

Gresham Locals

A window in Kaser's Service station was broken Sunday night and a well-filled case of candy bars stolen by someone reaching in from the outside. A broken key was found on the ground near the door Monday morning which indicated that whoever had broken the window had first tried to gain entrance through the door. A large rock had been thrown through the window and had gone through the glass door of the case. It is not known how much candy was taken, but Mr. Kaser had filled the cases well that morning. The same place was disturbed about two years ago when the front door was broken and the place rifled.

The lady employees of the First State bank, Pearl Ruegg, Marie Blom and Rosella Engelhart, were the hostesses Tuesday evening to the ladies employed at the Bank of Gresham, Martha Hagberg, Esther Peterson and Mrs. Florence Botkin, when they drove up the Columbia River highway for an evening picnic. The heavy storm of that evening forced them to return and they repaired to the home of Miss Ruegg where the eats were disposed of and the evening otherwise pleasantly spent.

Mrs. Winifred Miller arrived Sunday from San Francisco to spend two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Miller, parents of her late husband Wendall Miller, who died on board a ship in the Panama canal zone several months ago.

H. M. Moreland of Roseburg was in Gresham a short time Thursday. His wife and child accompanied him as far as Portland where they stopped at the home of Mrs. Moreland's parents, the baby having developed measles. The family is contemplating returning to Gresham to live.

Miss Emma D. White is entertaining her sister Mrs. W. A. Braly of Honolulu in apartments at the residence of J. N. Clananahan.

Quarterly meeting will be held at the Free Methodist church beginning on Friday evening and continuing over Sunday. In the absence of District Elder W. N. Coffee, who is attending the general conference of the church in Rochester, New York, the meeting will be in charge of his son-in-law, the Rev. E. L. Silva who, with his wife and children, has lately returned from China. Both Mr. and Mrs. Silva will speak Friday evening.

The Misses Sarah Metzger and Helen Althaus appeared at the Behnke-Walker auditorium Sunday afternoon in violin solo numbers in a recital of advanced violin work given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eichenlaub. Each of the girls was accompanied by Mrs. Eichenlaub at the piano.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Neal Horr of Sandy a 7 1/2-pound daughter at the home of Mrs. J. A. Bushong on Thursday, June 9. The baby, who is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Horr, has been given the name of Marietta Lou.

A. H. Lewis, father of Mrs. Mary Welch, will soon come to Gresham to make his home. He has purchased a lot and the beginning of a small house from Albert Sheely. He will move over from Faloma, Oregon, as soon as the house is completed.

Mrs. Mark Nickerson left on Saturday for a week's visit with friends at Wenatchee, Washington.

A fine electric-lighted bulletin board has been placed on the lawn in front of the Methodist Episcopal church through the enterprise of the Ladies Aid society. The members of the society expect to pay for the improvement by the sale of a fine line of household necessities which they will distribute in the community.

A splendid program of music was given at Miss Florence Honey's studio on Wednesday evening by four of her piano pupils, Helen Althaus and Margaret St. Clair, assisted by Betty Thorne and Gwendolyn Metzger. Miss Althaus and Miss St. Clair played as duo piano numbers Sonata in C, Mozart; Fantasia on Humoresque, Dvorak; and Serenade op. 15, No. 1, Moskowski. One number, Butterfly Dance by Friml, was played by the four girls on the two pianos. Solos played by Miss Althaus were Etude IX op. 32, Jensen; Humoresque in e minor op. 6, Levine; and In the Woods, Staub. Miss Metzger and Miss St. Clair played Valse Caprice, Spross, as a duo piano number, while Miss St. Clair played Valse Trieste, Sibellius; The Rosary, Nevin; Spanish Dance, Mowrey; and two songs of her own composition. Violin numbers, Danse Hongroise, Bohm; and Minuet in G, Beethoven, were played by Miss Althaus with Miss Amy Noreen as accompanist.

Mrs. Christena Humason is enjoying a two-weeks' vacation from her work at the A. W. Metzger & Company store.

Ross Brown handled a real estate deal by which the five-acre place of Samuel Riechen near Kelso was transferred to Mrs. Ella Kornaley, who, with her son and daughter, recently came from Colorado. The selection of location was made after western Oregon and Washington had been pretty thoroughly looked over.

An auspicious event on this the 150th anniversary of Flag Day was brought to mind this morning when the beautiful new flag, 10 x 20 feet in size, recently presented to the city of Gresham by the American Legion auxiliary, was flung to the breeze. Just enough air was stirring to cause a ripple in the folds of "Old Glory" as it was raised into position. It is safe to say that the bright new emblem, which replaces the old worn out flag so long seen on the flagstaff at the city hall, will be duly appreciated by Gresham and its citizens. It is a noticeable fact that more flags are on display today than were seen on Memorial Day.

A fine attendance marked the opening of the George Page & Company grocery last Saturday when the aisles of the new building were crowded much of the day and evening with busy Saturday shoppers. The building was jammed during the evening when people from far and near participated in the fun-making events of the hour. A. A. McMillan exhibited a box containing 15 strawberries weighing a pound and was awarded the prize. Miss Marjorie Aylsworth won the handsome three-story cake baked by the City bakery for the occasion. H. G. Andrew was given a sack of flour for the largest family with all present. Much interest was taken in the homing pigeon guessing contest. When it came to the handsomest man present, H. W. Cooley all but succeeded in qualifying. All were pleased with the fine door prize awards.

Alden Miller is home from the University of Washington where he has completed his junior year in college work.

Mrs. H. E. Eastman and Mrs. O. A. Eastman entertained 25 guests Saturday evening at the latter's home when a miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Thelma Miller, a sister of Mrs. H. E. Eastman, who is soon to be married at Oakland, California. Dancing and games were followed by refreshments.

Walter C. Burch left this morning for the ranger station at Hemlock, Washington. He will spend the summer on Lookout mountain as a fire patrol in the government forest service.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gibson and two children of Tenino, Washington, came Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Gibson's mother Mrs. Effie Beegle. The Rev. Burton Beegle of Seattle, a son, and the Rev. Frank Dawson of Tacoma were also here from a distance. They left Monday for their respective homes.

While Arden Crawford was attending the local picture show Saturday evening his two-room house near the fair ground caught fire, presumably from defective wiring and, before the flames could be extinguished, was practically destroyed. The local fire department responded to the alarm and did good work, but the house was small and the fire did not take long to consume it.

W. C. Burch was agreeably surprised yesterday by the unexpected visit of an old southern Oregon friend and boyhood acquaintance, John Hamrick, of Central Point. They had not seen each other for about 40 years.

Those who enjoy negro spirituals and plantation melodies as sung by the colored people will appreciate the concert which is to be given tonight at the Methodist Episcopal church by the Cotton Blossom singers, a colored male quartet from the Piney Woods school in Piney Woods, Mississippi. No admission is being charged for the concert, but a freewill offering will be taken for the school which is undenominational in its scope and for the Epworth League under whose auspices the concert is given. The singers eat, sleep and travel in their cars. They are reported to be good singers and those who have heard them say that they will present a very delightful concert.
