Published every Tuesday and Friday at Gresham, Oregon, by the Outlook Publishing Co., H. L. St. Clair, Editor and Manager.

One year, $2.00, six months, $1.10, three months, trial subscription, 50c. Combination rates with all the Portland Dailies.

ADVERTISING Rates reasonable. Our representative will call.

Entered as second-class matter March 2, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Portland city council has granted permission to Tex Rankin to name his airplane "City of Portland". He is to fly this plane in the New York to Spokane race soon.

An item in the daily paper says Sheriff Hurlburt on Wednesday ordered a band of nearly 50 gypsies camped near Forty-second street north and Columbia boulevard to move on and out of the county. That means they can't move out near Gresham and locate. Thanks, sheriff.

County Clerk Beveridge says there are many in the county who cannot vote at the congressional election for Multnomah county on October 18 unless they first register. The new law is now in effect not permitting the swearing in of voters and only registered voters can vote. The registration books are now open but will close September 17, being 30 days before the election. Those desiring can register before Ross Brown at Gresham.

Gun Club Shoot Labor Day. The Portland Gun club announces a Labor Day shoot, which really means two days, Sunday, September 4, and Monday, Labor Day, beginning at 10 a. m. each day. The program will be very attractive to shooters and visitors are invited.

The Portland Gun club grounds are located at Jenne station, near the Powell Valley road.

AN AVERAGE HOUR OF RAILROAD HISTORY

An hour is a relatively short time, yet within that brief period the railways of the country perform a service for the public, on the average, of amazing volume. Some of the work done in an hour by Class I lines is shown below, based on the figures of 1926 operations. It should be realized, of course, that these figures are averages, and are taken from "Railroad Facts," a year book of railroad information.

In an hour, the railways earn $728,251 from their transportation operations.

In an hour, the railways spend $532,678 in operating expenses.

In an hour, the railways pay $336,632 in wages. (Much of this total is included in operating expenses.)

In an hour, the railways pay $44,370 in taxes to national, state and local governments.

In an hour, 6,936 cars are loaded with revenue freight on the railways' lines.

In an hour, 152,572 tons of revenue freight are loaded into freight cars.

In an hour, 98,213 passengers board the railways' trains.

In an hour, the freight service performed by the railways is equal to hauling 50,689,328 tons of freight for the distance of one mile.

In an hour, the passenger service performed by the railways is equal to hauling 4,051,019 passengers for the distance of one mile.

THIS DOUGH DOESN'T TINKLE IN THE TILL.

Railroads made lots of dough last year, according to Allan Pollok, manager of Southern Pacific's commissary department, who says that all dough is not money in the till when made in dining car galleys. Preparing delicious hot cakes, tea rolls and corn and bran muffins while the dining car speeds along has been greatly simplified by modern scientific cookery. All the chef has to do is add milk to flour blends mixed fresh daily in the company's commissary kitchens by a series of ingenious machines that remove all guesswork from bread making.

"These machines," Pollok said, "work in the shortening and blend other ingredients with the flour in a dry mix that goes to the dining cars all ready to be made into dough. They were developed by our own experts to save time and establish invariable standards of excellence. Last year 550,000 pounds of blended flours turned out by these machines were mixed into dough and baked to be eaten by travelers.

"In spite of such efficiencies and economies our dining car service last year, aside from cost of maintaining cars, represented a loss of $600,000 due to the costliness of maintaining a cuisine on a par with that of the best hotels under the peculiar handicaps of operating a 'moving restaurant'.

AMERICA'S YOUTH SOURCE OF PRIDE

Fortunate the nation which can glory in the manhood and womanhood of such sons and daughters. The young people of the land have suffered cruel criticism for several years. Strange that when one of their number is forced to the front, we find him of the finest type.

Two young people may be selected at the present moment as representative. Charles Lindbergh, 25 years of age, has just been offered by the nation's capital the nation's homage. Simple and unafraid, modest and unassuming, his life has the cleanliness which goes with strength. In France, land of wine, with unfailing courtesy, he raised his glass to his lips—but he did not drink.

Possibly the most prominent American young woman at the present time is Miss Helen Willis. Superb physically, her qualities of mind and heart deserve no less praise.

Why is it that the young man or woman of outstanding character and achievement is almost invariably endowed with native good taste? During the war, Sergeant York, untrained boy of the mountains, forced in to the glare of publicity by his unexampled feats of daring, turned aside from commercial exploitation with the same refined sensitiveness of spirit shown by Lindbergh.

America's outstanding youth are America's pride.

DON'T LET THE MOSQUITOES BITE

Mosquitoes are found in almost every locality where there is an opportunity for them to breed, and the opportunity depends simply upon the presence at some time during the year of standing water. Mosquitoes have been more prevalent this year in Oregon on account of the late high water. The sloughs and standing back-waters are excellent breeding places for mosquitoes. Although malaria is an uncommon disease in this state if mosquito control is not given serious consideration, it will undoubtedly become more prevalent, says Dr. Frederick D. Stricker of Oregon state board of health.

The mosquito can only be exterminated by destroying all breeding places, draining all standing water and marshes, and oiling all of the breeding places every two or three weeks following high water. Three parts of kerosene to two parts of crude oil is a good mixture to use in a spray pump. One ounce of oil properly used will cover 15 square feet. Prevent breeding places by clearing ditches of grasses and weeds, and doing away with stagnant water. Waters which cannot be oiled should be treated with a larvicide. A good larvicide made from tobacco can be bought. Paris green is also used as a larvicide. In the proportion of one part of Paris green to three parts of hydrated lime, soap stone, or dust. This is blown on the surface of the breeding place. Bodies of water which can neither be oiled nor treated with a larvicide can be kept free of mosquito larvae by stocking with top minnows.

Male mosquitoes are vegetarians. Female mosquitoes are the biters. The females have developed a taste for blood, and indeed blood has become indispensable for the full development of their eggs. Remembering how all important the generative instinct is we can well understand why the mosquito will return again and again to obtain her fill of this life-perpetuating fluid.

The most effective means are those which destroy the breeding places of the mosquito and prevent their multiplication.

The estimated production of ice cream in the United States during 1926 was only 95,450,000 gallons, but for 1927 it was 224,655,000 gallons, an increase in 16 years of 240 per cent. The industry employs more than 50,000 persons and pays out in salaries more than $75,000,000 a year.

While more than 1,000,000 dairy cattle, out of 30,000,000 head tested for tuberculosis, have been destroyed, the industry is in better condition today than ten years ago when the campaign against the disease was inaugurated, according to Dr. John R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.
