Automobile Hints

TAKE THE HINT.

Are you a good driver? If so you will avoid the following all too common faults of drivers, even some who think they are safe and careful. These suggestions are made by Geo. O. Brandenburg, secretary of the Oregon State Motor association. He says the ten most common forms of bad driving are:

Driving slowly in the middle of the road.

Taking the right-of-way of the other fellow by taking advantage of his desire to avoid injury to himself or others or his car.

Driving a car that has squeaky, unequal and generally inefficient brakes.

Cutting corners and taking curves at high speed.

Passing another vehicle, going in the same direction, at the brow of a hill.

Descending a steep hill in high gear when discretion dictates going down in second or low gear.

Trying to beat a train to the grade crossing—even if the trick is turned successfully.

Parking so as to use up the space that might be taken by two cars.

Trying to pass a long line of traffic that is traveling at the legal speed limit.

Making repairs without pulling the car off the highway, or, at least, having two wheels off the side of the road.

POLICE DEPARTMENT USES BUICK CARS

The city of Los Angeles has paid a tribute to the speed and stamina of Buick by adding 20 Buick touring cars to its fleet of police department vehicles, bringing the total number of its police-owned Buicks to 65. The cars are to be used in general police work, as well as in supervision of traffic.

The decision to augment the police fleet of Buicks as a means of increasing police efficiency, was reached as a result of a year's test with Buicks, Captain C. J. Sweeney, in charge of the Los Angeles police transportation division, explained.

Tests with the Buick indicated that it could be operated with equal safety in all weather, that it enabled police to be constantly on patrol, and that in emergencies it would carry five or even more policemen to the point where they were needed, along with the equipment required to take charge of the situation.

I. W. Birnbaum, chairman of the Los Angeles Police Commission, believes Los Angeles' step is helping to make police history. "As soon as the news went out that we were about to make this Buick purchase," said Mr. Birnbaum, "we received letters from police heads in several large cities, asking for full information, and explaining that similar steps were under consideration there."

Waxing or varnishing is said to improve the appearance of linoleum and to make it last longer. Wax should be used on the inlaid and plain kinds and varnish on the printed ones, for wax sometimes tends to soften the printed surface.

BUICK for 1928

When Buick improves upon Buick—the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-slung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.
