Mrs. Margaret Kehrl is now entirely recovered from the illness which overtook her a week ago.

Mrs. Fred Hibbard, who opened the Oriental Beauty shoppe in Gresham two and a half years ago, is making this the closing week of her business. She and her husband expect to move soon to a new house which they are having erected on Kelly avenue in Zenith addition.

W. P. Hibbard of Eugene is here visiting with his son and daughter-in-law and doing the carpenter work on their house, which will be a modern three-room residence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Walters returned Sunday from a three-months' stay in southern California which has proved extremely pleasant, although they say they are glad to be back. The health of both Mr. and Mrs. Walters has been greatly benefited by the change. Much of their time was spent in Pasadena, with many fine side trips to San Diego, Long Beach, Riverside, and other points, with an additional trip across the Mexican border, without which a trip to California would not seem complete. In Pasadena they visited H. H. Ward and family of Portland, also Mr. Walters' sisters, Mrs. Eleanor Stewart and Mrs. Emily Arundel, both of St. Paul, Minnesota, who were spending the winter in California. The trip down was made by train and motor bus, and the return by boat, the latter a most wonderful ocean voyage.

The winter institute which was planned by the Epworth Leagues of Gresham, Rockwood and Pleasant Home for next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, has been indefinitely postponed on account of circumstances which make it impossible to carry out the plans at this time. It is expected that the institute will be held later.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Brockway last Sunday on a delightful trip to Mount Adams in a Dodge de luxe sedan. The route was by Hood River, where the Columbia was crossed. From White Salmon the road followed the winding course of the Salmon river, often hundreds of feet below the highway. Snow was encountered in the high lands, and at Trout Lake was about 18 inches deep on the level, though the snow plow had been through, and automobiles and sleighs had made a well packed road. Brilliant sunshine made the atmosphere warm in spite of the snow. Dinner was cooked on a gas stove set up on a snow bank and was served in the car. A hard crust on the snow made it possible to walk anywhere without breaking through.

The three Girl Reserve groups of the Gresham grade school are looking forward with interest to next Thursday evening, February 23, when recognition ceremony will be conducted by Miss Irma Hardin of the Portland Y. W. C. A., under which the local groups are working. Nearly 40 girls will become full fledged Girl Reserves at that time. Following the ceremonial there will be initiation stunts and two volley ball games, the first to be played by members of two of the groups, and the second by the winning team and the third group. There will be light refreshments. Each girl will be properly chaperoned and it is likely that there will be about as many mothers present as girls. The leaders are Miss Catherine Moshke, Mrs. R. D. Mickey and Miss Florence Honey.

Mrs. A. B. Wood, formerly of this vicinity, has returned to Portland after spending several months in California. She attended the funeral
