

M. D. Kern Dies in Vancouver Hospital

Although friends of M. D. Kern had been apprised of his recent illness, they were not prepared to learn of his death which came suddenly at about 4 o'clock Thursday morning in St. Joseph's hospital at Vancouver, Wash., as the result of a second stroke of apoplexy. He suffered a previous stroke last Sunday and was removed to Vancouver to be near his son, Roy Kern, of that city. He had apparently rallied from the effects of the stroke and was thought to be doing well, when without warning he was stricken for the second time and lived but a short while.

Michael D. Kern was born in Buffalo, N. Y., December 24, 1846, and came to Kansas in 1870 where he took up a homestead. He went into the lumber business in Kansas in 1887, which occupation he engaged in for 32 years. He came to Gresham in 1911 and organized the plant on the site of the present Copeland Lumber company on East Powell street. He continued in business there until his retirement from active work in 1919, when he sold to the Jones Lumber company. In 1913 he built their home on South Roberts avenue which he and his family occupied until the death of his wife in March, 1926. In commenting on his father's death yesterday, Mr. Kern of Vancouver, who was in Gresham making the funeral arrangements, said that he had never heard a cross word spoken by either of his parents to each other.

The deceased is survived by three children, Roy Kern of Vancouver, Harold Kern of San Francisco, and Mrs. W. J. Hollenbeck of Twin Falls, Idaho; three brothers, Albert and Jake of Buffalo, N. Y., and Charley of Erie, Pa.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Henry's Catholic church, with interment in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of a Vancouver undertaking firm.

EDUCATIONAL MEET TO BEGIN JULY 21

The annual Educational Conference will be held on the campus of the Oregon State normal at Monmouth July 21. This conference is being sponsored this year by members of the round-table class, composed of experienced teachers, under the direction of Thomas H. Gentle.

The general topic will center around "Raising the Standards of Teacher Training." Many interesting speakers have agreed to help make the program one of helpfulness. Dr. W. H. Burton of Chicago University will speak on the subject, "What a Perspective Teacher May Expect From Training." Miss Julia Spooner, a class room teacher of Portland will offer some interesting material on the subject of no teacher having less than two years of training after 1931. She will also discuss the possibilities of four-year training after 1939.

"Entrance Qualifications for Teacher Training Institutions" is the subject C. E. Franzen, of San Jose Teacher college, has chosen for his topic. C. E. Howard, state superintendent of schools, will give an interesting talk on "The Tourist Teacher." Dr. C. A. Fisher, president of Bellingham normal, will talk on the topic of "Who Dares to Teach Must Never Cease to Learn." The last topic to be brought before the visiting educators will be, "Limiting the Certification of a Teacher to the Field of Her Preparation" by Dean Jewell of Oregon State Agricultural college.

Past conferences have always been of keen interest to educators throughout the state. This year's program, worked out by the class under the direction of Miss Agnes Matlock, Portland, chairman of the conference, promises to be of even greater interest.

Motorcycle Races at Speed Bowl Sunday

The big annual racing events and "doings" of the motorcycle riders and dealers of the northwest will take place next Sunday at the Speed Bowl track at the Twelve-Mile corners on the Base Line road. Racing events have been added, including bicycle races, foot races and other attractions.

Chief Tall Pine and his wife, Indian entertainers from Pendleton, will be there as advance advertisers for the big wild west stampede, booked for a later date at the Speed Bowl. A dozen or more racing events and dare-devil stunts will be crowded into a three-hour program.

Speed trials will be started promptly at 1 p. m., and races at 2 o'clock. Gates will be open at 10 a. m. to accommodate several hundred riders and dealers from other points in Oregon and Washington.

An added attraction of a ten-lap, three-cornered match auto sweepstake between the three crack drivers of the northwest, Dulan, Willis and Swede Smith, will wind up the exciting day's races. Gates will be open at noon and parking on the inner circle will be free.

PATERNALISM IN GOVERNMENT

Our forefathers sought a land of liberty and freedom. They sought a country where freedom of speech, religion and individual effort would not only be possible but fostered.

Relief for the farmer must come from the farmers themselves. They should combine in organizations to seek the aid which the government can give them. These organizations should undertake the solution of their problems. Organized effort of the farmers to solve their problems will win larger returns and greater satisfaction than paternalism.

CLEAN-UP DAY 19TH.

Next Thursday afternoon and evening has been set for clean-up time on the fair grounds. S. B. Hall, H. A. Lewis and Theo. Brugger are the committee in charge.

This is the time to volunteer your assistance, show your loyalty and assist those who are working hard to make the fair a big success.

Volunteers Are Needed.
Come next Thursday, bring tools and a pocket lunch, and help put the finishing touches to the grounds and buildings. There is work for all—both men and women, husky boys and girls.
Report to the above committee at the fair office.

INDIANS TO GIVE FREE EXHIBITION

People who never fail to find the Indians a source of much interest will enjoy a free exhibition to be given Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8 o'clock at the W. M. Bradley farm, a quarter mile east of the Twelve-mile corners on the Base Line road. About 125 Yakima Indians are engaged in picking berries on the Bradley ranch. To please their white neighbors they have arranged to play native games and engage in native dances, including the time-honored war dance. Alexander Morrison of Yakima will be in charge of the entertainment for the two evenings. The public is invited to be present.

Building Project To Start Monday

Plans for the improvement to the Methodist Episcopal church property are developing rapidly and satisfactorily. Nearly enough funds have been subscribed, including the $3000 annuity gift of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harrison, to complete the project, and there are still a number whose subscriptions have not been reported.

The plans call for the extension of the church 14 feet to the east and 20 feet to the south, the installation of a pipe organ, the building of a new tower and minor changes to the church, including the rearrangement of the seating, complete new lighting and ventilating system in the church and the building of a new parsonage.

The new parsonage will be set east of the present parsonage and slightly farther back from the street. The old parsonage will be moved to the south of the lot, facing Roberts avenue, and will be put in shape for renting. The church and the new parsonage will be finished on the exterior in white stucco. H. E. Holmes has been engaged as head carpenter. He expects to put a large force of men at work and rush it to completion as soon as possible.

At a meeting of the official board Tuesday night bids on excavating were opened and that of Fred Christensen of Portland was accepted.

The board also voted to accept the bid for rough lumber for the church of Copeland Lumber company and for the parsonage of Eastman Lumber company.

The ground breaking ceremonies for the new construction will be held at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. An interesting program is being arranged, the service to be held on the lawn at the south of the church, the weather permitting. Several former pastors of the church are expected, and it is hoped that many of the friends of the church will also be present. This service will take the place of the regular evening service.

The morning services will be as usual. The Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock, and the morning worship is one hour later. The sermon for Sunday morning will be "The Forgotten Factor."

Church Services

FAREWELL SERMON TO BE PREACHED SUNDAY

The Rev. B. J. Yates, pastor of the Free Methodist church, will preach his farewell sermon for this conference year Sunday at 11 o'clock. Mr. Yates came to the local church in April to fill out the unexpired portion of the year, caused by the removal of the former pastor to a different church affiliation.

The Oregon annual conference of the church will begin next Wednesday, July 18, on the permanent campground between Portland and Beaverton, to continue five days. At the close of the conference, the regular campmeeting will be held, to last until the evening of July 29.

The regular services will be held Sunday with Sunday school at 10 o'clock, preaching at 11, young people's meeting at 7 p. m., and preaching at 8 o'clock. All are welcome to these services.

"TRUTH" TO BE TOPIC OF SUNDAY SERMON

Services of divine worship will be held at the Evangelical church Sunday at 11 a. m. preceded by the Bible school at 10. The pastor, the Rev. E. Horstmann, will speak on the subject: "Kindness Plus Truth." We hear so much about "polite fibs" that we hasten to say that a polite fib is neither truth nor kindness, nor can it, in a true sense, be politeness. The cultural soul does not forget or neglect the truth in its kindly ministrations.

The junior league will hold an outdoor meeting Sunday afternoon. Friends are welcome.

The Sunshine club will meet with Miss Ilse Schwedler Tuesday, July 17, between 6 and 7 o'clock. A feature of the evening's pleasure will be a wienie roast. A short business session will follow. As this is an important meeting, all members are requested to be present.

BAPTIST PULPIT TO BE SUPPLIED SUNDAY

The Rev. Andrew Johnson, former pastor of the Haley Baptist church, will supply the Bethel Baptist pulpit Sunday. The service beginning at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "The Conversion of Paul." Bible school will convene at 9:45. No service will be held in the evening.

Liver can be broiled in the gas oven. Cook it from 8 to 10 minutes, turning frequently. When done, sprinkle with salt and pepper, pour melted butter over it and serve piping hot.

FAIR NOTES

Domestic Science Exhibit Promising; Fair Notes

Telephone calls are coming in rapidly inquiring as to entries, according to Mrs. Pearl Mack, superintendent of the domestic science department of the county fair, and indications are for a fine exhibit in that division. The display will be seen again in the boys' and girls' club buildings which is being placed in spick and span condition for the textile and baking exhibits.

No department of the county fair is of more interest than this one. Not only are the ladies drawn to this part of the fair grounds as if by magic, to view the fine specimens of handwork and the needlecraft art, but men too are seen loitering around, admiring the many beautiful articles on exhibition. Occasionally men enter pieces of fancy work in competition for prizes, but for the most part this is left to the ladies of the county.

The Kerr Glass Manufacturing corporation of Sand Springs, Okla., is generously offering 12 dozen Economy glass jars as prizes in various departments. They are: three dozen Economy jars for the best display of any food products packed in Kerr Economy jars; three dozen Kerr wide-mouth Mason quart jars for the best display of vegetables packed in Kerr wide-mouth Mason jars; three dozen Kerr Mason quart jars for the best display of fruit packed in Kerr Mason jars; three dozen wide-mouth Mason quart jars for the best display of any food packed in any kind of Kerr jar.

Mrs. P. E. Brockway will assist Mrs. Mack in her work in this department.

Among the other beautiful prizes for the child clinic are three large colored photos and nine untinted photos. These will be made by the Granada studio for some of the prize winners. I. K. Beam, manager of the studio, is something of a baby specialist in his line, in fact would rather make baby pictures than anything else he knows of, and is much interested in the clinic as conducted by Mrs. Mabel Korstad. To make this year a big success, Mr. Beam is going to give every baby entered in the contest a photo in a folder. This will apply regardless of the number of children entered, 50 or 150. This photo will make a nice souvenir for the mothers. Among the prizes for the preschool age clinic is a beautiful canary and cage, given by the Rutledge Seed & Floral company. The baby clinic will be held from 9 to 3 o'clock Friday, July 27, and the prizes will be awarded the following day at noon.

Important scenes on the fair ground are this year to be reproduced by the local photographer, W. W. Siemens, not only for his commercial advantages, but for the purpose of having available the many pictures of interest in every section with a fair of this kind. It is Mr. Siemens' intention to reproduce these for use as stereopticon slides. Also many of them will be printed for display in his studio on Main street. The films can be duplicated at any time for those who desire them.

The next general meeting of the fair board, superintendents and committee chairman will be held at the fair office next Thursday night, July 19. A full attendance is necessary. At last night's meeting there was a good representation and the reports indicated enthusiasm and encouraging progress.

Fred Crane, in charge of grange and agricultural exhibits reports that eight of the nine granges of the county are planning to make booth displays at the fair this year. They will occupy the west side of the agricultural pavilion. It is expected to have a large honey display and a good agricultural exhibit. Mr. Crane is working hard and asks the cooperation of all who can enter displays in his department.

Mr. Baillie says the club boys and girls are coming through in full force.

Mrs. E. M. Stone, Route 2, Troutdale, superintendent of the department, is working hard to make this attractive exhibit up to the record. She finds it is between seasons for flowers but many are promising their best. Flower growers are urged to give her a big lift.

Mr. Fleming will have charge of the decoration of fair grounds and buildings and promises something strikingly beautiful in this line.

Ed Aylsworth was the right man to send over to get the Jantzen bathing beauties. They will be on the program Friday night.

C. E. Marsh, in charge of concessions will be on the fair grounds beginning next Monday. Concession space is selling rapidly and will soon be hard to get, it is reported.

The ladies of the Evangelical Women's Union will serve noon and evening meals and lunches, sandwiches, etc., at the Evangelical church at Fifth and Main during the fair week. A nice, cool, clean place to eat.

For information about the fair call the fair grounds phone 1251.

The Grand Old Man of Willamette Valley

(By W. W. Williams)
The Oregon Voter in a recent issue pays deserved tribute to J. K. Weatherford of Albany for his 43 years of service on the Albany school board and a quarter century of service on the board of regents of Oregon State Agricultural college. He is approaching his four score years.

The writer has had the pleasure of serving him as an expert in handwriting in numerous cases in court and each trip adds to the admiration and esteem of the Grand Old Man of the Willamette valley. What a difference in the pleasure of service with J. K. Weatherford as a client and a shyster lawyer who resorts to every petty trick whether it be truthful, ethical or professional. It has been a conundrum to me to understand why the judges on the bench condone the methods of the shyster and how the public can continue their patronage. In a recent important case the attorney was drunk most of the time and his interpretation of the law would cause Blackstone to turn in his last resting place. This man is now in the penitentiary but only after he had outraged public decency and robbed his clients for a number of years. The Oregon Voter renders service to humanity when it places the life and work of J. K. Weatherford before the younger generation as a fitting and worthy example for them to emulate.

His contribution to practical education cannot be measured in years of service but the increased efficiency of the thousands of pupils of the Albany schools and Oregon Agricultural college will be an enduring monument.

Here is a little contribution from him to the readers of the Outlook. I was called to examine a document on the last graduation day at Corvallis. Upon the return of J. K. Weatherford from the graduation exercises I asked him if so much work and excitement and responsibility did not make him nervous and weary.

His answer contains some good philosophy. With a gracious smile he replied, "I never allow myself to become nervous or excited."

Here's to the Grand Old Man of the Willamette valley, who is a friend to everybody and everybody's friend.

ADV. READER SHOWS MUCH CARELESSNESS
Editor Outlook:—As a pleasantry and an example of carelessness in reading advertisements, I am giving an incident which came to my attention a day or two ago.

A person came to my house inquiring for someone who had advertised cherries for sale. When asked where the place was he said it was 1 1/4 miles up the Heiney road from Linnemann junction. When asked the name of the advertiser he said it was just signed "A Preacher."

We looked up the adv. in the Oregonian and found that one of our neighbors had advertised cherries for sale, "come and pick them yourselves," giving phone number. Just below this another neighbor had advertised berries for sale and also said "come and pick them yourselves." This adv. was signed A. Peacher.

My advice is, be careful how you read, and don't go to the wrong place for the preacher's sake.
