committee will soon be in order. Please call at the canopy to sign up.

Signed, D. E. TOWLE.

Diphtheria Brings Health Nurse Here

Miss Mary P. Billmeyer, county public health nurse, was in Gresham Wednesday, checking up on the diphtheria situation. Since there have been four cases of the disease among school children during the school year, coming at different times, the inference is that one or more diphtheria carriers are in the school. Steps will be taken at once to prevent an epidemic if possible. The first thing will be to take throat cultures from all pupils and teachers of the school. The source will indicate where the source of the trouble is, if it is in the school, and such carriers will be placed in quarantine until the condition is cleared up.

Dr. H. H. Hughes, local health officer, has wired to San Francisco for 400 culture tubes for the throat cultures which he will take next Monday, assisted by Miss Billmeyer and Mrs. Ellen Post, assistant county public health nurse. The members of the school board expressed their desire to back the preventive work, and stated that the board would bear the expense of the culture tubes, which will be about $45. Principal Quicksall is anxious that everything possible be done for the safety of the children of the school, and will cooperate in every way possible.

Following this preliminary work immediate steps will be taken to administer the toxin-antitoxin as a preventive measure. All local physicians will be asked to cooperate in this. Miss Billmeyer will bring permit slips when she comes next Monday, to be taken by the children to their parents for their consent to give the treatment, which will render them immune from the disease.

This immunity, however, is not brought about immediately in the system, but a matter of from four to six months time is required to build up a condition of safety. This toxin-antitoxin is administered by hypodermic injections in three shots, a week apart, great care being taken by doctors and nurses that conditions are entirely sanitary. A sterile needle is used for each child. It is explained that this injection would not cure diphtheria when it has already developed. In that case antitoxin is administered to combat the disease and save life, but the after effects of this procedure are often disastrous.

It would never be necessary to administer antitoxin, said Miss Billmeyer, if all would take the precaution of becoming immunized by the toxin-antitoxin. The effects of this treatment are believed to be permanent. At least it has held through the 14 years during which it has been used and watched.

When the pupils of the school are given the toxin-antitoxin treatment, an effort will be made to give it at the same time to all pre-school children above six months of age, as they are particularly susceptible to the disease and mortality among children of that age is high. The susceptibility lessens among older children, though it is still present to a considerable degree among children of high school age.

The old way was to wait until
