

Gresham Locals

The local W. C. T. U. is planning a gift day for the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis. This will be observed on Thursday, December 8, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Ott.

The Rev. B. F. Foard, pastor of the Methodist church at Fairview, has decided to make Gresham his home, and with his wife will move here in the near future. They have purchased a two-acre tract of Edwin Burlingame on Cleveland avenue north of the Section Line road and are erecting a small house, the framework of which is now completed. The change from Portland to Gresham is being made with the view of benefiting the health of Mrs. Foard.

Alex Gullikson and his sister, Mrs. Christina Humason, have received word that their brother G. W. Gullikson died at his home at Greenwood, South Dakota, on November 15 from the after effects of influenza.

The new culvert which was constructed a short time ago at the intersection of Cleveland avenue and the Section Line road proved inadequate last week to carry off the surplus water due to the torrential rainfall, and as a consequence a number of basements in the locality were flooded. This is the first time that high water has inconvenienced the residents in this district. Conditions are now becoming normal again.

Miss Rachel Headley has begun work at Hepp's Racket store as an assistant during the pre-holiday season.

A pleasant surprise was given George Webster at his home Saturday evening by a group of neighbors, the occasion being his birthday. The evening was spent socially and refreshments were served. Mr. Webster received several acceptable gifts. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Webster, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis and son Clyde, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gibson and sons Gordon and Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blom and daughter Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Locke Lewis and daughter Luella, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jackson, Mrs. Mary Kent, Mrs. Mary Lewis and Roy Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning spent a pleasant Thanksgiving in Portland, the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. Manning and family. Other guests were present for dinner from Portland.

J. De Young, who recently completed a fine new dairy barn west of Gresham, has now installed there a Myers electric water system, purchased through the local agency of the Hessel Implement company. The Myers electric water system has also been installed on the premises of E. W. Aylsworth on the Base Line road north of Gresham. In addition to supplying the Aylsworth place with water, the store of George Page & Co. and several families in the vicinity are served.

The Rebekah Welfare club will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Dahl on Monday, December 5, at 2 o'clock. The serving committee consists of Mrs. Ralph Davidson and Mrs. E. B. Kirkwood.

Mrs. Russell Akin, who recently underwent a major operation at Good Samaritan hospital, was brought home Sunday. She is getting along nicely.

Mrs. J. H. Sterling was the weekend guest of her niece, Mrs. C. R. Dennells of Portland. Mr. Sterling and children Robert and Ruth went in Sunday for the day and all returned that evening.

James Jennings has disposed of his place on Second street to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, who are occupying a house belonging to Mrs. A. W. Easton. Mr. Jennings will build on his lot on Ava avenue, excavations for the basement beginning this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Look of The Dalles were included in Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mrs. Look's sister, Mrs. W. E. Beagle. They also had the pleasure of furnishing one of the turkeys for the festive board. Sunday guests at the Beagle home were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pullen of The Dalles and Mrs. Charles Hill of Spray.

C. E. Kilgore, who was called to Gresham recently by the death of his father, left for his home in Los Angeles Saturday night, accompanied by his mother Mrs. J. C. Kilgore who will remain there indefinitely. Mrs. Kilgore plans to return home by way of Chicago where she has friends. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Kilgore and family will occupy the home of their mother on Main street until her return.

Mrs. Ida Snyder of Grandview, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Townsend and son Vernon of Corvallis and Mrs. Elizabeth Schneider of Woodburn were guests over the weekend at the home of Mrs. Minnie Brown. Mrs. Eva Quinn of Salem was a recent guest in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kruger were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Christensen of Montavilla.

Every boy in Gresham between the ages of 15 and 20 is invited to be the guest of the "Companions Club" at a party to be given at Bethel Baptist church next Saturday evening beginning at 7:30. Several reels of intensely interesting motion pictures, illustrated songs and talks for boys will provide a program of pleasure and profit for those attending. There is no charge and every boy interested is welcome. Further details will be given in Friday's Outlook.

Mrs. A. Hughes has been ill during the past week with heart trouble. While her condition is much improved, she is still under the care of a professional nurse.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. H. J. Pulfer Thursday afternoon, December 1. Mrs. H. L. St. Clair will be the leader. Mrs. E. H. Kelly will give a reading. The lesson study will be held in the latter part of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hopper of Seattle, who were called here by the death of the former's father, the Rev. J. A. Hopper, returned home last night. Mr. and Mrs. Burton Pierce, also of Seattle, are still here. Mr. Pierce plans to leave tomorrow, but Mrs. Pierce will remain with her mother and brother over Sunday. For the present Mrs. Hopper and her son plan to stay at their home east of Gresham on the Section Line road. Howard Hopper is employed as a messenger in the First National bank in Portland.

Miss Luetta Welling will appear in a violin recital Saturday evening in Portland in a program to be given by the Rose City Conservatory of Music in which she is a student. The recital promises to be one of unusual interest as numbers will be contributed by students of violin, piano and cello. Friends are invited to the program which will be given in the studio on the fourth floor of the Sherman-Clay building.

J. E. Schenk and daughter Miss Florence Schenk and Mr. and Mrs. John Schenk and family of Ridgefield, Washington, ate Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. Schenk's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Zurcher.

A Thanksgiving dinner party of 18 enjoyed Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carothers. Army Smith of Hood River, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Craswell and the former's father W. E. Craswell and Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and family all of Cottrell, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carothers and children of Portland were present.

Mrs. Dan Murphy attended the funeral in Portland yesterday of Mrs. Ellen Coburn, a former resident of the Cedar district east of Gresham. Mrs. Coburn had many friends in and around Gresham. She is survived by a daughter Mrs. Mary Frazier and her brother Jim Berry with whom she made her home.

Considerable interest centered at the county fair grounds last Sunday as the starting point of the walking race from this place to Portland between employees of the Southern Pacific Railway company and the Portland Electric Power company. About 25 left Gresham about 1 o'clock to make the walk in to Brooklyn park, the Portland terminus of the race.

Miss Eva Kirby, a teacher in Gresham Union high school, entertained Miss Luella McFadden of Spokane at the home of Mrs. Minnie Brown during the Thanksgiving vacation. Miss McFadden is a teacher at Garibaldi.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Elkington and daughter Jean arrived home Monday from California, where they saw much of the country throughout the length of the state and visited with many friends and relatives. They crossed the border into Tijuana, Mexico. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Metzger and the Bert Thomas family in Lodi, and with Mr. and Mrs. Hally Christensen in San Diego. In Los Angeles they called on Walter Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Burke were visited in Berkeley, and Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Bangs in Alameda. Mr. Elkington drove his Chrysler 2900 miles without the need of repairs excepting two punctures, which he cared for himself.

JOHN T. McCULLOCH DIES IN PORTLAND

The death of John T. McCulloch occurred at Good Samaritan hospital in Portland Sunday, November 27, as the result of a fall six weeks previously at his home east of Gresham. Mr. McCulloch was 87 years of age and had been in feeble health for several years. Mr. and Mrs. McCulloch were among the earliest pioneers here, having moved nearly 57 years ago onto their farm, which has been the family home ever since.

Mr. McCulloch is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annie E. McCulloch, two sons, A. H. of Whittier, California, and J. W. of the family home, and one daughter, Mrs. Laura Sunderland of Portland, also five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A. H. McCulloch has arrived to attend his father's funeral, which will be held from the Methodist church in Gresham on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Dr. A. Thompson will preach the sermon. Interment will be in Gresham cemetery.

Arrangements are in the hands of Gates Funeral Home.

Dr. H. H. Ott and A. M. Wilkinson enjoyed a week-end hunting trip to Wasco, Oregon.

Apples and Onions.

The latest weekly farm market review issued by the extension service of the Oregon Agricultural college states that good apples are in demand and prices have strengthened. Shipments of apples to November 19 total 61,149 cars being about one-third less than last year on the same date. The same report says that the latest estimate of onion production in the northern and western states is 18,000,000 bushels, or 15 per cent more than last year. Marketings to date have been heavy and prices have sagged.
