Fancy

The new office girl at Messrs. Browne, Ltd., was trying her very best to be efficient in all things.

When a bothersome traveler called one afternoon, she took his card into the chief.

"Oh, I can't spare any time for that creature!" declared the great man. "Go and tell him I'm out!"

The girl returned to the traveler. "I am sorry," she said, "but Mr. Browne says he's out."

"Indeed!" observed the traveler sarcastically. "Well, would you be good enough to present him my compliments and say that I haven't called?"—London Answers.

Churches 800 Years Old

Observances of the eight hundredth anniversaries of the founding of a number of churches were held in Scotland a short time ago. The venerable Abbey of Kelso was the scene recently of ceremonies commemorating the 800 years since the foundation by King David I of Scotland. Bowden Parish church is preparing to mark a similar milestone and the Parish church of Linton had a like celebration a few months ago. Holyrood abbey is to also have a commemoration of its 800 years of existence.

Writers' Peculiarities

A study of the master writers reveals one peculiarity common to many of them. The first draft of a manuscript was often made on very small pieces of paper. William Cullen Bryant used the backs of old envelopes. Charlotte Bronte, besides cutting her paper small, used a diminutive writing board and wrote in a minute hand. Rousseau used playing cards if nothing else was available.—Mentor Magazine.

Their Progress

"Howdy, Gap!" saluted an acquaintance. "How's things going with the family?"

"Howdy, Newt!" replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Aw, they've got trolly well along with their chigger scratching and their tick picking is just about over for this year."—Kansas City Times.
