Gresham Women Plan Service Organization

Initial steps have been taken toward the organization of a club, under the local Y. W. C. A. committee, of business and professional women of Gresham, and the plan is meeting with enthusiastic support on the part of the young women of the community, who believe that such an organization can be affected and that it will be the envy of any Kiwanian or Commercial club...

The local Y. W. C. A. committee recently appointed a group of women consisting of Miss Martha Hagberg, Miss Marie Blom, Miss Helen Rogers, Mrs. Pearl Hayden, Mrs. Clara C. Miller and Mrs. Mary Dodge to meet with representatives of the Portland Y. W. C. A. and take up plans for the organization. As a result, this committee and members of the local committee met Friday evening and counseled with Miss Griselda Kuhlman of Portland, who outlined the activities of women's clubs under the Portland Y. W. C. A., of which she is the secretary.

Invitations will soon be out for a general meeting of women who may be interested in the plans. It is understood that more than a hundred will be invited. A rousing, jolly good time is promised and the matter of the formation of the club will be taken up and it is hoped will be perfected at that time.

The local Y. W. C. A. committee consists of Mrs. Mark Nickerson, chairman; Mrs. Clara C. Miller, vice chairman; Mrs. Fred Hoss, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ruth St. Clair, publicity; Mrs. E. E. Schwedler, Mrs. E. Horstmann, Mrs. J. B. Yates, Mrs. Clarence Cathey, Mrs. P. Lenard and Miss Martha Hagberg. This committee is planning for an all-day bake sale to be held at the A. W. Metzger store Saturday, October 13.

R. EVAN SLYKE DIES IN PORTLAND SUNDAY

Raymond F. Van Slyke, aged 39 years, died Sunday morning at his home in Portland after almost two years of sickness. During his illness he spent part of the time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Van Slyke, who live near Gresham.

Mr. Van Slyke served 18 months in the Depot Brigade at Camp Lewis during the late war, beginning as buck private and being given the rank of sergeant-major near the close of his service. He was also head clerk of the Brigade for a time.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the chapel of Edward Holman & Son, East 27th and Hawthorne avenue, Portland, with vault interment in Memorial Hall.

GRESHAM TRANSFER BUYS TRUCK LINE

The Gresham Transfer has purchased the Lundquist Truck Line and took possession October 1. The new manager, Ted Wright, states that in the future there will be two trucks daily to Portland from Gresham and two from Portland to Gresham. The schedule of these trucks will be found in the Gresham Transfer advertisement in the Outlook.

This transfer company now owns and operates six trucks, including all types, covered body for mowing, dump truck for gravel, flat beds and trailers for heavy hauling. One of the trucks purchased from Lundquist has been traded in on a new one, to be taken out in the spring. Clifford Gibbs, who has been driving for Mr. Lundquist has been employed by Mr. Wright.

Mr. Wright has been in the trucking business for several years and has studied the problems of transportation in order that he may give his patrons the best possible service.

ORGANIZE JUNIOR BAND FOR GRESHAM

A junior band is to be organized for young men of Gresham and vicinity, with Clifford Gibbs acting as conductor. Much interest is being taken in the new band and it is hoped that some good material will be found and developed to add to the local concert band, among the new players. Boys ranging from the ages of 10 to 18 or 19 years are eligible and about 15 young men are lined up for the first practice, which will be Wednesday evening in the Metzger hall above the Gresham Drug store.

THEN AND NOW.

The Oregonian, under the caption "Then and Now," quotes the Journal in reference to Hoover when he was food administrator as follows: "Herbert Hoover cannot satisfy everybody. The man doesn't live, never did live, who can do that. Mr. Hoover is a world figure. His work in Belgium lifted his name above all others in relief administration and organization. It found him a high place in the history of this war."

"It was because of that work that he was called to his present place. We all have reason for full confidence in him. It is better to follow the leadership of Herbert Hoover than to hitch up with the Reeds and their personal spite."

It also quotes the Journal in its disapproval of the repeal of the Volstead Act in New York which was signed by Governor Smith June 1, 1923, and the state officers warned that they were to enforce the federal Volstead law only. The Journal now condones the act by saying that Smith was elected over a worthy competitor by the wet vote. Then it said as follows: "And the mightiest state in the union as a dissenter will have a bad moral effect upon the entire country. It will be an object lesson to stimulate bootleggers and moonshiners. It will make the dissenters more active everywhere. For like reason it will stimulate the dries to a more fervent activity. The whole controversy will take on a bitterness not yet revealed. The big question is, to what trouble and tragedy may it not lead."

The Journal says that what it said then should be changed considerably to express its present views. Strange isn't it? The disillusionment started in Kansas City and Houston. Politics does make strange bedfellows. Who could believe that the Journal could lose its admiration for the Hoover brand of efficiency or swap dry friends for wet?

High School Class in Nursing Formed

Through the efforts of Miss Maud A. Hicks, county health nurse, with the cooperation of Jane V. Doyle of Portland Chapter of the National Red Cross, a class was organized in the high school at Gresham in home hygiene and care of the sick. Seventeen girls have joined the class, which will meet for a two-period session once a week. The Red Cross will provide the equipment and the county health association the instructor. There will be practical demonstrations as well as theoretical study, and those completing the course will receive a certificate from the National Red Cross.

The chief aim of this course is to develop in the student an appreciation for health and a desire to build those habits which will safeguard it, to build a basic understanding of the principles of and control of disease, to develop some manual skill in the care of the baby, the pre-school child, the aged and the sick under home conditions, to give a comprehending appreciation of the profession of nursing as a basis for vocational guidance of those students who may subsequently enter schools of nursing.

BORING

The regular services at the church on Sunday were in charge of the pastor, Rev. Oliver J. Gill. The sermon was one especially fitted for the beginning of the new year. The Sunday school was in charge of O. W. Boring. On next Sunday the new officers will take their places. The Rev. A. B. Calder made a few remarks urging the young people to attend Sunday school, showing them what they may attain by working in the Sunday school. The new superintendent, W. R. Shattuck, appointed the teachers of the ensuing year, and in a general way outlined the work for the year.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the church on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time officers for the year will be elected.

Carl Jr., the year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gregson, met with a very severe accident on Monday of last week. He fell from his buggy and hit his head on the floor. He was taken to a Gresham physician and upon having an X-ray taken it was found that his skull had been slightly fractured. He is doing well and no serious consequences are expected.

R. L. Sabin is preparing to build a new residence on his farm north of Boring. The basement is being dug by Carl Poken and John Modine who have the contract which requires the moving of 250 yards of dirt.

S. E. Lyon is working near Springdale. He is helping harvest cauliflower.

The J. E. Bergstrom family has moved from this locality to Gresham.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morand and son Billie spent Sunday at Salem.

Rev. E. G. Ranton of Independence was a caller in the neighborhood on his way home from conference at Hood River.

Mr. and Mrs. John Osburn have moved to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mallicoat and children spent Sunday with relatives at McMinnville.

The Community club is making arrangements for a play to be given in the near future.

HOOVER-CURTIS PICTURES.

The Outlook office has been furnished a supply of Hoover-Curtis pictures for window or office display. There are small ones suitable for homes and larger ones for wall or window use.

The election of a president and vice president is only about a month away. Now is the time to show a proper interest and loyalty.

The supply is limited, the demand great, so get yours while the pictures last.

Some good literature is also for distribution.

PLEASANT HOME

A good representation of the congregations of Haley Baptist and Powell Valley Mission churches were present at the Missionary meeting conducted Sunday afternoon at the Pleasant Home Baptist church. Dr. Andrew Wakeman, a returned missionary from the Congo region in Africa, was scheduled to speak, but owing to illness was unable to do so. However, Mrs. Wakeman was a very acceptable substitute and gave a splendid story of their life on the mission field.

The Lauderback brothers have sold their meat business to L. E. Hoffman, formerly owner of the Sandy meat market. The new owner took possession Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Claggett McKinney are rejoicing over the arrival of a 7 1/2-pound boy on Sunday morning September 30. The young man has been named Blair Claggett. Mrs. McKinney is at the Bushong nursing home in Gresham.

Bob Miller went to Ione Saturday to hunt.

A good delegation from the Baptist church attended the ordination service held at the Third Baptist church in Portland Monday night when Rev. William Fairweather was ordained to the ministry.

Dale Altman left Friday for Corvallis to enter college.

Alfred Brink is a student at Lincoln high in Portland this year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Melton attended the state fair at Salem Friday and spent Friday night with relatives at Molalla.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fritsch have joined the army of apple pickers at Hood River.

LAUREL ACRES

A reception to the teachers of Lynch district, and the newcomers of the locality was held Friday evening at the schoolhouse under the direction of the Lynch P. T. A. Mrs. F. E. Smith presided. W. C. Alderson, county school superintendent, and Assistant Mrs. Ruby S. Brennan were present. Mr. Alderson gave the address of welcome and Mrs. Brennan talked on "The Child as an Individual." Geo. Lettow announced the program which consisted of addresses and music. A business meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held October 5 in the evening. All members and patrons are asked to be present.

S. R. Gilbert returned Friday from San Francisco where he visited the factories of the Bass-Heuter Paint Co.

In company with Mrs. S. R. Gilbert, Mrs. J. B. Wolfe and Miss Elva Eskel visited the state fair Tuesday. They also called on Mrs. Booth, a former resident of Laurel Acres.

Donald Confrey expects to leave for Los Angeles in company with friends next Wednesday.

Hans Bay of Corvallis, Mont., has recently been in the locality looking after his property.

Elsie Eschebeck visited with Joyce Gilbert a few days last week. Miss Eschebeck lives in the Damascus neighborhood and is a Gresham high school student.

W.C.T.U. Hears of Community Chest

The local W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. W. F. Honey Thursday afternoon for their annual election of officers. The following were chosen for the coming year: Mrs. H. S. Clow re-elected president; Mrs. W. F. Honey, vice president; Mrs. Hattie Wolfe, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. B. Kirkwood, recording secretary; Mrs. B. L. Walrad, treasurer.

The woman adopted a resolution to the state convention asking that a state historian be appointed to supplement and continue the history of the Oregon W. C. T. U. as had been made by Mrs. Lucia F. Addison in her book "Twenty Eventful Years of the Oregon Woman's Christian Temperance Union."

It was also voted that the Gresham Union would furnish a room in the Urruh cottage of the Children's Farm Home. Mesdames Lulu Horning, Margaret Honey and Hattie M. Wolfe were appointed as a committee to look after this matter.

Other business affairs that were reported on during the meeting were the very favorable reports given by the treasurer of the year's finances, and the work that has been accomplished and the benefits received for the Children's Farm Home.

Roy T. Bishop, "general" of one of the three divisions of the Community Chest drive, with headquarters in Portland gave an interesting explanation of the work and the organizations that are benefited by the efforts of the community chest.

The quota for the 1929 budget of the Community Chest, which must be raised in October of this year, is set at a new high mark of $689,890. Eight years of pruning and cutting down of expenses for necessary repairs to buildings, and the inevitable expansion of the work of all the agencies, which a growing city demands, has made it imperative that this year this amount of money be raised by the chest to carry on the great work of charity and philanthropy which is conducted by the agencies of the chest.

The following organizations are to receive support from the Community Chest this year:

- Charity Albertina Kerr Nursery Home. American Red Cross. Baby Home (Waverly). Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. Catholic Charitable Societies. Catholic Women's League. Children's Farm Home (W.C.T.U.). Florence Crittenton Home. Goodwill Industries (Council of Churches). Grandma's Kitchen. Jewish Charitable Societies. Juvenile Hospital for Girls. Louise Home. Oregon Prisoner's Aid Society. Pacific Protective League. Parent's Educational Bureau. Parent-Teacher Association Relief. People's Institute and Free Dispensary. Pisgah Home Colony. Portland Commons. Portland Fruit and Flower Mission. Public Welfare Bureau. Salvation Army. United Veterans Service and Employment Bureau. Visiting Nurses' Association. Volunteers of America. Woman's Convalescent Home. Women's Protective Division.

PUBLIC MASS MEETING, OCT. 5

For Nomination of Candidates for Gresham City Officers.

Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with Ordinance No. 65-A of the city of Gresham, Oregon, a public Mass Meeting will be held at the City Hall in the city of Gresham, at 8 p. m. Friday, October 5, 1928, for the purpose of nominating not to exceed four (4) candidates for each of the following offices, to-wit: One (1) Mayor. One (1) Treasurer. One (1) Recorder. Three (3) Councilmen. This meeting is called by order of the City Council. C. G. SCHNEIDER, Recorder.

AMERICAN LEGION

Gresham Post No. 30 has on a vigorous membership campaign that looks forward to an active program to make the post an influence for good to its members and the community in general. Big things are in store for Gresham legionnaires, dependent somewhat on building up the post to the top notch. Hence every one should help boost the post.

One of the most amazing features of the growth of the veterans' organization of nearly one million members is its freedom from the contaminating influence of party politics and its altruistic stand for all that is essential to maintain prosperity and peace in America.

President Harding, a keen student of national affairs, delighted in the Legion's successful avoidance of the pitfalls prepared by old-time politicians and in their surprise at the higher spirit that pervaded the Legion organization. A short time before his death he said: "The men of The American Legion will be summoned with confidence to deal with the problems of today and the possible crises of the future."

In all its legislative efforts—and the Legion has fought for many measures affecting a variety of interests other than its own—the organization has never succumbed to the temptation of throwing the weight of its powerful influence into any political camp. As a result, the Legion has been able to appeal to both major parties on issues Legionnaires deemed above the maelstrom of partisan machinations.

Efficient relief of disabled fighters is now a probability due principally to the Legion's influence; it has achieved adjusted compensation; it dealt a death blow to radicalism in this country at a time when a spark might have set fire to the nation's foundations.

Modernizing its program, the Legion is now interesting itself in children, seeking to care for the orphans of disabled veterans and attempting to promote community activities in the 11,000 localities in which it exists with the hope of "helping the town," and Gresham and nearby localities are no exception.

Through association with other allied fighters, Legionnaires are spreading a sentiment for world peace and have asked congress to adopt the principle of universal service in future wars as a means of preventing world conflicts.

Perhaps in time the vigorous young men composing the Legion will realize their unselfish program. At any rate they have earned the ungrudging admiration of all elements of citizenry for their efforts toward a laudable end.

Through Mrs. Mabel McInturff, department secretary Oregon American Legion auxiliary, a number of appointments have been announced, among which is noted, "guardianship, Mrs. Minnie B. Eastman, Gresham."

The American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary are sponsoring a "Get Out to Vote" campaign for the coming election, as a part of their Americanism program.

AUTO RACES AT VANCOUVER SUNDAY

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring another automobile race event, similar to the one held here on the fair grounds Labor Day. This one will be held next Sunday on the speedway at Vancouver, Wash., Sunday, October 7, starting at 1 p. m.

There is posted a thousand dollar grand sweepstake prize for a 50-lap race. Free parking is afforded.

Mr. Nolan, publicity man for the races, says more cars will participate than on the occasion of the very successful races at Gresham and the affair promises to be bigger every way.

VICTORY

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alder have returned from Rhododendron, where they spent the past month in charge of Hayden's Zig Zag auto camp. Mrs. Holmes, the teacher in the Victory school, is boarding with Mrs. Alder.

Local Club Members Win Honors at Fair

The Multnomah county club members made an excellent showing at the state fair held at Salem last week.

One of the two boys to receive the highest scores in the Boys' and Girls' club work in the state was Tracey Andereg, a junior, in Gresham Union high, who specialized in Holstein cattle, Poland China and Chester White hogs and milch goats. He won a Luscher heifer calf valued at $150 as a grand prize. He was one of the four high scorers to be entertained at a banquet given by E. L. King, superintendent of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, on his private car Friday evening. At the banquet the four honor guests were presented with watches by Guy Talbot, president of the Northwestern Electric company. R. W. Price, manager of the Crater Lake Lodge, has invited the two boys and two girls, outstanding individuals in the state, to be his guests for two weeks next summer.

Multnomah county entered five teams in the demonstration classes and took one first and two second prizes. There were 44 teams that gave them some very keen competition.

In the crop demonstration Robert Townsend and Leroy Rhoads of the Cedar school won first for Multnomah with a score of 95, which incidentally was just one point under the score of the championship boy's team of all the contests. The prize that the Cedar boys won is a two-weeks' course at the summer school of the Oregon State college.

Other winning teams are the following: Cooking—Jean Inglis and Charlotte Johnson of Gresham, second, competing with 11 teams.

Potato Grading—Kenneth Bramhall and Gerald Emily of Corbett, second. Gerald also won a third on his exhibit of Burbank potatoes.

Those who excelled in the livestock showmanship and the separate classes under which their prize winners were entered were:

Brown Swiss—Paul Boeckl, first and Anna Boeckl, second, both of Linnton. Guernsey—Floyd Stafford, first and Vera Stafford, third, both of Victory.

Holstein—Tracey Andereg, second; Ian Burns, third, of Victory.

Jersey—Bert Gibson, third, of Gresham.

In the poultry division more prizes were taken by boys of this county, namely: Allen Davis of Gilbert won a first prize and a scholarship on a pen of White Leghorns; and John and Robert Stone of Fairview took second and third, respectively with their Black Minorcas.

Although the competition was very keen in all the livestock classes the Multnomah county club members held their own in the club classes and won consistently in the open classes in which they entered. This was particularly true of John Welbes Jr., who took nearly all the firsts and championships with his string of Hampshire pigs. Floyd Stafford and Tracey Andereg were both winners in the open class contests making something like $100 each.

Sixteen ribbons were won by the booth exhibits of the Multnomah county entries. The Multnomah county booth was considered the best appearing booth of the entire show.
