

Gresham Locals

A card party will be held Friday evening, January 20, in the show room of Brockway & Nelson, under the auspices of the Arme club. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. It is desired to have at least 20 tables on the floor. Both bridge and 500 will be played.

Miss Rena Stevenson of Portland, who formerly was engaged in deaconess work with the Methodist church in Gresham, attended church services here Sunday and later was the dinner guest of Mrs. Marion Johnson and Miss Elisabeth Johnson.

L. D. Calkins is having two bedrooms added to his small house situated in the Clananah addition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bridges have moved from their rooms over the furniture store on Powell street to their home on Lawrence street. They recently purchased a small house and five acres from Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gaskill. Mr. Bridges plans to put his land into cultivation this spring.

R. E. Cannon, principal of Gresham Union high school, with four students who attended the annual state high school conference at Eugene, returned Saturday evening and reported a most interesting gathering. In connection with the sessions devoted to the high school press, the student body officers and the girls' league, the high school principals, about 100 in number, this year for the first time held a conference at the school of education. Mr. Cannon reports this highly instructive.

Mrs. Johnson of The Dalles, who is staying with a brother Mr. Cook of Fairview, attended services at the Free Methodist church in Gresham Sunday, and afterwards took dinner with the Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Weintz. Mrs. Johnson came from The Dalles for the purpose of receiving medical treatment from a Gresham physician.

Word has been received by the Outlook from Guy Risher that on January 7 he took the examination required for appointment to Annapolis. If he was successful his appointment will be made by our new congressman, Franklin F. Korrell, as Guy is a resident of this county. Guy is in the music school at the U. S. Naval Training station at San Diego, California. He is working hard and will gain merited promotion even if through shortness of time he does not get the desired appointment this year. His many friends here wish him success.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pullen are being congratulated over the arrival of a 7½-pound son born to them this morning at their home on Division street. Mrs. Guenther is caring for her daughter.

The Victory circle of the Evangelical Women's union will conduct a bake sale at the A. W. Metzger store on Saturday, January 28.

W. S. Ferris, of George Page & Co., has purchased a new Chevrolet coupe through the local agency of Shearer-Iacon Chevrolet Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swales and small child have moved to Gresham and are at present living in apartments at the R. E. Cannon residence. Mr. Swales is employed at the Gresham Box works.

Mrs. William J. Telford of Portland was the guest Monday of Mrs. Walter Metzger. During the afternoon a number of old acquaintances and former associates of Mrs. Telford from Portland, Gresham and Boring, called at the Metzger home. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. F. Honey attended a meeting of the Children's Farm Home board at Corvallis last Saturday, at which time the annual election of officers took place, and the annual report of the superintendent was given. Judge Walter H. Evans of Portland was re-elected president of the board of directors. Mrs. Honey was elected a member of the board for a three-year term at the state convention held at St. Helens several months ago. She reports conditions at the farm home as very encouraging.

Mrs. W. A. Winters left Friday for a two-weeks' visit with her son Lyle at Los Angeles, California. The trip was made by motor stage.

Mrs. S. B. Hall was injured last Saturday when she slipped on wet linoleum in the bathroom of her home, striking her left side on the edge of the bathtub. It is thought that two or more ribs may be broken. Her physician may decide later on an X-ray to locate the exact trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Gilberson and their nephew George Simonsen spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Gilberson's mother, Mrs. Nettie Shaw, of Donald, Oregon.

Mrs. Carl Long, a former resident of Gresham but now of Eagle Creek, was received at Good Samaritan hospital late Sunday for treatment of a fracture of the right arm. She was injured when an automobile in which she was riding left the highway four miles west of Estacada. Mrs. Long is expected to leave the hospital today and will be brought to the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Miller of Lawrence street, Gresham.

The Spizerinkum club of the Gresham grange will meet at the home of Mrs. L. P. Manning on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. George Kenney and Mrs. Frank Hodge will serve refreshments. A full attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawatori and family, the Japanese who have been living in the Kenney house on the corner of Third and Hood, have gone to Turlock, California, where they will work during the remainder of the winter. They plan to return to Gresham in the spring.

Mrs. Mark Nickerson returned Sunday afternoon from Centralia, Washington, where she spent the past three weeks with relatives. She was accompanied to Centralia by her young daughter, Margaret, who was placed under the care of specialists who are still keeping her under observation. Mrs. Nickerson will go for her daughter in a week or two.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Todd and Mr. and Mrs. A. Dowssett spent the day Sunday at their cabins at Welch. While there they learned of the joint birthday celebration of the birthdays of Ed. Roberts of Welches, whose natal day was on January 16, and Mrs. Virginia Tuttle of Portland, who was born on January 15. Portland friends of the two to the number of 14 arrived Friday and stayed until Sunday afternoon. Birthday dinners were served on both Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday the party enjoyed dancing to radio music.

Miss Mina Gilbert has been suffering for the past week with a carbuncle for which she is taking daily treatments.

The Boy Scout troop, which was recently organized at Gresham, met Saturday as usual, their meeting taking place in the fire room of the city hall where they expect to convene hereafter. The organization now consists of one first class scout, a second class scout and five tenderfoot scouts. Several more plan on passing the tests later. Saturday the boys hiked up the butte where they enjoyed a treasure hunt. Assistant Scout Master Jensen, who had charge of the gathering Saturday, hiked out from Portland to Gresham, across the country at scout pace, making the trip in three hours, his gait averaging a mile every 12 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fall were given a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis Saturday evening before their departure for Hayward, California, where Mr. Fall will be employed by the pickle and canning plant, of which the plant at Gresham is a branch. The evening was spent socially, refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Fall presented with a small remembrance by fellow employees of the former at the pickle plant where he has been engaged in work. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fall, Mrs. Roy Fall, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis, Mrs. Catherine Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Locke Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Almon McMurry and George and Ed. Lewis.

Charles Landers of Clackamas is busily engaged in work on the Joe Gray house in Whitehead addition. The residence is being newly painted, varnished and kalsomined, and put in excellent condition throughout.

INSURANCE MAN TAKES BROAD VIEW

Gresham, Oregon, January 17.—Editor Outlook:—Now that the question of making the interstate bridge a free bridge has been decided, the state of Oregon and the state of Washington should take up the matter of making the highway for at least 25 miles on each side of the Columbia river a street beautiful, making it just as wide as can be up to 120 feet, eliminating all curves and grades possible, and establishing set-back lines as much as possible. These will be of inestimable value if needed but no detriment if never wanted. Get the most direct route through Portland, go in a straight course up over the hill in Oregon City, for the river street would be too congested for through traffic. There might have to be quite a length of elevated roadway built to eliminate the grade on the north side of Oregon City, but that would be a benefit to both local and through traffic. All streets from this time on should be laid out as wide as possible, eliminating all grades and curves wherever it can be done, establishing set back lines where ever needed.

Portland on the Columbia will be a city of 5,000,000 inhabitants by 1960.

The Wise Friend.

Once upon a time—and not very long ago—there was a brother and sister who had a friend. A very special friend he was, who told them stores about men who flew through the skies over far-flung spaces of the earth; of boys and girls who had thrilling and mysterious adventures; of others who had most unusual situations confront them, yet managed to come through their tests with steadfast and courageous hearts; of wild animals in deep jungles—how they lived, hunted, and died. Such a host of things did their good friend tell them of, and how interestingly he told them!

Came the time when their friend moved away to another town. Brother and sister were saddened by his going, for they knew they would miss his cheery smile and the wonderful stories and amusing anecdotes he was so fond of telling them. Then one day the postman brought them a letter from their friend, in which he told them he was sending them The Youth's Companion so that they would not forget him, and that in it they would find just the sort of stories they had so much enjoyed hearing him tell.

And sure enough, a day or two later the magazine arrived, and brother and sister found that it truly did have just such wonderful stories of adventure and sport and mystery, and just such jokes as they loved so well. And every time that a new number of The Youth's Companion arrived, they wrote a note to their friend and told him how much pleasure the magazine gave them.

You, too, may have just that same pleasure, or give that pleasure, by means of a subscription to The Youth's Companion. Subscribers will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—12 big monthly issues in 1928, and
2. Two extra numbers to new subscribers ordering within 30 days All for only $2.
3. The Companion's new book of humor "1001 One Minute Stories" also included FREE (send 10 cents to cover postage and handling).

Establishing Reliable Grades.

Idaho was fifth highest of all the states in the production of potatoes this year, with 24,380,000 bushels. In order to establish a reputation for a superior article, the Growers' Association will be shipped from Idaho except United States grade No. 1. That is the system which will be a most powerful influence in the favorable marketing, not only of potatoes, but of all products. Proper grading and reliable quality are absolutely necessary for the successful and profitable marketing of all products of the farm and the orchard.
