

Arboleda Club Will Open New Building

The Arboleda Community club has completed its new clubhouse on Powell Valley road and Fern avenue and will give an opening dance and card party next Saturday evening, October 29.

This opening is the culmination of plans started nearly four years ago when a small group of people, 19 in number, met and formed the Arboleda Community club, known as an Improvement club at that time. Building a clubhouse then seemed almost impossible but today those plans are being realized and even elaborated on. It is intended to dedicate the building in the near future.

The building consists of a dance floor with stage at one end, club room, cloak room, rest rooms, furnace rooms, kitchen and a dining room. Admittance to entertainments is invitational only.

PORTLAND ELECTRIC BUYS WILLAMETTE V. S.

The Portland Electric Power company last week bought the Willamette Valley Southern railroad at auction, handing Sheriff Maas of Clackamas county a check for $272,000.

The P. E. P. company held a judgment against the W. V. S. for more than a million dollars, it is said, for materials and electric juice furnished the bankrupt company.

The road is mostly in Clackamas county, running from Oregon City into the Molalla country.

RAIN INTERFERES IN HOUSE MOVING PLANS

Rain has temporarily halted the work of moving the Ely house on Second street to its new location north of the Bailey house on Hood avenue. When the rollers become wet, the house skids, and it will be necessary to wait for somewhat better weather before proceeding.

The building has now reached a point about 20 feet north of the intersection of Second and Roberts, but is causing various complications with the power and telephone wires while proceeding on its journey. The main interference comes from the house striking wires overhead and at the sides, and it has been necessary for both companies to remove their drop wires in several instances.

So far the telephone company has had to remove but one pole, that at the corner of Third and Roberts. It was broken near the center when it fell and will probably have to be replaced with a new one. Arrangements are being made to remove poles where necessary. Telephone service was somewhat disrupted this morning, as several lines were out for a time on account of moving operations.

CHEV. BACKS INTO WALRAD WINDOW

The Chevrolet touring car of J. W. Hudson was propelled through the $125 plate glass window of the Walrad Mercantile company store yesterday, completely shattering it. The accident occurred when Mr. Hudson cranked the auto, forgetful that it was in reverse gear. When the engine received the spark, the machine backed up over the curb and crashed into the large window on the north of the store. The damage to the window is fully covered by insurance. A few years ago a similar accident occurred to the building when a car backed out of a garage across the street and crashed into the front window.

Girl Reserve Groups Organize in School

Two groups of Girl Reserves were organized this week in the Gresham grade school and another is in the process of formation. Names have not yet been chosen but officers have been elected in two groups. Miss Catherine Moehtke, who has the music in the school and some of the 8th grade work, has oversight of the organizations and is advisor of one of the groups, which meets on Tuesday afternoons at 3:30. Mrs. Harold Richmond is advisor for another group, which will meet on Wednesdays at the same hour. Other girls, who come by school bus and must leave at 3:30, will meet at the noon hour on Thursdays, with Miss Florence Honey as advisor. Other young women who have agreed to assist in the work with the girls are Mrs. Melvin Brugger, Mrs. Chase St. Clair, Mrs. Fred Hoss and Miss Helen Rogers.

The officers chosen for Miss Moehtke's group of girls are Charlotte Johnson, president; Hallie McMurry, vice president; Lucille Jennings, secretary; Helen Lewis, treasurer; Edith Baker, reporter. Stone, Mrs. Clarence Cathey, Mrs. Mark Nickerson, Mrs. Peter Lenard, Mrs. Leslie St. Clair and Mrs. Oscar Noreen.

OREGON BLUE BOOK IS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Distribution is being made of the 1927-1928 edition of the Oregon Blue Book, which is just off the press.

In addition to an official list of state, county and municipal officers, the volume contains general information concerning the personnel and functions of all state offices, boards, commissions and institutions, as well as all federal departments maintaining offices in the state. There is also included much statistical data relating to the state and the various state activities.

It will be observed the form of compilation has been changed in order that there might be embraced in the smallest convenient space the usual matter contained in the biennial edition of this publication. This has been occasioned through a desire to insure the printing of the largest number of copies with the limited funds available. It is hoped that in the present form the Blue Book may meet with general public favor.

The Blue Book will be distributed free to citizens of Oregon on application to Sam A. Kozer, secretary of state, Salem, Oregon.

Echoes From State W. C. T. U. Are Heard

Mrs. H. S. Clow, president of the Gresham W. C. T. U., Mrs. L. P. Manning and Mrs. C. O. Horning, delegate at large, attended the annual state convention of the organization which was this year held at St. Helens, Oregon. The attendance, while thought to be not as large as that of the gathering held last year at Gresham, was gratifying, and the sessions of the convention were most harmonious and instructive. The meeting next year has been scheduled for Eugene.

Following are a few of the polished "sword points" which were let fly at random during the varied addresses which were given from time to time:

"Prohibition has been a football of politics."

"The time has come when no man can be elected to office who will not pledge himself to enforce prohibition."

"Alcohol is good in the engine, but not in the engineer."

"The south has always been democratic, but southern women will not support Al Smith."

"Prohibition a success in America means prohibition for the world."

"98 per cent of our federal taxes go to keep up war."

"Only 51 per cent of the citizens voted at the last election. The dregs stay at home."

"Our greatest problems are the control of habit-forming drugs, the cigarette habit and bad motion pictures."

"Never begin an important task without reading the 6th chapter of Daniel. Let this be our guide." (Mrs. Ada Jolley, state president.)

"As christian women with a boundless vision, let us hold fast and go forward for peace, purity and prohibition."

"We must get out of the book of Revelation into the book of Acts."

Mrs. Mary Mallett this year gave up the state presidency of the W. C. T. U., her successor being Mrs. Ada Jolley, who will be remembered by many who attended the convention at Gresham a year ago.

MATURED BONDS.

Second liberty bonds should be presented for redemption or converted on November 15 next, as interest on them will cease on that date. The department has grounds for fear that possibly a very large amount will not be presented, perhaps never.

The information has been brought out that on last June the U. S. treasury held nearly $50,000,000 of matured government bonds on which interest had ceased. This amount includes over two million of pre-war bonds, and $285,660 of bonds issued during the Civil war, many of which had matured over a half century ago, and $151,610 bonds of issues so old they had matured before the Civil war.

We have a surmise that some of our ancestors may have owned these bonds but we can't prove that we have inherited them.

Reformation Day Will Be Kept by Lutherans

According to the ruling of the General Synod of the Lutheran church, Reformation Day, October 31, and Reformation Sunday, have been increasingly observed through the years as days of festival for the Lutheran church and in fact throughout all Protestantism. Its leaders say, "It is fitting that this is so. For on October 31, when Dr. Martin Luther nailed his famous ninety-five Theses to the church door at Wittenberg, the Protestant movement was born. And something infinitely better than merely a new denomination or group of denominations was born with it. The movement known as Protestantism placed renewed emphasis upon ideals which had been forgotten.

"One of the most far reaching developments of the Protestant Reformation was the placing of the Word of God in the hands of the common people. It was Luther who translated the Scriptures into the tongue of the masses, and urged priests and pastors to see that every parishoner read and understood the Bible. It was Luther who conceived the recent marvelous inventions in printing to be gifts of God to spread His Word among His people.

"Luther is rightly given credit for placing the open Bible in the hands of the people. And the Lutheran church, which agrees with its illustrious founder in all matters of major importance, also believes that every man, woman and child should not only be given the privilege of using the Bible as a source of inspiration, instruction and comfort, but should consider it his duty to do so."

The Saron Lutheran church in Powell Valley is making preparations to observe Reformation Day with appropriate services. The pastor, the Rev. Enoch Sandeen, will speak both morning and evening.
