

Drastic Dog Law Passes Council

Following numerous complaints by property owners in Gresham that dogs were overrunning the town, the city council at its regular meeting last Wednesday night passed a drastic measure prohibiting their running at large during the greater part of the year, to be explicit, between the first day of February and the first day of November of each year. An emergency was declared "for the preservation of the public health and peace of the city," and the ordinance went into effect immediately after its passage and the approval of the mayor. The measure is an amendment to a former ordinance, and takes the place of Section 1 of an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance Providing the Taxing and Killing of Dogs," passed by the council July 18, 1904. The section as amended reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any keeper, proprietor or owner of any dog or dogs over four months old to suffer or permit such dog or dogs to run at large within the corporate limits of the city of Gresham between the 1st day of February and the 1st day of November of each year."

No change was made in that part of the ordinance governing the taxing of dogs.

The penalty attaching to the ordinance is a part of the original measure and remains unchanged, the minimum being $5 and the maximum $25.

A dog ordinance passed as an emergency measure during the war was repealed.

Two bids were received on the erection of the proposed public rest room, both of which seemed too high to the council and were rejected. Bids are again called for, which will be opened at an adjourned meeting of the council on Wednesday evening, March 9.

The council ordered the purchase of 450 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose and 150 of 1 1/2-inch hose for the fire department at a cost of $600, also six smoke masks.

PROPERTY DISPUTE CARRIED TO COURT

D. C. Ross has begun foreclosure proceedings against Henry Tilgner for the Main street garage building which Tilgner purchased from Ross on contract in 1923. The court ordered the rent to be paid by the present tenant to the court while the suit is pending. C. M. Idleman of Portland is the attorney for Mr. Ross.

Another litigation involving Mr. Tilgner is that of the foreclosure proceedings which have been completed against the equipment of the Main street garage, the decision levying a judgment of $200 and costs against the tank, pump and air compressor. George Elieff originally sold the filling station equipment to Tilgner, taking a mortgage for the unpaid balance. Attorney C. G. Schneider represented the interests of Mr. Elieff in the foreclosure suit.

Regarding the survey which was made a short time ago on order of Mr. Tilgner to determine the boundary lines of the Ross property which Tilgner had purchased on contract, the latter is making the counter complaint that he has been damaged to the extent of $1000 by the party wall erected by the city bakery at the time the new bakery building was put up, and $800 for the loss of ground sustained.

To straighten out this matter and determine the accuracy of the survey made by the men employed by Tilgner, a recent survey was ordered by Mr. Ross. K. C. Roberts, city engineer, surveyed the lines and reported that Mr. Tilgner has a small amount of ground to the good over what the contract calls for. It is considered that the wall has been a decided improvement to the property.

CLIFFORD EKSTROM WINS SCHOLARSHIP

The local O. A. C. extension office announces that the Union Pacific scholarship for Multnomah county has been awarded to Clifford Ekstrom. The selection was based on the merit of 75 per cent rank in club work and 25 per cent on character, interest and quality of leadership. A committee of three persons, the county school superintendent, a person appointed by the president of Oregon Agricultural college or the state club leader and a third person chosen by these two members, made the decision for the award.

The scholarship consists of $100 to be used in a full term agriculture or home economics course at O. A. C. It must be used within a year of the date of award, except where the boy or girl is a regular attendant at school, in which case it may be used on completion of the student's school course.

No boy or girl is eligible for more than one Union Pacific scholarship. Clifford has worked hard in club work for seven years, working primarily with calf club work. He has always taken an active part in the community activities and has always held an office in the local clubs. He was a member of the farm account demonstration team of 1926 which received much commendation.

SAFE PLACE FOR BABIES

Oregon boasts the lowest infant mortality of any state in the Union. Only one out of every 20 born alive here dies under one year of age. So if you have any choice in the matter select Oregon as your birth state and your chances will be good that you will live at least one year. But if Oregon is a good place to be born it is also a good place to live.

Portland outranks most other cities of similar size in the percentage increase in the cost of living since 1914. The rise has been only 55 per cent in Portland while Detroit shows 84 per cent.

Safe motherhood and healthy babies are about the most important things in life, along with living conditions that make for a healthy, happy individual and family life. And these things we have in Oregon generally, in Portland and in Gresham.

OREGON SCREEN CLUB INTERESTS MANY

Meeting in their new club room at the building known as the old starch mill south of the A. W. Metzger store, members and friends of the newly organized Screen club spent Wednesday evening pleasantly when they heard Carl A. Theobald discuss the various phases of one of the world's greatest and most interesting industries.

Established to promote the production of motion pictures, in Gresham, the club is gaining in numbers and interest. Some 75 people of all ages attended, saw the motion pictures, comedies and scenic and discussed the future possibilities of the screen club as a factor for community development.

Mr. Theobald, who is an artist as well as a producer of some national note, desires to locate here with the help of those who see their community needs in a large way and is modest in his requests for financial and moral cooperation. Many of those who heard him speak, declared an intention of supporting the new club.

All are cordially invited to attend the next meeting to be held Monday evening at 7:30 at the studio. There will be movies, readings and lectures for all.

POSTPONED SERMON TO BE DELIVERED

The sermon, "The Lord Christ" which was announced several weeks ago, will be preached next Sunday morning at the Methodist church by the pastor, the Rev. Halford V. Wilhelm. The sermon reviews several of the major world events through which Christ has been lost to multitudes, and shows how he has risen above these fogs of misunderstanding until he is today better understood than at any previous time in human history.

This is a sermon well worth hearing, especially for any whose faith may be disturbed by the confusion existing in religious thought today. The evening sermon is called, "The Man Who Took What He Wanted." It centers in the story of one who misappropriated gold and valuable merchandise, and contains many practical pointers for life today. There will be special music by the junior choir.

The Sunday school meets at 10. Splendid work is being done by the 200 or so who attend each Sunday. Others are invited.

The Epworth League meets at 5 for its social tea and at 6:30 for the devotional hour.

Is your coat or suit dirty? Phone 1211, Peter Lenard and have him call for it, clean it and deliver it to you. Our plant is in Gresham. All work strictly guaranteed.—Adv.

CONCERTS WILL DRAW LOCAL MUSIC LOVERS

The Portland Symphony orchestra will present two complete programs during the next ten days, the first being the last of the series of six morning concerts to be given at the Heilig Theater Saturday morning, and the second being the final concert of the season to be given at the public auditorium Monday night, March 14. Willem van Hoogstraten will conduct both concerts. In ending his second season as conductor of the orchestra, he will present programs of outstanding merit. One of the most important local premieres of the present season will be that of Igor Stravinsky's monumental suite "The Fire Bird" which is slated to have its first hearing in this city at the concert on March 14. Stravinsky has probably provoked more comment than any other modern composer, and his visit to America in 1925, was viewed with great interest throughout the country. His music is very intricate, employs startling harmonies, and in a rather desultory manner, very melodious. This famed Russian has been regarded as an experimenter in musical composition; and considering that his more important works are performed season after season in Europe and in America, it is evident that his experiment has been successful.

"L'Oiseau de Feu," as the "Fire Bird" suite is usually programmed, is his best known work, and has stood the test of time admirably, having been composed 17 years ago. One of its movements, the berceuse, is regarded as one of the finest melodies conceived in the last two decades.

Another monumental work is the second symphony of Johannes Brahms, to be presented for the first time in years at the coming concert. The performance of this symphony will culminate for the time being, Mr. van Hoogstraten's program for the revival of the works of the great German composer. The second symphony lacks the almost impenetrable profundity of the other symphonies, and is gayer and lighter than the others. It bears the stamp, nevertheless, of Brahms' finished workmanship.

This concert will also feature the ever-popular "Tannhauser" overture of Wagner.

But one composition included in the program for the concert Saturday morning, March 12, has been presented earlier in the current season. It is the eighth "Unfinished" symphony of Franz Schubert, the work that contains the famous "love song" now endeared to millions. The "Merry Wives of Windsor" overture, the pizzicato from the "Sylvia Ballet" (Delibes), and the tremendous overture solenne, "1812" (Tchaikovsky), are being presented for the first time at these concerts.

Baptist Church Services.

The special meetings in the Baptist church will continue until Sunday evening, March 6. The topic of the Rev. E. A. Gottberg's sermon this evening is the "World's Greatest Victory." Miss Martha Hagberg will sing, also Mrs. Gottberg will render as a solo, "The Power of God," composed by Ward Baker. There will be no service Saturday evening and on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Rev. Mr. Gottberg will preach, his topic to be "World's Greatest Hope." There will be special music by Ward Baker and local talent. The B. Y. P. U. meets promptly at 6:30 in the evening. The evening church service will begin promptly at 7:30 when Rev. Gottberg will deliver his last address. The topic will be "The World's Greatest Question." There will be special musical numbers.

Gresham Temple Services.

"The Royal House of Jesus" will be the topic of the sermon Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. S. F. Pitts, at the Undenominational temple. In the evening the pastor will preach from the topic, "The Whole House of Israel."

Sunday school will convene at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Prayer service is held each Tuesday evening at 7:30. The children's meeting will be held at 7 o'clock Friday evening, followed by the young people's service at 7:45.

Outlook Plans Cooking School

All members of the family will be interested to hear that a cooking school will soon be conducted in Gresham, for who is not interested in good things to eat? What a chance for the home folks to enjoy new dishes using well known material served up in new and appetizing ways!

For the Outlook is to hold its third annual cooking school, having arranged with Rose Bartlett of the home service department of the Portland Gas & Coke company to conduct its school in the basement of the Methodist church on Tuesdays and Thursdays, March 15th, 17th, 22d and 24th. Those women who attended the school last year know how much valuable information was obtained and how interesting are these talks.

With nearly two weeks remaining before the opening of the school, Gresham housewives will have sufficient time to plan their work in advance so they may attend all the classes.

Every woman will be eager to plan her household program so she may be present at the classes every day when she knows what is in store. There will be something different on the program every day and an entirely new program from that of last year will be given.

All the latest wrinkles in cookery will be demonstrated and explained by Mrs. Bartlett who will be remembered by many housewives of Gresham and who has had a large experience in domestic science work. Last year, besides the many cooking demonstrations in Gresham, St. Johns, Vancouver, Oregon City, Hillsboro, etc. Mrs. Bartlett conducted a most successful cooking school for the Portland News at the public auditorium.

Economical and seasonable dishes will be the keynote of the four day course. Only those products which can be afforded in the average home will be featured.

The Outlook will make further announcements regarding the cooking school and all ladies are urged to keep the dates open for these classes, all of which will be free, and to which those interested are cordially invited.

Zion Evangelical Services.

Preaching services will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at the Zion Evangelical church. Considering the subject of the sermon, "Temptation," the pastor, the Rev. E. Horstman, says: "Men are known by the battles they fight and win. The greatest battle is the fight for character. Human strength, if relied upon alone, must succumb to the terrific struggle. New sources of strength must be called upon, reinforcements must constantly come to the rescue. The church will help you secure this sorely needed strength in the fight for character."

Free Methodist Services.

The pastor of the Free Methodist church, the Rev. L. A. Skuzie, will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning and evening. The morning theme will be, "If God Be For Us." The young people's service will be held at 7 o'clock, followed by a sermon at 8. Cottage prayer meetings will be held each Tuesday evening at 7:30, the next one to be at the home of J. J. Robertson on east Powell Valley road.

GRESHAM QUINTET NOW COUNTY CHAMPS

(By Benj. H. Davies.)
Playing the old game with all the vim of young manhood at their command, the Gresham basketball quint crashed through to a championship victory at the local gymnasium Tuesday evening, winning over Columbian high by a score of 24 to 17. The freshman game was won by Gresham, 16 to 6. It was well played.

With but an exception or two a fine spirit was exhibited by the members of the teams. Duncan and Okuda, always good, displayed some of the snappiest pivoting, dribbling and shooting the fans have seen here. Strong played exceptionally well as did the rest.

Lynn, guard for Columbian, proved a good sport. His ankle injured here a week ago gave out during the second quarter. Running short of subs, his coach sent the game lad in again only to see him go down for the second time. Berney's lumbar region seemingly went hay-wire. The herculean center for Corbett frequently "fell" atop of one of his opponents, thus saving himself the unpleasantness of bruised shins.

Below is the line-up:
Gresham: Duncan (9), F. (1), Wolfe Okuda (8), F. (4), Bramhall Squire (4), G. (8), Berney Strong (4), G. (4), Lynn Rusher (9), G. (4), Phillips Anicker (1), S. (4), Chamberlain Lane (9), S. (4), Priebe Jean Fabre, referee.

Miss Alice Prindle's splendidly trained orchestra not only soothed the turbulent minds that thronged the balconies, but by a powerful presentation of those elements in music that urge the primitive in youth on to conquest, was a positive factor in the winning of the pennant.

The total points won by regular team players of both schools up to and including this game are:
Gresham: Duncan 125, Okuda 114, Squire 55, Strong 43, Lane 30.
Columbian: Wolfe 13, Bramhall 43, Berney 28, Lynn 12, Woodward 17.

Last night the local pentad defeated Beaverton here by a score of 21 to 16. Al French refereed.

SERVICE STATION IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Construction work began yesterday on the new service station to be erected by J. C. Shultz on his 120-foot frontage on east Powell 120-ft. frontage on E. Powell street opposite the Raker garage. The building, which will be 31 x 34 feet in size, will be finished in California stucco and modern in every respect. Tires and tire repairing will be a feature of the new station, together with grease pit and complete equipment for the handling of gas and oil. A ladies' rest room located at the rear of the main building, will be furnished in an up-to-date manner.

The modern tire shop will be operated in connection with the shop recently purchased in Montavilla by Shultz & Canny. Mr. Shultz will have charge of the Gresham station and E. P. Canny will be in charge of the tire vulcanizing shop in Montavilla. The Gresham station will present a creditable appearance when completed. A driveway is to be constructed which will extend around the building, and later plans will include the beautification of the grounds in keeping with the building. R. C. Frace is in charge of the carpenter work and local lumber firms are furnishing the building material.

Disease Situation Calls for Action

Protective Treatment Offered.
Toxin-Antitoxin to be administered at grade school Tuesday morning, March 8, at 9 o'clock. Pre-school children will be treated first.
Schick test at high school next week. Date announced later.

Through the concerted action of state and county public health officers, local physicians, the faculties and school boards of both high and grade schools in Gresham, measures will be undertaken immediately to prevent a threatened epidemic of diphtheria and to immunize all who will accept the treatment against future danger of the dread disease.

Several cases of diphtheria have appeared among children of the grade school within the last few months and ten carriers have been discovered and placed under quarantine in the last few days. The situation was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of parents at the grade school on Wednesday night, when Miss Mary P. Billmeyer, county public health nurse, explained the preventive measures now available and answered many questions.

Next Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock was fixed upon as the time for administering toxin-antitoxin to all children of the grade school who bring the signed permit of their parents. It was impressed upon all present by both Miss Billmeyer and Principal Quicksall that the treatment is not compulsory and that it will not be given to any child without this permit. Especial emphasis was given to the danger to children under school age, as they are the most susceptible, and parents were urged to bring the young children over six months old for the treatment. They will be cared for first by the doctors and nurses.

It is important that all who wish to have their children take the treatment return the signed slips to Mr. Quicksall or otherwise indicate to him how many to provide for. This will be the first of three successive "shots" one week apart. Parents are invited to be present when the work is done.

The cost for each child for the entire process will be 25 cents, though provision will be made for any who are unable to pay the amount. Miss Billmeyer made the request that as many as possible make the amount 35 instead of 25 cents. The latter amount barely pays for the material used. The extra 10 cents would go into a fund to be divided among the Gresham physicians who are giving their time gratis.
