

Pomona Grange Opposes Bitulithic

The Multnomah District Pomona grange at its meeting Saturday went on record as opposed to asphalt or bitulithic pavements on the highways by passing a strong resolution to that effect and presumably in favor of the concrete type.

The county grange, with Fred Crane as master and Mrs. Grace Exley as secretary, met with Columbia grange at Corbett. There were about 250 present and five persons were initiated at the evening session.

State Master Geo. A. Palmeter was present and gave an instructive talk. Mr. Reed of Lents gave a very interesting talk on boy scout work.

Franklin F. Korell and Elton Watkins, candidates for congress for the third district, were present and each presented his claims to preferment in the coming election, Korell speaking in the afternoon and Watkins in the night.

The meals served by Columbia grangers were said to be par excellent and a fine musical and literary program was rendered during the evening.

The following is the resolution pertaining to pavements as adopted by Multnomah county Pomona grange:

Whereas, it is the general verdict of the public who travel by automobile that all types of bitulithic or so-called black-topped pavements are very dangerous, and

Whereas, thousands of machines have been wrecked and thousands of people have been injured, the responsibility of which can be laid to this type of pavement, and

Whereas, public safety justifies the discontinuation of all bitulithic or so-called black topped pavements.

Therefore, be it resolved by Multnomah County Pomona grange, in session at Corbett, Oregon, that we go on record in favor of the initiation of a state law that will prevent the laying of any further pavements of this type within the state of Oregon and, be it further

Resolved, that copy of this resolution be sent to the Oregon State Grange Bulletin and also to the daily press.

Gresham Locals

J. F. Barnes and son James visited relatives at Seattle from Friday until Sunday. Mr. Barnes has a daughter in Seattle and another at Bothel, a few miles north of the city.

Miss Lee Dalling, a sister of Mrs. Herbert Barnes, who has been visiting here for some time, left Wednesday to begin her studies at Oregon Agricultural college. Miss Dalling's home is at Waterville, Washington.

All members of the Neighbors of Woodcraft are urged to attend the meeting which will be held next Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John Metzger.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Raker and Mr. and Mrs. E. Gilberson attended the Pendleton Round-up last week.

Those who attended from Gresham the meeting of Multnomah county Pomona grange held at Columbia grange at Corbett on Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hastings, Mrs. John Bliss, Mrs. George Kenney, Mrs. S. R. Kitzmiller and Mrs. Grace Exley.

Two babies made their advent into the world yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. A. Bushong. A 7-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bourgeois of Springdale. The baby has been named Donald Eugene.

Later a 7½-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Reed of Corbett. The little miss has been named Glenna Elizabeth.

Besides the hundreds gathered in local home radio parties early last evening other hundreds assembled within earshot of the more or less public loud speakers to get the fight returns. Evidently the most popular place was at Hor's Radio Electric station where the Atwater Kent radio, using a power speaker, rolled out a clear, strong volume easily heard for half a block. Men, women and children stood in the open area and many sat in autos and got a great thrill from the returns spoken into the "mike" at the ringside. The next largest audience was at Ed Metzger's store where the Pada gave the details with great clearness. Seats were provided for about 50. Quite a group gathered at Bjur's electric store where the returns were received over the Crosley.

W. J. Cooper went to Salem this morning to take part in the lay electoral conference to choose delegates to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. C. E. Rusher and Mrs. W. A. Winters.

Mr. Wise, pastor of the Lents Methodist church, performing the ceremony.

The couple was attended by Miss Esther Stilger, a sister of the bride, and Rene Simpson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mr. and Mrs. Cox will reside in Lents.

The wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Maybee, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Boltz and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayes of Gresham.

He will teach piano and voice (accredited) on Wednesday of each week.

Mr. Taylor says that the rebuilding of the organ in St. David's church, which was seriously injured by water and fire last March, is progressing very favorably and will be installed about the first week of November in time to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the parish which will occur Thanksgiving day. The rebuilt organ will have electric pneumatic action with all the latest accessories in organ construction.

Generous Gift Comes as Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Miller, Mrs. James Sterling and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair attended the sessions of the Methodist annual conference at Salem on Thursday and witnessed the presentation of a pageant given by the conference Women's Home Missionary society in the interest of the Portland Settlement center, which has been working under great handicaps for years on account of inadequate housing and equipment.

"This missionary enterprise is situated in the midst of a foreign settlement in south Portland, and 30 nationalities are represented. The pageant or drama brought out the great need of a new building which will be available when Oregon Methodists contribute $50,000 for the purpose, which will be matched by the same amount by the National Home Missionary society.

The climax was reached when it was announced by Mrs. William O. Shepard, wife of the bishop, that $20,000 for the settlement center had been promised by Mrs. A. B. Manley, widow of the former head of a Portland automobile house, to be available when the balance was raised. Ministers on the floor of the conference immediately pledged $3500 more. Less than $6,000 now remain to complete the project, and it is expected that this will be provided before Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Manley is a member of a pioneer family of Portland. She is the daughter of Hampton Kelly and granddaughter of Clinton Kelly. Her gift will make possible adequate facilities for Americanization and Christian work in a section of the city where it is sorely needed.

Webfooters Have Fine Trip.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillett, accompanied by Portland friends Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chaney, returned early Wednesday morning from a wonderful five-day auto trip through north central Oregon and the John Day country. They first went to Pendleton where they visited the Round-up for a few hours. The return was made through Baker, Mitchell and over the McKenzie pass by way of Eugene home. Tuesday they ran into the gold rush in the summit of the Cascade range. The visitors say that claims have been filed over acres of the surrounding country and old timers are hopeful of a fortune. Mr. Gillett bought back samples of the ore which are being tested by interested Gresham parties. The deer hunting is said to be fine in some parts of the state visited, a party of six men bagging a dozen deer 70 miles from Redmond. A fine view was obtained of the Three Sisters and searching parties were seen looking for the two boys lost on their slopes. Mr. Gillett says it is not necessary to go out of Oregon to view superb scenery.

CEDARVILLE STILL EXISTS, WRITER SAYS

In the question and answer department of the Monday morning Oregonian the question was asked, "What became of Cedarville, a little hamlet of early days, east of Portland?" The answer brought out the information that the name of Cedarville had been replaced by that of Linnemann, named in honor of the late John Linnemann, the first tailor in Portland.

However, in the Wednesday issue of the Oregonian a letter appeared over the signature of Miss Cora Giese in which the statement in the previous paper is refuted and correct information regarding the name of the locality is given. The writer states that Cedarville is a part of the Giese donation land claim, named by them in very early days, and now platted and recorded under the name of Cedarville. The station at Cedarville, the junction of the Troutdale, Mt. Hood and Estacada lines, is called Linnemann, but the settlement is not and never has been other than Cedarville, according to Miss Giese, and Outlook readers may feel themselves indebted to this authority for a conclusive explanation of what has been a question in the minds of many of the later residents.
