

LAUREL ACRES

Roy L. Cochran visited relatives at Kennewick, Washington, recently. During his absence Mrs. Cochran and son Leland were at the home of Mrs. Cochran's mother, Mrs. Emma Gregson of Boring. Last week Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Cochran and daughter Lorene of Grangeville, Idaho, and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cochran, accompanied by their son Arnold of Kennewick, spent several days with their brother Roy and family of this vicinity.

An automobile accident, in which John Balik of Laurel Acres and Karl Rosen of Portland figured, occurred at the entrance of the driveway of Mr. Balik a few days since. Apparently Mr. Balik was turning to enter his driveway when Mr. Rosen, not seeing a signal cut into the car. It is not known whether blame can be attached to any one. Mr. Balik was slightly injured and the lady in the other car was bruised and cut sufficiently to require the attention of a physician. Both cars were damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Whalley of Chico, Calif., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards. Mrs. Whalley is a niece of Mr. Edwards. Mr. Whalley is manager of the Woolworth store at Chico. During their usual visit north in summer, Mr. and Mrs. Whalley have visited friends in Hillsboro and Portland. They will spend a week at Diamond lake before their return to Chico.

Miss Corinne Combs of Eugene is visiting her aunt, Mrs. George Fortner. Miss Corinne is a senior in Eugene high school and plays the bass viol in the university and high school orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Patterson spent the week-end with friends at Newport, Oregon.

Mrs. Charles P. Edwards had as her house guest last week Mrs. Edgar Venable of West Timber. Mrs. Venable attended the county fair at Gresham while in the vicinity.

POWELL VALLEY

Miss Elsie Mattson returned Friday from Chinook and other north beaches of Washington where she has been for the past two months. She was accompanied home by Miss Helen Williams of Chinook who will spend a few weeks at the Mattson home. Her brother, Howard Williams, was a visitor in Powell Valley recently.

Miss Alice Ekstrom returned Sunday of last week from a three-weeks trip to Grandview and Seattle, Wash., and Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. She entertained Miss Mildred Slocum of Portland at her home Sunday.

HALEY MAN PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Johan S. Bloomquist, aged 74, died at his home near Haley station Saturday, July 28, after an illness extending over many months from heart complications. He is survived by a brother, the Rev. Wilhelm S. Bloomquist, of Iron Mountain, Mich., who arrived Friday.

Funeral services in charge of the Rev. John S. Nordell were held at Haley Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member, were held this afternoon. Interment was in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Arrangements were in the hands of Gates Funeral Home.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 7

Mr. and Mrs. George McDermott and daughter Evelyn of Santa Monica, Calif., who have spent the past three weeks visiting at the home of Mr. McDermott's sister, Mrs. S. B. Hall, left for home Thursday morning. During their visit here they motored to Vancouver, B. C., around the Mt. Hood Loop highway, to Seaside and the Tillamook beaches.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Crane, who conduct the Crane auto camp, report many auto tourists these warm days. Cars bearing license plates from practically every state in the Union and one from Panama have registered at this camp. However, California cars are in the majority. Nick Debentill has resingled and repainted both the house and barn on his farm on the Sandy road.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Steel and grandson Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Hofman and sons Leonard and Kenneth of Portland were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Millar.

When farmers are in doubt as to what fertilizers are best for vegetable growing in their locality, it is better to send details concerning the soil and nature of previous crops than to send a soil sample for analysis to the experiment station, says A. G. Bouquet in a recent bulletin, "The Farm Vegetable Garden."

Hardly Worth While

Fault finding is an easy habit to acquire. No talent, no brains, no character, no education is needed to establish yourself as a grumbler, and the rewards are usually commensurate with the investment.—Grit.

Fishing Stories

Fish with hands have been discovered in the South Seas. This it is believed, were developed telling other fish how big the fellow was they got away from.

PLEASANT HOME

The revival services at the Pleasant Home Baptist church will open Sunday evening with the pastor, the Rev. Gordon Johnson in charge. The Rev. William Fairweather will arrive Monday and remain during the series of meetings, which is planned for two weeks. Special musical numbers are being planned for each evening and will be announced in a later issue. Weather permitting, the services will be held out of doors on the west side of the church building. All in the community are cordially invited to attend and help in any way possible toward the success of these services.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Nelson were among the residents of this community who attended the Pioneer's association in Jonsrud's grove last Sunday. A large crowd was in attendance, and a very enjoyable time was spent. The most important event of the day was the crowning of Grandma Brunns queen of the day. She is one of the oldest of the pioneers of the Sandy section. She had her spinning wheel and spun a few strands of yarn from the carded wool, which was a very interesting sight to the younger members present.

Mrs. Sadie Chase is entertaining her only brother and his wife from Miami, Florida. They were victims of the hurricane and flood which caused so much damage to that part of the country. Other guests at the Chase home over Sunday were Mrs. Susie Raymond of Portland and Mrs. Anna Miles and daughters Anna and Lois of Salem.

Mrs. Emma Waybill is in the Portland sanitarium where she was operated upon a week ago. Her condition is reported to be very good.

Mrs. Grace Inman, who has been a guest of her niece, Mrs. Kenneth Lauderback the past six weeks, returned to her home in Portland last Friday.

Shining Example of Art "Made to Order"

A painter in Raphael's or Titian's time, must have been a singularly unartistic person, judged by modern standards. He generally began his career as an apprentice, grinding colors and stretching canvases or preparing panels for some eminent employer. Later, he was allowed to work on the less important portions of his master's works, and still later, he opened a studio of his own. But he didn't call it a studio. It was a shop, equipped to turn out art by the piece or on time. Its proprietor was ready and willing to furnish whatever was wanted, from a sign for another shop to the ceiling of a chapel. His main concern was to please his customers, make as much money as possible, and turn out a good job. Any true sense, is almost as involuntary a process as the growth of a man's hair or the coloring of his eyes, he managed, in the course of a busy life, to stamp his work with an individuality before which we still stand in admiration. Haydn ground out over a hundred symphonies because his chief job, under Prince Esterhazy, was to furnish symphonies; Bach wrote his church cantatas because he would have lost his job if he hadn't. Mozart wrote his Requiem mass because a customer came along who wanted one. Shakespeare wrote his plays because the stock company he was working for needed things to act.—Vanity Fair Magazine.

Embroidery Art Goes Far Back in History

The making of embroidery was an established industry in China centuries before the visit of Marco Polo. The earliest extant specimen is assigned to the Eighth century, but it is certain that this art was followed at a very much earlier date. The impersistence of the materials used is alone responsible for the nonexistence of very ancient Chinese embroidery.

Embroidery made in China for the western market or European patterns is a recent development, having been first introduced and fostered by the missionaries about thirty years ago. Certain kinds of embroidery the Chinese have not as yet duplicated, such as those of Madeira and Cyprus, although reports from Madeira indicate that several houses there have turned their attention to China as a field for future production.—New York Times.

CORBETT
The friends of Miss Emma Hankey will regret to hear she is seriously ill at the Good Samaritan hospital. Her sister, Mrs. Frank Reed, went in Sunday to be with her.

Fred Ough was taken to the Multnomah hospital a week ago and is still there, suffering from an infection on his face.

Miss Alice Lockwood of San Diego, Calif., en route to Montana, is the guest of Mrs. Geo. Knierrm Jr.

Mrs. Hubbard from Silverton and Miss Sidwell of Beaverton are guests in the Frank Reed home.

The Rev. Mr. Reeder, who has filled the pulpit at the Corbett church for several Sundays, expects to go to Sea View for a month's vacation. He will be accompanied by his wife, son and daughter.

Columbia grange received second prize for its booth at the fair. Much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Henkle and Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Butler for the arrangement of the display in the booth and going from different farms in this vicinity gathering up fruit and vegetables. Columbia grange will hold its regular monthly meeting Saturday, August 4.
