

Troutdale Association Holds Annual Eledtion

The annual meeting of the Troutdale Cooperative Lettuce & Cauliflower association was held on March 7 at the Pleasant View schoolhouse. The old board of directors was continued in charge of the affairs of the association. They are George Chamberlain, W. E. Hurt, Frank Fehrenbacher, T. F. Socle and Art. Dunkley.

Immediately after the election of directors that body met and re-elected George Chamberlain, president, and W. E. Hurt, vice president. The directors re-employed A. S. Seidl as secretary-treasurer; Arnold Lampert, field manager and Alex. Lampert, shipping.

The fiscal year of the association ends March 1. The full reports of the year's business will be given at the regular meeting on April 5. This is expected to show a gross business of $50,000. About half the acreage of last year will be planted this year and important changes will be made in varieties.

Health Notes

Fighting Diseases by Up-to-Date Methods.

The public must be taught to fight disease by up-to-date methods. There is an urgent need for the education of the general public in the means of combating influenza, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other communicable diseases. A definite plan of action for the coming year provides for the co-operation of medical men, the department of education, the press, the clergy, and every other organization that can further this work.

There is good reason why combined efforts should be made to get rid of disease. A large amount of sickness and high mortality is caused by preventable diseases. Diphtheria, typhoid, and scarlet fever can be prevented. A systematic and simultaneous attack on a state-wide front against communicable diseases would be an effective way of eradicating disease.

A systematic and simultaneous attack on a state-wide front against communicable diseases would be an effective way of eradicating disease. The plan proposes an active attack on contagious diseases throughout the year 1927. It is hoped that the results of this advance all along the line will encourage local health officials generally. It should also furnish an object lesson to intelligent citizens throughout the state in what can be done in the prevention of disabling sickness. The results of this plan should pave the way for a more comprehensive one, and should continue until the whole Northwest has been freed of these communicable and preventable diseases.

Since 1884 there has been diphtheria antitoxin, a cure for diphtheria, and for many years it has been known that a lasting immunity could be produced by the use of toxin-antitoxin. In spite of this fact there were 150,000 cases and 13,000 deaths from diphtheria on the North American continent in 1924. While the incidence and mortality of diphtheria in the cities during the past ten years had been very materially reduced, the mortality in the smaller places and country districts remained practically where it was before the discovery of antitoxin. The high mortality is among the children of preschool age. If the physicians, in their capacity of family physicians, will recommend the immunization of children by toxin-antitoxin the results we are looking for will be materially aided.

There is no instance of a single death from smallpox in the numerous outbreaks that have occurred in this country when the patients had been previously successfully vaccinated. As a result of improved methods of sanitation and typhoid inoculation the percentage of deaths from typhoid fever has been materially reduced. Oregon has one of the lowest typhoid death rates in the United States.

The difficulty in the past has been to teach the public to make use of known means of immunization. It is hoped, by the means of the plan just outlined, that the public will aid greatly in the eradication and control of communicable diseases.

Infertile eggs bought for preservation will keep longer than fertile eggs under adverse conditions. They contain no developed germ, are slow to decay and cost no more than fertile eggs.

Soaking material in sour milk or buttermilk removes mildew.

To make good fried oysters, dip them in egg and bread crumbs some time before they are to be fried. This gives the coating a chance to harden and the oysters will fry better.

Equal parts of raw chopped spinach and cabbage are a novel way to use spinach in a salad. Chopped peanuts are sometimes added.

Fairview Plans to Test Water Supply

Preliminary work has been completed and it was expected that actual drilling would begin today on the municipal well to be sunk at Fairview, southwest of the city limits. A. L. Ziezing of Portland, who recently completed the drilling of the Rockwood well, is in charge of the work.

Fairview authorities are going at the matter of installing a water system in a conservative manner. They have decided to expend the sum of $1000 in testing out both the quantity and quality of water and if everything is satisfactory, later a bond issue of $15,000 will be asked to pay for the installation of electric pump, reservoir, pipes, and necessary expenses. The reserve tank will be of 25,000-gallon capacity. It is expected that about 60 homes will be supplied through the system when completed.

FAIRVIEW

Morning worship will be conducted Sunday at the Smith Memorial Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock. The Rev. E. R. D. Hollensted will preach from the subject, "The Sermon on the Mount." Sunday school will convene at 10 o'clock. Sunday evening the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Fairview and the pastor of the Rockwood Methodist church, the Rev. J. F. Dunlop, will exchange pulpits.

Mrs. Myrtle Thorpe of Oak Grove, Oregon, Mrs. Beulah Harvey and Mrs. Edith Andrade of Portland visited on Wednesday at the home of their mother, Mrs. H. C. Moore. They were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. John Peterson in honor of the latter's birthday.

At a meeting of the school board on Monday evening teachers were hired for the ensuing year as follows: Mrs. Anne Tegart, principal; Miss Beryl King, 5th and 6th grades; Mrs. Helen Camp, 3d and 4th; Miss Leah Burgeois, 1st and 2d.

Mrs. Ruth Moller entertained the social committee of the Fairview grange at her home on Thursday evening. The committee decided to hold a basket social and dance at the hall on Saturday evening, March 26.
