IS DR. BUTLER RIGHT?

It is announced that on April 8, in Boston, will occur a debate between Senator Wm. A. Borah, of Idaho, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, on prohibition enforcement.

Senator Borah, who is an ardent supporter of the 18th amendment, has challenged Dr. Butler who is one of the most outspoken opposers of prohibition to be found. Their meeting on the public platform to present opposite sides of the enforcement question will probably not be strictly a debate but a discussion. Public opinion will be the judge as to which has the best of the argument and that opinion cannot be altogether unprejudiced.

In a recent speech before a New York republican club Dr. Butler said that "in 1928 no candidate for president can escape making known with definiteness and precision his attitude toward prohibition. Unless he is against it, he can not, in my judgment, be elected on any ticket. The Eighteenth amendment must come out of the constitution, and the states must each in its own way deal with the evils of the liquor traffic and the saloon."

That's a bold statement and no wonder it called forth a challenge from a fearless dry such as Borah.

Two leading democrats, who are presidential aspirants, Al Smith and McAdoo, have lined up on opposite sides of the question. Republican leaders of opposing opinions will probably declare themselves ere long and the battle will be on.

Prohibition gives promise of being an important issue in the campaign of 1928 but we do not think the outcome will be what Dr. Butler wishes.

The Washington legislature convened yesterday for the first time in the new $7,000,000 capitol building at Olympia. The building is claimed by some to be one of the finest and most imposing state houses in the United States. The arrangement is that of a group of buildings, several of which are already built. The completion of the group, with grounds, statues, executive mansion, etc., will probably cost around $18,000,000. Fortunate Washington.

Henry L. Bergman, the embroiling and absconding bank president of Florence has been returned to Oregon and awaits trial. He pleads guilty and asks that his trial be speeded so he can begin serving his sentence at once. "The sooner begun the sooner done," he thinks.

Bandits armed with machine guns and other weapons held up and robbed a gambling place of $30,000. Is there no honor among thieves?

A severe cyclone storm struck the east coast of the island of Madagascar off east Africa last week, destroying millions in property and hundreds of lives. Disaster is no respecter of persons.

We now have, through the action of the recent congress, a radio commission, of five men with Rear Admiral Bullard, retired, as chairman, which will undertake to straighten out the "tangle in the air." There is hope the country will be saved.

Congress filibustered away its last few days and failed to make any appropriation for the radio commission but Secretary Hoover invites the commission to meet and offers facilities from his department. There is always a way out.

Judge John McNary, of Salem, was installed yesterday as federal judge on the United States district bench, succeeding the late Charles E. Wolverton. He is a brother of Senator Chas. L. McNary, and will be an associate on the bench of Judge Bean.

Canby in Clackamas county is having its time over a union high school district. There seem to be those who are determined to block the building of a new high school. It is said as a result of the agitation two directors have resigned, injunctions have been filed against the board, and some districts, it is said, are threatening to dissolve the union. It's an unfortunate community where such conflicts arise.

"Mumps are still at large" in the community, says an exchange. Why don't they call in an expert trapper to catch a few of them?

REFORM FOSTERED.

The short and final session of the 69th congress has just closed. Why have a short session? Under our constitution, as it now reads, the congress chosen by the people last November does not meet until next December, unless called into special session by the president.

A move is started to have the president inaugurated early in January, following election, and congress convene at once or early in the year.

The Norris amendment, which provides for this arrangement, to which the women of the country have given their support, would get rid of the "short session" which is often responsible for bad laws and much waste of taxpayers' money. For those very reasons, perhaps, the professional politicians do not want the amendment passed and will continue to oppose it as they have opposed similar reforms for half a century. No more valuable service can possibly be rendered by a great periodical than the leadership of such causes, and in this field of endeavor the Woman's Home Companion has repeatedly shown an extraordinary wisdom and sagacity.

"ELLO, LONDON"

Some distinguished men in Portland were chatting about the telephone last Saturday when central called up and informed one of them that London was on the line. "Hello, London," he said. "Ello, Portland," came the reply, then followed quite a conversation about the weather and some other things. And the voice of the man talking in Portland was clearly heard in London and the man talking in London was heard in Portland.

That's an achievement of 50 years to be proud of. Just last year was celebrated the 50th anniversary of the first successful attempt to carry the human voice over the wire. That was from one room to another. Now it is from one continent to another and across the ocean by wireless at that.

Easter falls this year on April 17. It occurs on the Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox. The normal date of the spring equinox is March 21. Easter may occur as early as March 22 or as late as April 25.

PETER LENARD, Prop. Phone 1211 Res. 3664

WRITER PROTESTS BUILDING PLAN

Gresham, Ore., March 5, 1927.—Editor Outlook.—The undersigned protests that the proposed building that the city council is about to erect on the frontage of the city hall property is ill-advised and would destroy the attractiveness of the only "beauty spot" the city owns.

There seems to be decided uncertainty as to the exact purpose of the building, or what has prompted the sudden activity? One says it is to be a comfort station which has been needed for many years. Another says it for a rest room and, incidentally, will be needed for a stage terminal. Still another observes that it is to be a combination with a small store room to rent.

The comfort station proposition would, I believe, be endorsed unambiguously, and would be appreciated by the traveling public, but it should be built along the east line and at the back of the lot, where there is ample room, and could be built comparatively cheap.

Another convenience would be a drinking fountain and some benches under the beautiful shade trees. Another suggestion is that the present cement walk which divides the lawn into two long, "insignificant" strips, be removed, and a walk be put in from the Roberts avenue side.

The city needs the park, and more of them. GEO. F. HONEY.

PEACE.

A new movement looking toward universal peace has been organized and conferences are being held in various large centers, called World Unity conferences. Many prominent names are connected with the movement.

The platform of this effort is based upon certain definite principles "which can be accepted and applied to all men and women, irrespective of race, creed or class." They are stated as follows:

"The need for an independent investigation of truth; recognition of the spiritual oneness of humanity; that love is the essence of all religions and all religions have a common purpose; that there is no discord between real religion and real science; that the world needs an international auxiliary language; that the highest ideal to be sought by all organizations and groups is universal peace."

During 1926 more than 300,000,000 barrels of gasoline were consumed in this and all other countries, a gain of nearly 20 per cent over 1925.
