ARNOLD KEHRLI WEDS NURSE OF HILLSDALE

A pretty church wedding was celebrated last Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the First German Reformed church in Portland when Arnold Kehrli, prominent Gresham dairyman, was united in wedlock with Miss Margaret Fahner of Hillsdale, the Rev. Gottlieb Hafner officiating in the presence of about 25 guests.

The bridal couple was attended by Miss Frieda Fahner a sister of the bride and Anton Anderegg. The bride was attired in a gown of white satin with a full length veil and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. The bridesmaid's dress was of pink crepe de chine and she carried a bouquet of pink dahlias.

Following the ceremony a beautiful reception was held at the home of the bride's father Andrew Fahner at Hillsdale, which was attended by 90 guests. The dining room was decorated in dahlias and roses, while ivy and other greenery formed the decoration for the living rooms. A quartet composed of the three Raz brothers and Mike Frutiger of Hillsdale rendered musical selections. The wedding gifts were many and handsome.

Immediately following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Kehrli left for a two-weeks' automobile trip to California, expecting to go as far south as Los Angeles. The bride, who came from Switzerland in March of this year, is a professional nurse. She has visited a number of times at Gresham. Mr. Kehrli is well known in Gresham and vicinity where he has been identified with the dairying interests of the community for a number of years. They will make their home at the Skyline dairy in Gresham.

WEST GAINS THROUGH "EATING OF GREEN"

Western lettuce has wrought a change in the eating habits of the nation, according to Allan Pollok, manager of Southern Pacific Commissary department, who says there has been a tremendous increase in popularity of all kinds of salads during the last decade.

"Salads, in slight demand ten years ago, have become an indispensable item in evening and midday meals served on dining cars," Pollok said. "Where a dozen heads of lettuce was ample provision for the average dining car a few years ago, more than a hundred heads will now be demanded for the same number of meals.

"This does not mean that popularity of meats has declined but rather that Americans now desire a better balanced diet. It is also due to the improved quality fo lettuce developed and produced by Pacific coast growers.

"Last year we used more than half a million heads of lettuce, and the demand for all sorts of salads, most of which have lettuce as a foundation, is growing. Let me add that today most people eat the 'foundation'."

Wheat.

Portland, Oregon, leads all other United States ports in the exportation of American grown wheat; during the 1925-26 cereal year this lead amounted to 1,894,000 bushels. Wheat is brought to Portland from Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho and Montana. Due to a natural water grade haul certain sections of Oregon and Washington are granted a preferential rail rate into Portland. Materially reduces the transportation cost.

Portland is a large shipping center for dried prunes grown in the Willamette Valley and in southwestern Washington. Heavy shipments are made to many European countries with small shipments to the Orient. Shipments of prunes to Atlantic coast ports, by water, also are very heavy, a total of 55,000,000 pounds being shipped by water from Portland during the calendar year 1926.
