Published every Tuesday and Friday at Gresham, Oregon, by the Outlook Publishing Co., H. L. St. Clair, Editor and Manager.

One year, $2.00, six months, $1.10, three months, trial subscription, 60c. Combination rates with all the Portland Dailies.

ADVERTISING Rates reasonable. Our representative will call.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Member of the State Editorial Association, Member of the National Editorial Association.

Rex Mead, 15-year-old boy who shot and killed E. D. Dewey near the latter's Rockwood home on August 1, was given a life sentence Tuesday in Circuit Judge Canzler's court. Mead confessed that he shot Dewey, who had befriended him, because he was afraid that Dewey would tell his mother that he had called him names and had thrown rocks at him.

The Oregon Farmer, discussing the tariff question, says: "If the farmer is to have the full benefit of protection against foreign competition the tariff on foreign products will have to be increased, as the farmer organizations have been demanding. The tariff wall must be built high enough to shut out competing products and give the farmers complete control of the home market. A survey of the effect of the last two tariff laws shows that while the present law has helped, it has not given the farmers command of their home markets."

OUTLOOK FORCE HAS SURPRISE FOR EDITOR

H. L. St. Clair, editor and manager of the Outlook, was a much surprised man to find the members of the Outlook force assembled near an attractively placed dinner table at the White Way Wednesday evening. Not so much surprised perhaps, to notice the proximity of the force and table, for the hour was 5:30, but to learn that they were awaiting him as the honor guest. The day was the anniversary of Mr. St. Clair's birthday, and the force had decided to celebrate.

A three-course dinner was served to the 12 guests present. The table was attractive with fall flowers, and dainty handwritten place cards which noted the spirit of Halloween. Miss Margaret St. Clair, who was employed in her regular work, did the serving. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. Chase St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. St. Clair, Miss Evelyn Metzger, Miss Emma B. Johnson, Mrs. Harold Lewis, Mrs. Fern C. Mulkey, Mrs. Benj. Davies, and W. W. Williams.

PLEASANT VALLEY
