Board Favors Free Admission to Fair

Acting on a resolution referred to the general board by the finance committee the board at a meeting last night unanimously favored free admission to the grounds for this year's fair.

There were some serious questions raised as to the practicability of such a move. It was stated that the gate receipts last year amounted to very nearly $7,000.

It was argued that a fair was for public benefit, public money was put into it and the public ought to be invited and admitted to the grounds and exhibits free.

A free gate was regarded by the members of the board as a progressive step for the fair. There was no thought of lowering the quality or lessening the quantity of exhibits and attractions, but rather increasing both.

The board is struggling to overcome a shortage of several thousand dollars resulting from the 1927 fair, the amount of the shortage being closely equal to the amount spent on general improvement to grounds and buildings during 1927, exclusive of the new club building.

In order to overcome the shortage the sentiment was earnestly expressed by several members that this would have to be a "volunteer" fair, calling upon the citizens of Gresham and others interested to volunteer for help in the many services which have been an ever mounting cost to the fair.

It has not been determined what will be the character of the new building to be erected this spring but a committee, consisting of S. B. Hall, C. I. Raker and Theo. Brugger has been appointed to study the needs and conditions, and if necessary make a survey of the buildings of other county fairs, and report their recommendations.

Several important propositions were presented to the board at last night's meeting, one pertaining to an auto race course surrounding the present horse track and one pertaining to the development of a golf course to include portions of the fair grounds.

In the absence of T. J. Kreuder, president, on account of sickness, Vice President H. A. Lewis presided. Mrs. Grace Exley was present in the capacity of recording secretary.

WIDOW SOON FOLLOWS HUSBAND IN DEATH

Mrs. Annie McCulloch passed away at her home near Gresham on Wednesday morning, January 18, just a little more than seven weeks after the death of her husband the late J. T. McCulloch, who died on November 27, 1927.

Mrs. McCulloch shared all the trials and privations of pioneer life, for several years in Virginia City, Montana, where Mr. McCulloch was engaged in placer mining, and later on the 80-acre farm which was their home for nearly 57 years, which they developed from a burnt-over timber tract to fruitful fields.

The maiden name of Mrs. McCulloch was Annie Elliott. She was married to James T. McCulloch on January 19, 1864, at Clifton City, Missouri. She was the mother of six children.

With her husband, Mrs. McCulloch united with the Christian church at Damascus, and later with the Methodist Episcopal church in Gresham. So long as she was able she gave freely of her services to the church, and to the end was strong in the faith of Christ.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church in Gresham on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They will be conducted by her pastor, the Rev. H. V. Wilhelm. Dr. A. Thompson, a former pastor and long time friend, will give the funeral sermon. Interment will be in Gresham cemetery. Arrangements are in the hands of Gates Funeral Home.

Fairview Now Has Own Water System

Celebration Next Wednesday Night to Commemorate Event.

A well-known Fairview resident who dropped into the Outlook office for a chat a few days ago casually informed the force that over there at Fairview they had put Bull Run water on the run. When his listeners had recovered from the shock of presupposing there could be any other water as good as Bull Run and the Fairview hooster was asked to kindly explain his little play on words, he informed his listeners that over in the city of Fairview they now possess a 100-foot well of clear, sparkling, ice-cold water second to none.

On next Wednesday evening, January 25, a big celebration will take place at the Fairview schoolhouse to properly observe the completion of this water system. A program of interest is being arranged and it is expected there will be a good attendance. The principal address of the evening will be by Hon. L. M. Lepper of Portland, one of the most interesting speakers of the East Side Business Men's club and one familiar to many Fairview people.

The enterprising citizens of Fairview have reason to be proud of their recent accomplishment of supplying their town with pure water and of being able to enjoy modern plumbing facilities. Fairview now has every city convenience,—water, gas and electricity and is in a position to make rapid strides as an up-to-date town.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present Wednesday evening and help make the celebration of the water system completion the success it deserves to be.

LYNCH

The county council will be entertained by the Lynch Parent-Teacher association at the Lynch schoolhouse on Saturday, January 21. Luncheon will follow the regular meeting, which will convene at 11 o'clock. In addition to the business meeting, a program has been planned by the school.

ODD FELLOW PROGRAM PLEASURES LARGE CROWD

A large audience listened very attentively Wednesday evening to the splendid address which was delivered by the Rev. C. P. Gates of Portland, pastor of the East Side Evangelical church, on the occasion of the 151st anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Willey, founder of Odd Fellowship in America.

The Rev. Mr. Gates began his address with several stanzas from Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," which were then fittingly connected with the eventful life of Mr. Willey. The latter came to America and settled in Baltimore, Md., where on the 26th of April, 1819, Odd Fellowship in America became a realization. Six years later the order founded in Baltimore became the Grand Lodge of the United States. In eulogizing the character of this esteemed man, Mr. Gates said he brought to the institution the genius and energy of the great,—the humanitarianism which subsequently has built for the benefit of mankind.

Continuing Mr. Gates called the attention of his audience to the three links of Odd Fellowship, friendship, love and truth, and what these three emblematic letters, F, L and T, stand for in the lives of individuals. He concluded with a strong plea for service to others, for unselfishness in the daily walk, for fraternity in the truest sense of the word, and for the ruling of friendship, love and truth in the lives of the followers of Odd Fellowship as exemplified in the life of the founder of the order.

The meeting was presided over by Roy H. Gibbs, secretary of the local Odd Fellow lodge. Several fine musical numbers were given consisting of vocal selections by Miss Alice Prindle, accompanied by Miss Melba Sanders; harp and guitar numbers by Leon B. Caddy; violin solos by Miss Luetta Welling, accompanied by Mrs. James Sterling, and several Swiss yodeling numbers by the Luscher brothers of Fairview. M. L. White was much appreciated in his fine impersonation of the preacher who was entertained by "Sister Sorrowsful."

The evening's program was concluded by the presentation of 25-year veteran jewels to J. G. Metzger, E. F. Palmquist, R. W. Gibbs and B. M. Raney, the presentation being made by the Rev. Mr. Gates following some timely remarks.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ELECTS OFFICERS

At a workers' conference and social of the Methodist Sunday school held at the church last Tuesday evening, general officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Lena C. St. Clair, superintendent; C. E. Risher, assistant; Betty Thorne, secretary; Mrs. Vida Stubbs, assistant; Elisabeth Johnson, treasurer; Margaret Brannan, librarian; Vernon Kelly, assistant; Gwendolyn Metzger, pianist; C. E. Risher, choirster; Jackson F. Jones, assistant. The following department superintendents were chosen: Intermediate, Mrs. W. J. Cooper; junior, Mrs. H. V. Wilhelm; primary, Mrs. Jackson F. Jones; beginner, Mrs. Henry Sorensen; cradle roll, Mrs. Mildred Fancher; missionary, Mrs. Curtiss Johnson; home department, Mrs. Arza Smith.

The school voted to continue the educational support of a boy in Baroda, India. The school is also sponsor for an orphan in the Near East.

Miss Helen Rogers and Miss Amy Cooper had charge of the social activities of the evening. They presented some interesting games. Punch and cookies were served at the conclusion of the evening.

Church Services

PASTOR TO SPEAK ON "PROFIT OF LOSS"

The preaching services at Zion Evangelical church will be held Sunday at 11 preceded by the Bible school at 10 a. m. The sermon topic will be "The Profit of Loss." In this day and age of big profits the christian should take careful thought of the durability of his profits and of the fundamental law that underlies the attainment of spiritual and eternal profits. This service should be of "profit" to all who attend. Immediately after the services a special meeting of the congregation will be held to transact some important business.

GRESHAM TEMPLE SERVICES ANNOUNCED

Sunday school will begin at 10 o'clock at the Undenominational temple, and preaching service at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and again at 7:30 Sunday evening. Prayer service will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30. Beginning with the young people's service tonight at 7:30 the study of the life of the Apostle Paul will be taken up at their meetings. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

METHODIST CHURCH SERVICES ANNOUNCED

The services of next Sunday at the Methodist church promise to be of unusual interest. The pastor preaches at 11 o'clock, the sermon being entitled, "Your Ship Is Coming In." Most of us have waited so long for our "ships" to come in that we have become almost discouraged, and a word of encouragement is much needed.

The sermon for the evening hour is called, "The Demands of Christianity" and seeks to present the challenge of an active religion in a world of false standards and ideals.

The Sunday school meets at 10 with a large program of service for young and old alike. And at 8:30 the young people's hour of the Epworth League is taken up with the interesting study of that splendid book, "The Christ of the Indian Road."

S. S. SECRETARY TO SPEAK SUNDAY

The Rev. C. W. Anguish of Portland, district Sunday school secretary of the Free Methodist church, will conduct a service for the children and young people Sunday at the Gresham Free Methodist church following the study period of the regular session of the Sunday school, which will begin at 10 a. m.

There will be no evening services as many are planning to attend the revival services being held at the Central Free Methodist church, east 55th and Flanders.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNOUNCES SERVICES

Next Sunday morning the topic of the sermon in the Baptist church will be "The Birth of a Nation." In presenting this topic the pastor will discuss the meaning and message of the book of Exodus as applied to people of the present day. The morning church service will begin at 11 o'clock.

In the evening service the topic of the sermon will be "The Value of a Small Church." In discussing this subject the pastor will show from actual facts whether the small church or the large one is the better place in which to invest money, to develop christian character, to train for christian service and to influence the life of the community. The evening church service will begin at 7:30.

The B. Y. P. U. which will meet at 6:30 promises to be of unusual interest. Something entirely different is predicted for the young people's service Sunday evening and all young people are asked to be present.

New Art Classes. I will be in Gresham at Elizabeth's Frock Shoppe on Tuesday evening, January 24, for the purpose of continuing my work in applied art. Dorothea Short, Portland.—Adv.

JOINT CEREMONIES HELD BY GRANGES

Lents grange held its regular meeting Saturday at its hall on 92d street. The regular business routine occupied the morning session and the third and fourth degrees were conferred, the drill team assisting and tableaux being presented.

After the noon hour, a public installation was held and the officers of Lents, Milwaukie and Pleasant Valley granges were installed. Mrs. Thos. Millar was installing officer and Miss Kate Casto, of Milwaukie the assistant. Mrs. Young and Mrs. Hanson were emblem and regalia bearers. The drill team assisted in the installation ceremony and tableaux were presented. At the close W. L. Hotchkiss, master of Lents grange, in a few well chosen words presented Mrs. Millar with a gift as a token of their appreciation of her work.

A number of visitors from Multnomah and Clackamas counties were present. At the close of this meeting Mrs. Millar left for Clackamas county where she was installing officer that night at Clarkes

Potato Growers Meet Monday at Boring

A potato growers' meeting will be held at the Odd Fellows hall at Boring on Monday, January 23, at 1:30 in the afternoon.

The county agent of Clackamas county, John J. Inskeep, is calling this meeting to take up with the growers the results of some of the seed improvement work, and to outline plans by which the yield and quality of the potatoes grown in that section can be improved and more profitable crops produced.

ROCKWOOD

Dr. T. E. Elliott of Portland will preach in the Methodist church at Rockwood Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The pastor will preach in the evening at 7:30. His topic will be, "Every Day Religion." An invitation is extended to all to come out to hear the new choir and orchestra.

Grange when the officers of Central, Maple Lane and Clarkes were installed.
