TO THE PIONEERS.

Are the pioneers only of the past? or is each generation or century a pioneer period for those to come? Will people 75 or a hundred years from now look back to our time as a beginning, a preparation for the better things which they enjoy and think of us as we think of those hardy pioneers who laid the foundations upon which the succeeding generations have builded?

These thoughts are raised in one's mind as a result of motoring over the Old Oregon Trail and catching glimpses here and there of the Via Dolorosa of the early emigrants. It was then a trail of hardship, danger and all too often death. They toiled on and on, often making only a few miles a day. We were speeding along over the same route, often the same ground, in comfort and safety, covering more distance in an hour than they could ordinarily make in three days.

We were constantly overcome with the thought of the change in conditions brought about in the course of a brief 75 years or so. Near Meacham we paused while going and returning to read the inscription on the granite rock erected as a memorial to the early emigrants who passed that way headed for the promised land. The point is about 250 miles from Portland. This is the monument dedicated by President Harding on July 3, 1923. It was erected by the Old Oregon Trail Association.

The inscription is brief and simple but its few words speak volumes. "Dedicated to the memory of the Intrepid Pioneers who came with the first wagon train in 1843 over the Old Oregon Trail and saved the Oregon country to the United States."

BACK TO FIRST PRINCIPLES. The effort of the republican county central committee to eliminate so far as possible a hit and miss run of ambitious, self-appointed candidates for the important office of congressman from the third district, and concentrate on one good republican who will be reasonably sure of election, is just getting back to good American first principles.

The republican congressional committee met last night in Portland and decided on next Friday, September 2, as the date of the nominating convention, and the auditorium as the place. The republican precinct committeemen are the delegates who will select from the possible candidates one whom they agree upon as a worthy and capable successor to the late Maurice Crumpacker.

Governor Patterson has called the election for Tuesday, Oct. 18. It is stated the county board has authorized the purchase at a stipulated price of the 62-acre tract on the Columbia river highway at the figure eight near Latourell. The tract is owned by Henry Latourell, well known here, now residing at Latourell. This is the culmination of several years of negotiation on the part of both the county and Mr. Latourell. The county will offer $20,101.45 for the tract, the price fixed by three appraisers. This may not be accepted, in which case further proceeding will likely be undertaken. The county wants the tract for a park.

Christian Endeavor Union Conference. Oregon's eighth annual summer conference of the Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Turner, Oregon, August 29 to September 5. Turner is on the main Southern Pacific line, 10 miles south of Salem. The conference committee consists of Miss Elicy Walker, of Forest Grove, general chairman; Miss Josephine Rothman of Corvallis, publicity manager; Mr. Dallas Rine, of Portland, business manager; Miss Viola Ogden, of Portland, registrar; and Rev. Walter L. Myers of Eugene Bible University, Dean.

One of the interesting special speakers will be Mr. Zenas Olson of Hillsboro, former president of Washington Christian Endeavor Union and high school teacher in Hillsboro, who is home on furlough from Bangalore, India. Some interesting features of the conference will be reports from the recent International convention at Cleveland by Oregon delegates, evening bonfire meetings under the leadership of Paul Bryson; stunt night, and the annual conference banquet. Advance registrations received at Christian Endeavor headquarters, 303 Abington Bldg., Portland, indicate a statewide interest in the coming conference as delegates have registered from Pendleton, Preewater, LaGrande, Eugene, and Ashland, as well as many other towns closer in. Delegates are urged to register early in order to facilitate accommodations.

Writer Pleads For Clean County Fair

Boring, Oregon, August 25, 1927. —Editor Outlook:—I have read in our home paper, the Gresham Outlook, in the Oregonian, the Oregon Journal, the Portland News and the Oregon Farmer about the wonderful financial success of the Multnomah county fair, and I stop and wonder if the taxes we are paying and the work our Parent-Teacher associations, club leaders and faithful farmers are doing for the fair is just to make the fair a success for a few grafters and gamblers. The question is, was it a moral and educational success? If not, who is to blame?

I will admit directly the fair board was to blame for permitting such flagrant gambling on the grounds. I believe that every religious denomination, every club, every P.T.A., every grange in Multnomah county should be represented on the fair board, and it should be their duty to see that we have a clean fair for our children to attend. If the friends of vice want to tolerate such gambling schemes as we had on our fair grounds this year, let them have it separately and not on our fair grounds where our children, the children of the tax payers, have absolute right to attend. Please don't talk about taking the boys' and girls' clubs away from the fair. No, put the vice out of the fair.

A few years ago, you will remember, our fair was going behind each year and had lost the support of the people. The farmers, clubs and Parent-Teacher associations of Multnomah county and part of Clackamas county got together and agreed to help if they would give us a clean fair. I was chosen as one of the committee to confer with the fair board. We found them willing to do almost anything to make it a success, that is, they led us to believe they would, but when it came to a show down they paid very little attention to our committee, for they thought the only way to bring about success was to admit some crooked carnival company to steal the farmers' and farm children's money by some skin game and carry it away.

This committee, of which I was a member, is not all dead yet, and they can tell you how we were treated. We demanded no fair on Sunday and we were led to believe until Saturday afternoon that there would be none. Miss Ethel Calkins, our county club agent, remonstrated with the fair board, as members of the committee did, and was told they didn't care if she kept the clubs off the fair grounds.

Don't talk about quitting the fair with our clubs and various organizations which are clean, but let us make the fair clean and fit for the clubs and others. Start now. Carry this to the ballot box if necessary. We surely can find clean men who are willing to put this vice out of existence by refusing it the right to infest our county fairs and public places where we take our children. The children have the right to go there. We pay taxes.

For all the fair board did all they could to hinder us that year, we put several of their worst games off the grounds, kept the others fairly straight and had the cleanest fair we had seen for many years. We made the fair a success morally, financially and educationally and there was very little criticism of it that year and would have been less if it had been closed on Sunday as the board said it would be.

We had to put the saloons out of business to protect our homes and our children and we will have to change our fairs to protect our children. So let us hurry and not wait until the grafters walk off again with our hard earned money.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

NORWAY HAS NEW PROHIBITION LAW

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president of the W. C. T. U. has just informed the 600,000 women of her organization that the recent cabled news that "Norway has voted wet" will have to be revised in view of the action of the Norwegian parliament. "The facts are," says Mrs. Boole, "that Norway had a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of drinks of more than 20 per cent alcoholic content. This was by no means prohibition as we know it, for it permitted drinking of some of the strongest wines. A national referendum repealed that law, and resulted in the promulgation of considerable misinformation. The world was led to believe that this referendum was a wet vote; but as a substitute for that wine law the Norwegian parliament has just enacted a law which provides: Complete prohibition in the rural districts and towns up to 4000 inhabitants.

Local option in the 44 principal cities. Denial of use of the mail for sending liquor.

A national referendum on the entire subject in 1932. A special government fund from liquor taxes to educate the public against alcoholism."
