

Cultures Discover Disease Carriers

Four diphtheria carriers were discovered in the three lower grades of the Gresham school as a result of the throat cultures taken last week from the pupils. All cases have been placed under quarantine by the health authorities. The children affected are Kelley Calkins and Robert Frace in Gresham, Takao Takahashi, and Menow Hara, Japanese, the former living near Brunner station and the latter on the Powell farm near Gresham.

One case of diphtheria has developed, that of Raymond Chase, a young man of 24 employed in a garage at Orient. There have been nine cases and one death among the children of Powellhurst school and there are also cases in the Millwaukie and St. Johns schools. In all these schools, as well as in the Gresham schools, every possible effort is being put forth to prevent the spread of the disease.

A meeting will be held at the Gresham grade school on Wednesday evening, March 2, for parents and others interested, when an explanation will be made of the methods used for the prevention of diphtheria, and questions on the subject will be answered. Through an error this meeting was announced for last Wednesday evening. Another meeting of public interest will be held at the high school on Tuesday morning, March 1, when Dr. Wm. Levin of the state board of health will explain the Schick test, which will be given to all pupils and others who wish it at a later date. Slips will be sent to the parents asking their consent to have the children so tested.

Both Principal Cannon of the high school and Principal Quicksall of the grade school emphasize the fact that no treatment will be given any child without the consent of the parent or guardian and that

SCENIC CANNERY TO ENLARGE BUILDING

According to the plans of A. J. Hemmingson, manager of the Scenic cannery, the building will be enlarged to double its present size during the coming season. The concrete piers are already in, awaiting the development of further building operations. A 200-foot well has just been completed by Portland drillers which insures a ready and plentiful supply of flowing water for the plant. A 50-foot water tower with a 10,000-gallon storage tank will be installed as an additional feature of the extensive improvements undertaken by the management.

The Scenic cannery is located in the midst of a rich small fruit section, and since its beginning two years ago has enjoyed a steady increase of patronage. Around 200 acres of fruit are tributary to the cannery station and during the past year approximately 10,000 cases of fruit of all kinds were handled. In addition to the equipment for canning raspberries, strawberries, logans, pears, prunes and cherries, the canning of vegetables is to be undertaken. Corn is regarded as a staple commodity among the many vegetables that can be handled to advantage here.

Mrs. Emmet Riehl and her sister, Mrs. Floyd Metzger and children of Portland, are spending a week or more with their parents at Aberdeen, Washington. Riehl and Metzger are planning to go to Aberdeen tomorrow and accompany their wives home the following day.

None can be compelled to take it, but that it is a privilege which is being offered them practically free. Those who take the Schick test will pay 10 cents each, while the three injections of toxin-antitoxin will be given for a total cost of 25 cents to each person treated.

One Gresham pre-school child has recently been taken to Portland for the toxin-antitoxin treatment at a total cost of $15.

Portland Symphony Announces Program

A program made up entirely of modern music will be presented by the Portland Symphony orchestra, Willem van Hoogstraten, conductor, at the concert to be given at the public auditorium next Monday night. This announcement does not herald the performance of compositions new to this locality as strongly as it emphasizes the extreme length of what is known as the "modern" era of musical composition. The concert will open with the "Carnival Romain" overture by Hector Berlioz. This work is over 80 years old, yet its general spirit and mood as compared with the works of Berlioz's contemporaries and predecessors, brand it at once as "modern." This composer really revolutionized the art of orchestration. He introduced instrumental combinations and harmonies that were undreamed of by the composers before his time. He is the author of the most complete and comprehensive book on orchestration. The "Carnival Romain" overture is one of his earlier compositions and is replete with original invention.

The overture is to be followed by the symphonic prelude of Claude Achille Debussy, "The Afternoon of a Faun," the only number on the program that bears any hint of the new expressionism in music. This work has been performed a number of times in Portland and with each hearing it has grown in popularity. It is based upon the poem of the same name, written by Stephan Mallarme. The prelude is restrained and muted throughout, the harmonies are odd, but the flavor of the work is highly pleasing. Mr. van Hoogstraten conducted the composition at his first concert last season.

The first of the real novelties on the program will be the famous symphonic caprice on Spanish themes, "Capriccio Espagnole" of Rimsky-Korsakov. This is one of the most abundantly melodious works the Portland Symphony orchestra has presented during the present season. It is exotic and elaborately orchestrated. In one of its five movements there are solo cadenzas for several of the instruments.

The second real novelty will occupy the second half of the program. It is the great D minor symphony of Caesar Franck, possibly the finest piece of absolute music written within the last 40 years. This majestic work and the "Capriccio Espagnole" have just been added to the repertoire of the Portland orchestra.

SMALL CASES DECIDED IN JUSTICE COURT

Decision has been made recently in two trivial cases which have attracted local attention during the past month. On Wednesday afternoon at a hearing in Justice of the Peace Eastman's court in the city hall Jack Hamlin was acquitted of the charge of assault and battery preferred against him by Mrs. Fred Ferguson, who resides in the Clatskanie addition north of the fair grounds. A jury of six men concluded there was not sufficient evidence to sustain a verdict of guilty and voted unanimously for acquittal.

Mrs. Ferguson, the plaintiff, made the contention the defendant struck her and called her vile names on the 8th day of this month, but the witnesses called in his behalf testified that, while they heard the altercation, they did not see any blows struck and accordingly rendered the decision in favor of Hamlin.

In the case of Quinton Kummel, who brought suit against Mrs. E. H. Walker for payment of a check for $10 which the latter had given a traveling agent for merchandise, Justice Eastman decided in favor of the plaintiff, Kummel, and ordered defendant to pay the sum involved. Mr. Kummel had cashed the check for the salesman immediately after it was given to him by Mrs. Walker, but Mrs. Walker had ordered payment of the check stopped at the bank, as the merchandise did not come up to her expectations. W. J. Cooper represented Mr. Kummel's interests in the case.

Free Methodist Services.

Since the clearing of the weather the attendance at the revival services at the Free Methodist church has increased materially. This evening Evangelist Milton's theme will be, "The Refuge of Lies;" on Saturday night, "The Conclusion of the Whole Matter;" Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, "Exceeding Great and Precious Promises." The Sunday night's subject, which is the concluding theme for the protracted effort, will be announced from the pulpit later.

The church is being quickened by the ministry of the evangelist. His clear, logical exposition of Bible themes on personal experience has awakened new hope in the church. On Monday morning he will leave for his home in Walla Walla. In Seattle he will attend a convention which is being held in the interests of Christian education. Next Friday he will open a three-weeks' evangelistic campaign in his home town for the Rev. Myrtle Palmer, pastor of the Walla Walla Free Methodist church.

Gresham High School Continues to Win

(By Benj. H. Davies)
Tonight Gresham high hoopers meet the fast going Beaverton quint on the Beaverton floor. Gresham's second team will engage the rival first team in order to give Kruger's champs a chance to rest before the county championship match.

Get this, fans!
Next Tuesday evening at the local gymnasium, the Gresham hoopers will meet Columbian high for the county championship's decision. This does not include the Portland league. Corbett has lost but one game, Gresham two. You will want to see the fire fly.

Last night Gresham high won easily from Hill Military academy by a score of 26 to 17. Below we give the summary:

Gresham Hill
Duncan (12).....F.....(3) Crane
Okuda (4).....F.....(4) Coe
Squire (3).....C.....(5) McKay
Anicker (3).....G.....(9) Moody
Strong (2).....G.....(9) Ledoux
Rusher (2).....S.....(3) Turner
Lane (4).....S.....(2) Lawson
Satterstrom.....S

Ray Brooks, referee.
One of the largest fan crowds that ever rooted the home team to victory saw Columbian high go down to a double-header defeat at the Union high gymnasium Tuesday evening.

The score of 21 to 15 for the preliminary skirmish and 14 to 7 for the main ruction of the twin play was not easily won from the visitors.

Much credit is due the players on both of the second teams for the businesslike way in which they handled the ball. During the first half Gresham scored 11 points, holding their rivals to two singles gained from free throws. By dint of better playing the Corbett boys gained 13 points in the second half to the local's 10. From a scientific standpoint this was the best game of the two.

Below is the first team line-up:
Gresham Corbett
Duncan (8).....F.....(1) Bramhall
Okuda (3).....F.....(1) Wolfe
Squire (3).....C.....(3) Berney
Strong.....G.....(3) Woodward
Anicker.....G.....(1) Linn
S. S. Chamberlain

Joe Rosenberg, referee.
Kruger's men held their opponents scoreless until well into the third quarter. The lighter but more confident Gresham quint easily outstepped the Corbett boys. As the contest entered the third stride one of the Columbian high sportsmen committed a technical error by failing to report in effecting a substitution. Referee Rosenberg threw a bomb by ruling out points and personal fouls gained in this quarter but allowing the time played to stand.

This meant a loss of three points to Gresham and the two that Corbett had won on fouls. This action brought the syrup to the boiling point. From this stage on both teams were too busy ringing up personals to gain points. Both teams had good men. Linn, Corbett guard, was hurt but finished the play. Berney, the visitor's elongated center, exhibited some splendid work as well as a perfect physique.

All are on their way to southern California to hold meetings and on the return trip in March will stop off at the temple for a two-day missionary convention.

SUBJECTS ANNOUNCED OF MUCH INTEREST

"Through Nature to God" will be the subject of the Rev. Halford V. Wilhelm at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday morning. He will show that every people in the world that have come to some fragmentary knowledge of God have approached him through natural lines, and that God in his dealing with men has almost entirely kept away from the spectacular, while men have come slowly into a more perfect knowledge of him. All this will be discussed in full and the origin will be traced of many ideas of God which men entertain. This service will begin at 11 o'clock.

The service for the evening will be another of the series on the men of the Bible, this one being "The Man Who Had to Be Shown." This sermon will be in answer to the question of Nathaniel, "Can Any Good Come Out of Nazareth?"

The Sunday school begins promptly at 10 o'clock with an interesting and helpful program throughout. The sessions are well attended and helpful.

Each Sunday evening the young people of the church and their friends meet at 5 o'clock for a social tea and junior choir rehearsal. Many are enjoying these meetings, which are followed at 6:30 by the League devotional meeting. Miss Elizabeth Johnson and Miss Elmina Gilbert will act as hostesses next Sunday.

The officers and teachers of the Sunday school will hold their regular meeting immediately following the morning service, when lunch will be enjoyed together and matters of interest to the school will be discussed.

HESSSEL ENTERTAIN SALES PEOPLE

A pleasant evening was spent Thursday when W. A. and J. C. Hessel entertained the sales and mechanic force of Hessel Implement Co. at their home on Wallula Heights. Preceding the social part of the evening the employees gathered at the store where a general discussion was held of the various merits of the Overland Whippet which is featured largely by the Hessel company. They now have a complete line of fours and sixes in every model, and considerable time was spent in becoming familiar with every detail of this machine which is fast becoming a favorite with prospective purchasers. After the business hour the gentlemen repaired to the Hessel residence where the ladies of the party had gathered and the evening was spent in cards and dancing followed by refreshments. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hessel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welty, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMurry, Miss Violet Perret, J. C. Hessel, H. E. Barr and J. V. Deardorff.

In addition to the sermon there will be a musical program put on by the high school students under the direction of Mr. Baker. There will be no meeting Saturday evening, but the usual services will be held Sunday. Sunday school at 9:45, followed by preaching service, and the evening meeting of the B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 with the sermon following.

In the evening at 6:30 the young people will meet with the young people of the Gresham Baptist church. A hearty welcome is extended to all by the pastor, the Rev. John S. Nordell.

Gresham Movie Fans Form Screen Club

Wednesday evening some forty fans of the movies gathered at the Gresham public library and under the direction of Mr. Carl A. Theobald, actor and motion picture producer, formed an organization that holds future promise for Gresham and Oregon.

Known as The Oregon Screen club, the purpose of the association is to establish, with a modest beginning, the production of motion pictures in Oregon with the studio located in Gresham.

A board of directors was elected to serve for a year. Following are the names of those chosen in this capacity, all except Mr. Jones, being residents of Gresham:

President, W. J. Cooper; vice president, Benj. H. Davies, secretary, Myron E. Jones; treasurer, C. E. Johnson; member of advisory board, Mrs. E. E. Welling.

Supporting the new company are many of Gresham's progressive business people whose sole purpose in giving their support is the advancement industrially of this community.

Benefits to be derived from memberships in this club will be many fold. Chief among them, however, are those of a social nature to the individual member and as a whole the natural commercial advantages attendant upon the successful development of an industry that numbers its devotees by the million daily.

Work has already been started on the reconstruction of a building to house the new infant and will progress as rapidly as interest is shown by local people. The matter is up to Gresham and those of other communities who want this new enterprise located here and are willing to help.

Mr. Theobald, assisted by other members of his producing staff, will address the members of the club and all who wish to attend next Wednesday evening, beginning at 7:30. Mr. Theobald plans to show a picture explaining the method of picture production to those attending. All are invited. Announcement of the place will be made in Tuesday's Outlook.

Zion Evangelical Services.

Sunday school will be held at the hour of 10 a. m. at the Zion Evangelical church, followed by the preaching service at 11. The pre-ten sermon for Sunday will be based on the words, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." The pastor of the church, the Rev. E. Horstmann, says: "The Master is always standing at life's door seeking entrance. During the lenten season he would come in a special way to every Christian. Special preparation is necessary to receive the life-giving guest worthily."

Mid-week lenten services will be held on Wednesday evenings during the entire lenten season beginning March 3. The story of the Passion of Christ will be read and sermons fitting the occasion will be delivered. Services will begin at 8 o'clock and will not exceed an hour in length.
