County Club Agent Begins Year's Work

W. H. Baillie, newly-appointed county club agent of Multnomah county, was in his office early yesterday to begin the work of club organization and getting adjusted to the routine of his new duties. Owing to the vacancy of the local office for the past six weeks, the work of organization will be strongly promoted during the remainder of this month. According to Mr. Baillie's present plans, the formation of clubs, mostly home economic, will be among early activities.

The new club agent for Multnomah county is a man of experience. For three years he was rural school supervisor in Marion county and in addition handled the club work which ranked first in the state. He resigned to accept a position as district club leader for Polk, Linn, Lane and Marion counties.

H. C. Seymour, state club leader, says of the new agent, "Mr. Baillie's experience, knowledge of club work and ability to work with children and adults make him capable of handling the position." He will be associated, as was Mr. Kinder his predecessor, with S. B. Hall, county agricultural agent, in carrying out to success the extension program of the county.

Nelson Home Has Small Fire Loss.

The residence of Milton O. Nelson of Hope Gardens, four miles northeast of Gresham, sustained a nominal damage from fire Sunday when sparks from the chimney caught in the shingles of the roof. A bucket brigade did such effective work that the fire was nearly extinguished by the time the Gresham fire department had responded to the call and reached the scene. Some damage was also caused by water. The loss is covered by insurance.

Boring Boy Wins Prize.

Emil Anderson of Boring, a senior in agriculture at the Oregon State college at Corvallis, recently won a prize of $5, the award of the Oregon Statesman for an article on spinach growing submitted by Mr. Anderson in the farming and industrial magazine section of the paper. The paper each week offers a prize of $5 to the student of any school in the Willamette valley who submits the best article on the current subject in the list put out.

CHURCH BUILDING MAKING PROGRESS

Operations are going forward briskly on the new Evangelical church rising on the corner of Fifth and Main streets. Work was begun on Monday of last week when the big Fred Christensen excavating machine in a few hours had the site ready for the foundation timbers. The following day the footings were built and the concrete poured on Wednesday, R. C. Frace having the contract for the cement work. The Gresham Plumbing and Heating company has the plumbing and sheet metal contract. The contract for the painting of the church has been given to J. R. Cassidy of Portland.

The architect of the new building is P. Chappell Browne of Portland and the contractors are Martin & Fuller, also Portland men. These contractors are the men who built the St. Johns Evangelical church at Sellwood, completed but a short time ago. Local help is being employed on the work of the new building as far as possible, which fact is much appreciated locally.

The concrete basement of the church will be first completed and used for worship until such time as the means are available for the completion of the entire building. When completed, the cost of the building will approximate $15,000. It is expected the place will be ready for services in about 60 days.

GRESHAM JERSEY ENDS FOURTH HIGH TEST

Mrs. W. H. Gibson of Gresham, has again tested the outstanding purebred Jersey cow, St. Mawes Suzette of M. L. P. In this latest official production test, started when she was 6 years and 11 months of age, Suzette produced 734.30 pounds of butterfat and 13,289 pounds of milk in 305 days. Her milk averaged 5.53 per cent butterfat for the 10 months and for two of these months her yield exceeded 95 pounds of butterfat. For five consecutive months of this test Suzette's production exceeded 85 pounds of butterfat per month.

This is the fourth record that St. Mawes Suzette of M. L. P. has completed and it is her second highest. The sire of this outstanding individual is Blossom's St. Mawes, and her dam is St. Mawes Beauty's Gertie.

Modern Woodman of America. Regular meeting on February 17, 1928, at 8 o'clock p. m. C. J. LUNDQUIST, Clerk.

World War Veterans Hear of Privileges

About 200 ex-service men and their families were present last night at the mass meeting held at the high school gymnasium in the interests of the World War veterans, under the auspices of the Salvation Army. The speakers of the evening were introduced by Mayor Charles Cleveland.

George Love, state commander of the American Legion, explained in full the benefits accruing to the ex-service men and their families under the hospitalization act recently passed under the name of the Reed-Johnson bill.

Carl Mosier, state adjutant, described the advantages of the Oregon state bonus loan and made it plain to the ex-service men that, though many had not taken advantage of the measures of this law, they were still eligible, as the American Legion and other organizations had secured an extension of time through legislative enactment.

Mr. Love in his address had showed how the adjusted compensation bond, which is the paid-up insurance of the ex-service men, could be used on which to borrow money, saying it was the only place where an ex-service man could borrow money at six per cent, repay the loan and have money coming back to him. Mosier, in comparison, took the state loan and showed how it also could be made an investment, not only to the ex-service men of Oregon for whom the act was created and put through the legislature, but also could be used by ex-service men coming into the state. These men who had not enlisted from Oregon would be obliged to pay a slightly higher rate of interest in using the loan.

Ted Johnson, commander of the local American Legion post, made a plea to the ex-service men to either unite with the American Legion or some other similar organization, as that is the only method by which they can secure the advantages coming to them. Of the 42,000 ex-service men in Oregon, but 11,000 of them are members of the Legion. In consequence of this small percentage, the Legion has been somewhat up against the proposition of securing extension of privileges under the state loan act.

It was also pointed out by the various speakers of the evening that veterans of the Civil War and of the Spanish American War were subject to hospitalization and were beneficiaries to some extent of the advantages accruing under this recent act of congress.

A million and a half dollar hospital is now under course of construction in Portland by the government, and it is desired that the men entitled to its privileges present themselves for physical examination and take advantage of its various benefits.

O. S. C. SENIORS HEAD COMMITTEES

Miss Agatha Harding of Corbett, senior in vocational education and Roland Burnett of Eagle Creek, senior in agriculture at Oregon State college at Corvallis, have been appointed committee chairmen for the Educational exposition, February 17 and 18. Miss Harding will have charge of preparing posters, charts and maps indicating the future possibilities of educational work. This is a division of the exhibit of the school of vocational education which is preparing a program including guidance in the selection of a course, mental tests for students and information for visiting teachers.

Mr. Burnett's work, in the farm management division of the school of agriculture will feature a model farm with all modern improvements. Charts and outlines will be shown determining the factors making for success or failure of farmers.

Vocational guidance for the visiting high school students will be given special attention, the college having made arrangements for the presence of visiting experts in this line who will be available for conference during the exposition.

Visiting "Y" Clubs Initiate Members

What the gathering of Y. M. C. A. classes at the grade school auditorium last Thursday evening lacked in adult attendance, it more than made up in boyish enthusiasm, interest and good will. Approximately 50 boys and young men, including the Friendly Indians, nearly a dozen in number who were all ears and eyes, listened attentively to the words of exhortation and commendation which fell from the lips of the visiting clubs, the Pioneers and Comrades from Portland, who inducted a class of 20 Gresham Pioneers and 12 Comrades into the Y. M. C. A. with the ritualistic ceremonial which is used the world over.

This inductive or initiatory ceremony is extremely touching, it would seem, and should bring out the best of a boy as he takes the solemn vows of defending his country's honor, its flag, its constitution, and the purity of the home. The entire membership of the two clubs was not put through the induction, but a small group from each was given the rites, this serving as a demonstration to the class of boys lined up on the floor facing the rostrum.

The Rev. E. Horstman, one of the only two adult members of the Y. M. C. A. committee in Gresham, was greeted warmly by the boys as he spoke of his interest in this organization, of the opportunity for christian and social development and for service in life. The Rev. D. B. Weintz, another member of the committee, was present and heartily endorsed the sentiments as expressed.

The visiting teams did splendid work in carrying out the work of the induction ceremonies. The Central Presbyterian club, under the leadership of Arthur Haulman, put on the induction work for the Comrades, and the Black Hawk Pioneer club of Rose City Park M. E. church, under the leadership of Howard Borst, had charge of the ceremonies for the Pioneers. The local Pioneers were in charge of Robert Barnes and Ellis Judd, and the Comrades in charge of Dorsey Dent. The Friendly Indians, of whom James Bushong is the leader, will have an induction ceremony all their own around two weeks from this time which is being eagerly looked forward to.

The basketball team of the Gresham Comrades club is tied for second place with the Multnomah Presbyterian and the deciding game will be played next Wednesday evening at Grant high school. If won, the club can then participate for second place in the finals.

Fairview Grange Installs.

The installation of Fairview grange officers was held Saturday evening in charge of Installing Officer J. J. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Ann Copeland, Pauline Buckner and Nina Langley were emblem bearers. Mrs. E. R. D. Hollensted presented Mrs. John Jonas, master of Fairview grange, with a beautiful handbag, and in a few well-chosen words voiced the appreciation of the grange for the three years of faithful service which Mrs. Jonas had rendered and for her assistance in making possible the new hall. A fine musical program was rendered during the evening, including numbers by Gene Chamberlain of Springdale; a violin solo by Miss Gladys Johnson accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Alice Casebeer; a vocal solo by Mrs. Vera Dixon. Lyle Mason of Gresham gave a talk on the subject of "Good Citizenship" which was much enjoyed, and O. I. Neal master of Gresham grange and Fred Crane master of Multnomah Pomona grange, also spoke. Fairview grange recently took in seven new members and reports a good attendance and fine interest.

W. C. T. U. PLANS ARE PROGRESSING

At the bi-monthly meeting of the Gresham W. C. T. U. held at the library—Thursday, the department reports were encouraging. Mrs. Wm. Thom was made director of the Children's Farm Home department.

Frances E. Willard Memorial day was observed by talks on the outlying possessions and the uses which are made of the United States' Willard Memorial fund in these and some of the lesser organized states. Oklahoma ranks first in percentage of membership gained last year and fourth among the states in actual membership.

Mrs. W. J. Cooper and Mrs. Florence Jones will present the anti-narcotics and S. T. I. departments at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lundquist on Thursday, February 23, at 2:30.

Mrs. Hattie M. Wolfe, chairman of the board of directors, called a meeting of the directors and any others who wish to meet with Mrs. Annabel Kirkwood the same day at 11:15, each woman to bring her own lunch.

Sunnyside W. C. T. U. has accepted the challenge sent to them by the Gresham W. C. T. U. in an effort to secure the greatest percentage of subscribers to the national organ, "The Union Signal," the contest to close March 22 at 5 o'clock.

Several Gresham people are planning to attend the national W. C. T. U. conference to be held in Portland February 14 and 15, the first day at the First M. E. church and the second day at the Portland Hotel.

GRESHAM BAND HAS CHANGE OF DIRECTORS

At a meeting of the Gresham band held last evening in Metzger's hall officers were elected and the resignation of Dr. H. C. Johnson, for four years past the band's director, accepted. During the time Dr. Johnson has had charge of the organization as its leader and instructor, he has been instrumental in seeing it advance from a struggling affair of a half dozen members to a full-fledged band of 30 or more pieces. His interest in its welfare has apparently been uppermost in his plans and has had much to do with the success the band has met with since its organization.

Dr. Johnson's successor as director of the Gresham band is W. D. Phillips, who has been with the boys for several years. He is a capable musician as well as being possessed of executive ability. Mr. Phillips will be assisted in his work as director by Dr. H. H. Ott, another who has at all times been deeply interested in the band. The band is planning to give some concerts in the near future.

The officers elected at the meeting last night are: W. D. Phillips, director; Dr. H. H. Ott, assistant director; Otto Magnusson, president; W. L. Gorsage, secretary; Harry Bjur, treasurer; W. J. Olmscheid, manager; C. O. Merrill, Peter Weiland and Dr. H. H. Ott, finance committee.

We have many cars obtainable on consignment, direct from the owner, which are not listed in our Used Car ads. Consult us; we may have just what you are looking for. Shearer-Bacon, Chevrolet, Gresham.—Adv.

Oregon City Quintet Falls Before Locals

(By Benj. H. Davies)
Playing confidently, and gamely, albeit with that feeling of futility that is alone experienced by the vanquished brave, Oregon City's first team by a score of 33-27, went down before a superior quint on the local floor Friday evening.

'Twas a battle royal and the hundreds of local and visiting fans and friends of the opposing hoopers who packed the gymnasium, received thrills galore.

Two seconds of play found O. C. scoring a field-throw by Douglas, the visitor's star player. This classy forward netted 16 points during the game. The first quarter was draggy, the boys from wool-ton outpointing Union High's men in both shooting and passing. Score at close of this period was 7-2 in favor of Oregon City.

Gresham worked harder during the second quarter, holding O. C. to two field baskets while making some advance in points. Satterstrom found the hoop twice from the foul line, while Squire and Timmerman each tossed fields. Oregon City still led, 11 to 8.

Beginning with the second half fire flew. Every local was playing and playing his best. Every member scored and so well that the gun found the tables turned to the tune of 18 to 11 for Gresham in this period.

Squire sustained two personal and two technicals in this play. Some boozing was directed from the galleries at O. C.'s coach, who developed a case of "nerves" during this and the final quarter when he persisted in protesting the removal of Finucane, O. C. center, who with Squire had been making wry faces at one another. Referee Stone ruled both boys off the floor.

The final spurt was a whirlwind of well timed and superbly executed plays. Captain Okuda was the brilliant, wry player of old. "Ole" failed to score as in former games but showed a willing ability for team work that spelled success for all the team. Squire, fiery, strong, careless and fearless, the key to Friday night's success. Satterstrom, steady and true, Timmerman, the team's new high note, "Timmie" heretofore playing a minor role, forged to the front as high point man. Spath subbing made a record equal to that of more experienced players.

Oregon City forfeited the last quarter 7 to 5 and the game 33 to 27. The visitors were a fine group of well trained, hard and clean-playing boys. They lost only because of having met a better team. In a preliminary game Gresham's freshman team was out-played by Oregon City's second's by a 21-8 score.

Tonight a game equaling that of Friday's in importance and intensity will be pulled at the local gymnasium, when Hill Military enters the lists in the Multnomah county championship final.

It is necessary for Union high to win this game in order to meet Salem high. Let's help the boys win by attending the game.

Lineup as follows:
Okuda (3).....f.....(16 Douglas Lindrooth (2).....f.....(0 Whiteman Squire (9).....c.....(3 Finucane Satterstrom (5).....g.....(1 Praeger Timmerman (10).....g.....(7) McKee Spath (4).....s.....(1) Merski S Cutler

P. D. Stone, referee.

Below is the schedule of games played to date and the score of the contending teams.

| Gresham | Opponents   | Score |
