H. Baillie leader; Fairview Ever Ready Sewing club, Mrs. John Moller leader.

These clubs have been organized for some time and have been carrying on their various projects in such a satisfactory manner that these charters were issued in recognition of their proficiency.

W. H. Baillie, county club agent, has just finished presenting the charters in behalf of the department of agriculture to the leaders and members of these clubs.

County Club Agent W. H. Baillie, visited the Brown Swiss Calf club of the Brooks school Sunday and assisted the leader, John Boeckli, in putting on a members' school and judging contest during the afternoon. The Brooks school is on the Cornelius Pass road west of Linnton.

Mr. Baillie states that there were about 25 members, parents and leaders out at the meeting and that the afternoon was well spent. One of the features of the program was a sort of a question box game in which the club members chose up sides at their last meeting and prepared questions pertinent to calf club work which they fired at each other in much the same way as would be done at a spelling match. Mr. Baillie says that he was surprised at the number of good points that have been picked up by these members in this way.

A part of the afternoon was spent in judging different classes of Brown Swiss cattle owned by Mr. Boeckli, after which the club members and visitors chose up sides and indulged in a game of baseball.

The O. S. C. summer school will begin Monday, June 11, at Corvallis. Club boys and girls are preparing for the time of their lives. Delegates are being selected and provision made for financing their stay at the school.

BRIDGE MEASURE ON MAY BALLOT

The building of a peninsula bridge at St. Johns, provision for which is being made by the county commissioners in a bond measure calling for the expenditure of $4,250,000, to be submitted to the voters of the county at the primary election May 18, will impose no burden upon taxpayers according to a statement issued by the Peninsula Bridge committee. The increase would be but a scant half mill per $1 assessed valuation. The average home owner in Portland or Multnomah county pays less than $50 a year on his home. This would mean that his increase because of the building of the bridge would be less than 50 cents. Should anything happen to prevent his visiting his favorite movie house just one night, that would pay his bridge tax for a year.

No account is taken of the cost of operating the present ferry which is estimated at about $70,000 a year. This expense would be eliminated, materially reducing the tax cost.

Real estate authorities have predicted that the development that will follow the construction of the bridge will increase values to such an extent as to make the bridge a gift to the people of Portland.

It should be understood that the $4,250,000 named includes everything connected with the bridge; engineering, construction, rights-of-way, approaches, etc. There will be no call for more money.

Support of this measure means aid in developing Portland's great industrial district. It will be a profitable investment. It means more factories, more wealth, more work, more payrolls and more money distributed throughout Multnomah county.

This is the only measure that appears on the May 18 ballot and should have favorable consideration by the voter.

FLOWER LOVERS VOTE TO FORM GARDEN CLUB

A second meeting of those interested in forming a garden club in Gresham was held Tuesday evening at the library. A magazine article telling of the work of garden clubs in other communities was read, and it was learned that not only are such organizations helpful to the members themselves through the exchange of gardening ideas, but that they are doing many worthy things for the community, such as beautifying roadways, establishing parks, preserving shade trees and abolishing unsightly places.

After general discussion as to the benefits of such a club in Gresham, it was decided that it would be worth while, both individually and to the community.

Following a unanimous vote in favor of organizing, the following officers were elected: Mrs. W. F. Honey, president; Mrs. Marie A. Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Dowsett, secretary-treasurer.

The meetings will be held the first Monday evening of each month. Membership is open to anyone interested in the beautification of his own yard and garden and those of his community, on payment of the membership fee of 25 cents annually.

FOR RE-ELECTION

Judge Jacob Kanzler.

Judge Kanzler is now serving as judge of the Circuit Court, Dept. No. 1, in Multnomah county, and seeks the republican nomination on May 18, for continuance in office. Prior to his service in the World war, where he participated in three great battles, St. Mihiel, Meuse Argonne and Lys-Scheldt in Belgium, he was engaged in the practice of law in Portland.

Upon returning from overseas he became the first judge of the Court of Domestic Relations, from which office he resigned after serving seven years. During these years Judge Kanzler came into close contact with fathers and mothers of the community and endeared himself to people in all walks of life. He has always been most active in matters of civic improvement and for the welfare of young people.

Judge Kanzler was born in Franklin county, Nebraska, received his common school education in the town of Kearney, his academic training in the University of Nebraska, and his law at Columbia Law School, New York City. He is judicial by temperament and according to those who practice before him, "there is not a lazy bone in his body."

Being a candidate for re-election, Judge Kanzler should be given favorable consideration.

PROGRAM WILL HELP CHILDREN'S HOME

A benefit entertainment consisting of musical numbers, readings, and a playlet is being planned in the interest of the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis for Friday evening, May 25, to be held in the Masonic auditorium, Portland. Prominent Portland artists will occupy a place on the program.

Mrs. Eulah Mitchell Carroll will contribute piano numbers; Miss Esther A. Palmer, selections on the harp; the Telephone quartet, melodies; and the Camp Fire girls a group of songs. Dr. Stuart McGuire and Mrs. Fred Olsen will be the soloists for the program, while Mrs. Martha Drury Scott and Miss Helen Hembre will give a number of readings. "The Anybody Family on a Sunday Morning," a playlet arranged and directed by Mrs. W. S. Thompson, is suggestive of a line of pleasant humor.

All proceeds from this entertainment will be used to help build another cottage for girls at the children's home. This worthy enterprise is constantly on the hearts of many Oregon people, who believe that it is deserving of the deepest consideration which they can give. Tickets locally are in the hands of Mrs. C. O. Horning and Mrs. W. F. Honey.

CAPABLE, RELIABLE

Joseph W. Beveridge.

Among the county officers who have made a good record and are entitled to favorable consideration by the voters on May 18 is the present county clerk, Joe Beveridge. He has been a courteous and efficient public servant in this important county office for three successive terms and seeks nomination and re-election. He came to the office well qualified and has gained in addition an advantage of experience that is valuable to the county.

Mr. Beveridge was born in California and received his early education in the schools of Sacramento. At the age of nine he was left alone in the world, having lost both parents. He started his life's active work as an apprentice in a printing office. He worked industriously and laid the foundation for his future active life. He has held important positions with Portland printing companies and resigned his position with Bushong & Co., as vice president and superintendent, to become county clerk.

Mr. Beveridge will have opposition at the primaries but his host of friends will rally to his support as they believe him still capable and entitled to the office.

Local Men Form Corporation.

A recently organized corporation of this vicinity has the interesting name "Pickles, Inc." The organizers were Wm. Kercher, George Page and T. Fazio, president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Fazio is also president of the Columbia Gardens association. The incorporation, which is capitalized for $5000, was formed for the manufacture of pickles and condiments. Kercher, who is the process man, is conducting the work at a cannery near Seaside, where he has five men employed.

GRESHAM SCHOOL TO GIVE OPERETTA

"The Maid and the Golden Slipper" will be presented at the grade school auditorium Wednesday evening, May 16, by pupils of the grade school. Frances Cooper as Cinderella, Ruth Anderegg, the godmother; Irene Risher, as Cupid; Mabel Guenther, the stepmother; Margaret Ott and Marjorie Aylsworth, the stepsisters, Belinda and Henrietta; Alan Cathey, the prince; Clyde Lewis, footman, besides lords, ladies and fairies, make up the cast of the play, which will consist of two scenes of two acts each.

The music score will be played by Charlotte Johnson, an eighth grade student.

The story of "The Maid and the Golden Slipper" is taken from the well-known fairy tale, "Cinderella." The fairies are singing of joy in service and the godmother tells them of the sad plight of Cinderella, who has a wicked stepmother and two jealous stepsisters. They all wish to help her and the godmother tells them of the ball which is to be given by the prince and how, with their aid and that of Cupid, she intends to let Cinderella attend.

Cinderella helps prepare her stepsisters for the ball and she is left alone in the kitchen. The godmother appears and magically changes Cinderella's rags to a beautiful gown of yellow and gives her golden slippers, but with the warning to leave before the clock strikes 12.

At the ball, the prince, under the spell of Cupid, falls in love with Cinderella who escapes just as the clock strikes. In her haste, she loses one of her slippers. After a long search the prince finds the owner, and all ends happily.

Pickle Company Gets $100,000.00 Order

The whirl of machinery at the local branch of the Oregon Pickle & Canning company was stilled for a few minutes a few days ago to permit a long distance message from Philadelphia to come through plainly, in which a $100,000 order for pickles was placed with the California Conserving company, the officials of which were in Gresham at that time. The call was switched to Gresham where M. E. Wangenheim, vice president, and C. F. Roberts, general superintendent of the conserving company, were located on one of many trips which they make here in the interests of their industry.

The Gresham plant will be one of five to help fill this large order which has been placed by a single Philadelphia house. Between 6000 and 7000 cases of dills and sours can be supplied locally, but the sweet pickles and other portions of the order will have to be taken care of in California.

Inasmuch as the cucumber acreage contracts had been closed for this year in this vicinity and the latest order will practically clean out the factory before receiving time next fall, an urgent call is being sent out by the local manager for 50 additional acres of plantings. It is thought that this will take care of future orders even should they continue to come in on as gratifying a scale as recently.

Mr. Wangenheim, Mr. Roberts and Ray Luethe, local manager, made a trip to Monitor yesterday afternoon on a tour of inspection. Since then the California men have left by airplane for San Francisco. Before leaving for the south Mr. Wangenheim made a trip by air route to Seattle.
