State Dairymen to Discuss Live Topics

The Multnomah County Breeders school to be held in conjunction with the State Dairy association meeting at Fairview on February 1 and 2, is the first meeting of its kind to be held in this county.

Investigations which have been made by the government and the various state experiment stations over a period of many years have revealed some startling facts in regard to some of the diseases which are menacing the dairy industry.

The meetings will start each morning at 10 o'clock and adjournment will be about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The ladies of the Fairview grange are preparing to serve lunch at noon each day to those in attendance at the meetings at a nominal charge.

Dr. B. T. Simms of the Oregon State college experiment station, will be one of the prominent speakers on the program. Wednesday morning at 10:30 he will speak from the subject, "Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs of the Cow", and on Thursday afternoon at 2:15 he will handle the topic of the freshening cow and new calf.

At a recent meeting of the bankers in attendance at the Bankers' school held at Corvallis a resolution was passed to the effect that the bankers of the state should curb loans made to dairy herds that were effected with contagious abortion.

"Preventing Breeding Troubles in the Bull" will be the subject of an address by Dr. W. B. Coon of Forest Grove Wednesday morning at 11:30. At 1:15 Dr. C. R. Donham of the experiment station will treat the subject, "Sterility in the Female."

On Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock J. D. Mickle, dairy and food commissioner, will speak on "Needed Dairy Legislation". This talk will be followed at 1:30 by an address on "Pastures—How Cost Can Be Reduced By Good Ones", by Dr. I. R. Jones, of the state experiment station.

The State Dairymen's association is not a marketing organization. It is an organization for the development of the dairy industry.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested.

Fairview Celebrates With Fine Program

An enthusiastic gathering of Fairview boosters met at the Fairview schoolhouse Wednesday evening to celebrate their recent victory in the successful completion of the water system which has occupied the attention of officials and workmen for several months past.

Mayor Lou Harlow of Troutdale was the first speaker on the program. She expressed herself as much interested in the growth and expansion of the neighboring town of Fairview.

O. F. Cady, a former mayor of Fairview and now residing in Oregon City, with his wife drove over for the evening and spoke briefly. He assumed that few voters for Al Smith would be found in the audience.

City attorney for both Fairview and Gresham, C. G. Schneider, said that Fairview might well have a share in the rapid development which is predicted for the next 50 years for this part of the county.

W. E. Stone, chairman of the school board of directors, resents the way some people have of telling where Fairview is located, west of Troutdale and north of Gresham. He is in hopes now that Fairview will have a place of its own on the map.

In the absence of Mayor Charles Cleveland of Gresham, Councilman C. I. Raker represented that city. He praised the community spirit which exists in Fairview and said that now with modern facilities of water, gas, light and a good railroad system there should be no reason why Fairview should not forge to the front.

R. E. Cannon, principal of Gresham Union high school, stated that he made it a practice to never drink in public, although a pitcher of the much-praised Fairview water was in easy reach. He congratulated the Fairview grade school on its efficient management.

L. M. Lepper, prominently identified with the East Side Business Men's club in Portland, was the

LOCAL BASKETEERS HAVE CLOSE CALL

Union high won its fourth consecutive game of the season Tuesday on the local floor.

The score 20-19 speaks eloquently of the state of combat. The O. I. T. boys were somewhat heavier than the locals and were well coached. The close of the first quarter found Gresham leading, 5 to 4, with Okuda the sole winner of points.

Okuda showed much of his former dexterity and pivotal skill in this half. Lindrooth also played well.

Determined to lose gamely, the visitors tossed 11 points through the net in the last half, to Union highs' 4. They gained steadily until the final shrill of the whistle left Gresham ahead by but one point. This half was not so well played, although neither patrol nor ambulance were called.

Referee Al French presided.

The lineup is as follows: Okuda (5).....f.....(6) Rodunck Lindrooth (4).....f.....(2) Wilbur Squire (5).....c.....(4) Towe Satterstrom (2).....g.....(1) Manning Timmerman.....g.....(6) Ballinger Dowsett, Spath, Brammal Whetzel.

A game preliminary to the main event was that of the Frosh vs. the Faculty. This tussle, replete with frills, spills and thrills, was one continuous fun-fest from start to finish.

Garbed in colorful raiment ranging from romantic Hawaiian to barbaric mesomustachio the faculty, represented by Ownbey, Dent, Shattuck, Gowan, and directed by Coach Kruger, were opposed by Freshmen Herman and Harold Judd, Fall, Hayden, Exley, Barnes and Jennings. Although the faculty won safely by 27-10 they were constantly checked by the frosh, who played hard, fast and cleverly.

Incidents, such as Ownbey tossing the ball hoopward for his opponents, Gowan confusedly passing it to frosh forwards, and Coach Kruger's desperate, but vain appeal to Principal Cannon to "come in and sub," serve to show how badly they were driven by the dauntless midgets—Clyde Jennings proved by his fearless guarding, the possibility of cooperation between hands, feet and mind.

Tonight the locals go to Parkrose for a return match.

Berry Growers Pass Various Resolutions

A number of important resolutions were passed by the members of the Cooperative Berry Growers at their mid-winter meeting on last Monday, bearing on conditions in the organization and on legislative problems. The resolutions committee consisted of Ray Reitsma, F. J. Keller, A. L. Heacock, N. P. Nelson, A. Peier, Wm. Carlstedt, Ernest Johnson, Mark Nickerson, O. F. Larson and Anna Lehman. These resolutions are published in today's issue of the Outlook for the benefit of all concerned.

In addition to the resolutions the following communication is addressed by Manager D. E. Towle to members of the association who were not present at the meeting and to others interested: "Arrangements are being made by the management of the Berry Growers to secure a carload of fertilizer. Members who wish to take advantage of this opportunity must have their orders in not later than Monday, January 30.

"To those who have not been on the Outlook mailing list I wish to say that the paper is sent to you by the association under a resolution that was passed at Monday's meeting and will be used during the year to get information of more or less importance to you, and as this is the only medium we intend using we must ask you to watch for items of interest that will appear in the paper from time to time.

"The following resolutions were passed by the members present on Monday covering many items that are of vital interest to all of us and we will ask you all to read same carefully and cooperate with the other members in every way possible for the common good."

Outlook to Be Association Paper. Whereas, with a membership of nearly 600 it is expensive and slow to mail out letters to each member, and Whereas, for the past seven years the Outlook Publishing Co. has always been courteous and obliging in giving us ample space well located for our copy, and Whereas, the Outlook Publishing Co. has generously concluded to give our membership a special club rate of $1.75 per year, providing we will pay the subscriptions through our central office in advance and require our members to all take the paper, therefore Be It Resolved, that we accept the offer of the Outlook Publishing Co.

McNary-Haugen Bill Approved. Whereas, the past seven years of adversity in American agriculture have worked serious havoc, and Whereas, the burden of high cost of production and low values in the product cannot be borne indefinitely, and Whereas, the theory of the workings of the McNary-Haugen bill is to put agriculture on a parity with the protection now enjoyed by most other major lines of activity in our nation, therefore Be It Resolved, that we urge upon congress the serious consideration and speedy passage of this bill to the end that surplus production of any of the essentials of human life may not depress the value of the whole commodity below the cost of production, and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution signed by the president and secretary of our association be forwarded to Senator McNary with a letter of transmittal encouraging him to make the fight of his life to secure the passage of this bill with the sanction of the president or by a two-thirds majority of the congress as we must have relief or face financial ruin on the farm.

State-Owned Power Sites Desired. Whereas, the natural resources of our country are and should be the natural heritage of all the people, and Whereas, the Pacific northwest is richly endowed in water power, and Whereas, water furnishes the cheapest known power for generating electricity, and Whereas, electricity is nature's greatest and best servant of mankind in supplying light, heat and power, and Whereas, the fuel problem is becoming a burning question that is growing more serious and expensive annually owing to our timber supply being exhausted, and high freight rates on coal, and Whereas, the water power, being the natural heritage of all the people, is and should be conserved by the state for the benefit of us and our descendants and delivered to us at not to exceed 10 per cent over cost, and Whereas, we deplore the fact that our power sites are fast passing into the hands of private owners who in turn are gaining a complete monopoly of this our natural heritage and are charging rates for current that are well nigh prohibitive, and Whereas, this extortion is driving industries away from our local city, thereby restricting the local consumption of our farm produce, therefore Be It Resolved, that we give notice to the farmers and workers of the state of Oregon that we are ready and willing to contribute toward creating a fund to help promote the placing on the ballot at the next general election and promoting the cause of retention and development of our water power for delivery of electric current to the consumer at not to exceed 10 per cent per annum over the cost of production and delivery, provided a fund is subscribed of at least $10,000 to get the question before the legal voters of the state, and to educate them to an intelligent knowledge of the problem, believing as we do when they fully understand that they will roll up a majority for the conservation of this natural resource that will put state-

Church Services

SUPREME PURPOSE OF CHURCH OUTLINED

Realizing that the supreme purpose of the church is to help people find their way to Jesus Christ and the wealth of true christian living, all the services in the Baptist church next Sunday will be conducted with this purpose in view. In the morning church service the pastor the Rev. E. G. Judd, will speak on the theme, "The Meaning and Message of the Book of Leviticus." In the evening service the topic will be, "The Price of a Successful Church." These services, also the Bible school and the young people's meeting will be held at the usual hours.

GRESHAM TEMPLE SERVICES ANNOUNCED

Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock at the Undenominational temple. Preaching services will take place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening. Choir practice will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday, followed by the regular prayer service. The young people's Bible class will meet at 7:30 Friday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all, as a real benefit and spiritual uplift is being felt by those who attend the services.

In connection with the regular services a series of cottage prayer meetings will be held beginning next Monday and continuing for perhaps ten days. During this time a revival campaign will be considered to be held in the near future.

Recently the pastor of the temple, the Rev. S. F. Pitts, was called upon by a committee in Portland to begin an Undenominational work there. The time and place of these services, which will be held in connection with the services in Gresham, will be announced at a later date.

PASTOR CHOOSES UNIQUE SUBJECT

Services at the Evangelical church will be held Sunday morning at the usual time, 11 o'clock. The sermon topic will be, "A Square Man in a Round Hole." This sermon should be instructive as well as helpful to all, especially to such as are in difficulty or trouble. All friends are cordially invited.

The Sunday school will meet at 10 a. m. The parents of the Sunday school children are urged to cooperate by bringing their children and inviting others who do not attend elsewhere.

INTERESTING SUBJECTS WILL BE DISCUSSED

The topic for the morning sermon at the Methodist church, as announced by the pastor, the Rev. Halford Wilhelm, will be, "The Unencumbered Life." Just how much of freedom and how much of burden we need to make life successful, will be discussed.

Preceding this service of worship, the Sunday school will hold its assembly and class study periods. This is an important hour for everyone.

The Epworth League is continuing its study of "The Christ of the Indian Road" with great interest. It meets at 6:30.

The closing service of the day will present a sermon by the pastor on "The Man Who Built His Own Gallows."

Bids Wanted on Clearing.

Will receive bids on the clearing of three acres of land, more or less. A. W. Anderson, Eagle Creek, Oregon.—Adv.

Powder Explosion Hurts Four Persons

Mrs. James Fitzgerald was seriously burned and several members of her family more or less badly hurt in an unusual accident which occurred at the Fitzgerald home 2 1/2 miles southeast of Boring Thursday morning. The accident happened as the family was at the breakfast table and was the result of the explosion of about 15 pounds of black blasting powder which had been placed in the oven of the kitchen range the night before to dry out, and had been forgotten in the morning when the fire was built.

The force of the explosion was so great that Mrs. Fitzgerald was hurled eight or ten feet into a corner of the room. Mr. Fitzgerald and son Charlie were crashed through the door and another son, Bob, through a window. In the meantime the burning powder filled the kitchen with fumes, and fires started in many places. The father and sons soon recovered their senses in the open air and, hearing the moans of Mrs. Fitzgerald, went to her rescue. Mr. Fitzgerald was able to get her nearly to the door when his own strength was exhausted. He dropped her to get his breath and the older son brought his mother to safety. Dr. Hughes was called from Gresham and a Portland ambulance was summoned, which took the injured to the Thomas sanitarium in Gresham.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was the most severely burned, and the wonder is that she did not lose her life. The fire singed her hair from the back of her head and burned her hands, arms, face, neck, one ankle and one shoulder. She is suffering severely from the burns, the bruises and shock. Mr. Fitzgerald had severe burns on one hand and arm and one leg, on one hip and his back. His overalls were burned through. He was taken home last night but was returned to the sanitarium, where both he and his wife are being cared for. Charlie's burns were confined to his head and one hand. Bob was burned but not so severely as others. Both boys and their father received their burns when they went into the room to the rescue of Mrs. Fitzgerald. All are suffering considerably from bruises and shock.

Neighbors who heard the explosion and saw the flash hurried to the assistance of the family and the fire was soon extinguished. All the windows in the kitchen were blown out. It is considered that two young daughters of the family were fortunate in being late to breakfast, for it is said that if they had been in their accustomed places they would have taken the full force of the explosion.
