Cauliflower Crop Heaviest in Years

Seventy-two cars of cauliflower have been shipped to date by the Cooperative Lettuce & Cauliflower association from Troutdale, and it is expected that 25 more cars will be shipped before the end of the season. This is the heaviest shipment of cauliflower in the history of the association, covering four harvests. The market opened with an exceptionally high price but broke about the middle of October. It is now showing more strength and the growers are hoping for a favorable end to the harvest. The carload shipments are going mostly to the east and south, New York city getting two cars, while Richmond and other southern cities come in for a large share. The quality of the product is unexcelled.

Forty-four members of the cooperative association are shipping this year, pooling their shipments each week. The O. W. R. & N. loading platform is a busy place, as many other products are shipped from there, as well as the big cauliflower crop.

About 150 acres of cauliflower have been grown by members of the association, the bulk of it coming from the high land east of the Sandy river. This is an increase of 50 per cent over the acreage of 1927. The average yield per acre is 350 crates.

The officers of the association are George H. Chamberlain of Corbett, president; A. C. Seidl of Troutdale, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors is composed of Chamberlain, W. A. Dunklee, W. E. Hart, Ferd Lambert and W. H. Rogers. Arnold Lambert is field manager-inspector.

HOOVER SUPPORTERS BEWARE LATE ATTACKS

Hoover supporters are urged to be on their guard against late minute attempts to turn sentiment against their candidate.

Such is the final warning sent out by Phil Metschan, chairman of the republican state central committee.

"If there is one flaw in the long and honorable career of Herbert Hoover it would have been discovered and broadcast long ago," declared Mr. Metschan yesterday. "Those who seek to accomplish the defeat of our candidate have left no stone unturned in an effort to impeach the character and the record of Mr. Hoover, but their attempts have been in vain, and any last minute attack on him may be classified as what Mr. Smith would call 'bologna'."

ELECTION DAY OUTLOOK OUT EARLY.

Next Tuesday being election day and a holiday, an effort will be made to have the Outlook ready for the mail about noon. It is not practical to delay the issue for the election returns late Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. The cooperation of correspondents and advertisers is asked.

WELFARE WORKERS TO AID UNFORTUNATES

Mrs. Cora Beatty, district visitor in this part of the county for the public welfare bureau, and Mrs. Merrick, community chest worker of Portland, were in Gresham yesterday looking after the duties of their offices. Since the welfare bureau is a direct beneficiary of the chest it is fitting that the interests should work together. There are several families in Gresham and this part of the county receiving aid from the welfare bureau, and Mrs. Beatty makes frequent visits here.

The object of the welfare bureau, says Mrs. Beatty, is to conserve and promote normal family life and to help needy people to become creditable citizens instead of "leaners." The policy is not only to take care of immediate and permanent needs but to rehabilitate the family and to assist in placing it on a self sustaining basis. The bureau cooperates with other agencies in securing medical aid and legal advice. The effort is always to inspire self reliance.

In addition to this, the workers are able to help the community to recognize the maladjustments of unfortunate persons who, through mismanagement, sickness, unemployment or misfortune of some kind, have lost courage and hope and have become dependent.

Mrs. Beatty is especially desirous to hear from any over the disposition of cases, and hopes to be able, by her wide experience, to help in any situation where public welfare is involved. She is looking to this community to cooperate in bringing real, constructive assistance to those who may be in need.

TRI-Y GIRLS HOLD ANNUAL CEREMONIAL

At the Tri-Y Recognition Ceremonial Thursday, October 25, the high school Tri-Y club sponsored a very enjoyable and exciting meeting. At this meeting was held the annual recognition ceremonial. Nineteen girls lighted their candles at the respective candles representing body, knowledge and spirit, thus becoming members of the Tri-Y Circle of Light.

Following a short business meeting the program and social committees conducted about 40 members on a ghost walk.

After a delightful evening refreshments were served and all departed for home to dream of ghosts and witches.

Hoover Is Lauded by Miss Aldrich

Though only fairly well attended, the Hoover rally held last Tuesday night in the Gresham grange hall was not lacking in telling oratory judging from the enthusiasm manifested and the many commendations of Miss Maude Aldrich's masterful address on the republican candidate and issues of the campaign.

The numbers by the high school orchestra, under the leadership of Miss Grace E. Potter, were very pleasing and elicited much praise.

Roy E. Cannon, recently appointed county school superintendent, and nominee on the republican ticket for November 6, made a brief talk in which he referred to the responsibilities of the office and his purpose to administer it helpfully and faithfully.

Frank Davey of Portland spoke impressively in favor of Congressman Franklin F. Korrell, who is the republican nominee to succeed himself in this district.

The principal speaker was Miss Maude Aldrich of Gresham who has been campaigning for Herbert Hoover. Miss Aldrich has much natural ability as a public speaker and from her careful study and large experience has acquired more. She put many arguments in favor of Hoover in a new and appealing way and held her audience in close attention for an hour. W. J. Cooper acted as chairman of the meeting.

CHEVROLET GARAGE HAS NEW LOCATION

The Fieldhouse-Shearer Chevrolet company is doing business in its new location in the building erected by Frank Staffenson & Sons on the corner of Powell street and Maple avenue. The head mechanic, Henry Krueger, is on the job, and it is expected that in a few days the shop force will be able to render complete Chevrolet service.

The equipment that had been in use in the old repair shop was moved Tuesday and Wednesday. The new tools and equipment arrived Thursday and are being put in their proper places. A number of cars, new and old, are on display in the work room, waiting for the show room to be completed. The office equipment and automobile parts will be moved to the new garage as soon as the rooms are in readiness.

Heat 2 to 8 Rooms.

It costs no more to heat your entire house with a Vecto than to heat one room with a heater. Call Joe Chiodo, Gresham Plumbing & Heating Co., phone 1233.

CHOICE UP TO VOTERS.

Judging from the heavy registration of voters and the thoughtful country-wide interest taken in the coming election there is no need of urging voters to go to the polls next Tuesday. They will go, but it should be urged that voting, if possible, be done early.

The polls locally will be open from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 2 p. m. to 8. Both boards will be on duty and the count should be finished before midnight.

LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION OPENS SATURDAY

The Pacific International Livestock exposition to be held November 3 to 10 at Portland, gives promise this year of being one of the most outstanding shows in the history of the exposition. Entries will cover a larger area of the United States and Canada than ever before, some coming from as far east as New York and as far southeast as Tennessee.

Many Gresham people are planning to attend the exposition and some of the contests that will be of special interest to local visitors at the fair will be Monday, November 5. At 8 o'clock Monday morning, the Victory Cattle club, consisting of Harold Dahl, Ian Burns, and Lawrence Douthit, are scheduled to compete in the livestock judging contest. At 9:30 on the same day Jean Inglis and Charlotte Johnson will compete in the Home Economics judging contest.

There are a number of individuals and clubs that have entered livestock and farm products from Gresham and the surrounding communities. W. H. Baillie, county club agent, and S. B. Hall, county agricultural agent, will be in Portland the greater part of the next 10 days, working on the exhibits and taking care of their respective charges.

WOMEN TO HEAR POLITICAL ADDRESS

Clarence Ownbey, history instructor in Gresham High school, will give an unbiased opinion of the political situation at the high school gymnasium next Monday night at 7:30. This talk is to be given under the auspices of the business and professional women's club, but all women of Gresham are invited to attend.

The first gym class of the newly organized club was held last Tuesday evening at the high school gymnasium. This class will be held every Tuesday at 7:30 and will be followed at 8:30 by a class in clog dancing. This class and also membership in the club are open to Gresham women, regardless of whether or not they are business or professional women.

For expert window cleaning see S. Tajima, or leave orders with J. Ross Brown, Gresham, phone 2501.

School Activities Are Snappily Told

By High School Reporter.

We know that C. E. Rusher, our janitor, was glad to notice Thursday morning that the 'Hallowe'en' witches, spirits and hobgoblins, that were prowling around Gresham Wednesday evening, did no great damage at the high school. There was a sign on the entrance door that stated "This Place for Sale, Easy Payments," but to date we have received no bids. Also if a farmer of the neighboring country is minus a wagon perhaps he can identify the one left between the old gymnasium and the cafeteria bungalow.

Arden Squire, captain of last year's football squad of Gresham Union Hi, now a student at the Oregon State College, played the first half of the game, in tackle position, staged at Multnomah stadium in Portland Saturday afternoon. Because Arden was playing we had to see the Aggie freshmen taken to a clean-up, with a score of 27 to 0, by the University of Oregon babies. Oh, well, better luck next time, Squire.

And, say, can you feature this? It has been reported that Fred Bechill, a well-known woman hater, is night editor on a girls' paper issued at the University of Oregon, where he is a student this year. College life makes various changes in fellow classmen, eh what?

George Okuda, graduate of our high school in 1928, gave us a short visit Thursday morning. He has a position with the Japanese consul in Portland and likes it very much, so he says.

Miss Melba Sanders, one of the teachers at Union Hi, whose mother died Saturday at Newberg, has returned to her duties here. Miss Sanders, who resumed her work Wednesday morning, has the sympathy of the entire student body.

The girls of the Tri-Y club have been displaying a number of handkerchiefs they have been making. The Tri-Y club meets every Wednesday afternoon, immediately after the close of school, for a period of one hour.

The student body has voted to have installed a new system of food lighting, to be used on the front of the high school. Also their half of the expense, approximately $248, of the two rooms added to the assembly hall during the past summer, was voted to be paid from the studentbody funds.

The seniors have started practicing on their play to be given some time in the near future. "Wait, Inc." is the name of the play chosen and the cast has been well selected.

This year the freshmen seem to be a live bunch, according to Roy E. Cannon, principal. Mr. Cannon says that he will be responsible for the statement that, as a whole, the members of the freshman class are better workers, that they apply themselves to their work more, and that they really act as though they wish to obtain the best they can out of their school work more than any freshman class in recent years. He predicts that if they continue in their progressive spirit they will surely be a strong class of seniors.

Monday morning at 8:30 at a special meeting of the studentbody at the Saxonophone Shop in Portland, is expected to present a short entertainment. The public is cordially invited to this, or any other of our studentbody meetings.

Our cafeteria is running regularly again this year, under the able and efficient direction of Mrs. Frank Volbrecht. Mrs. Volbrecht, who has had charge of the cafeteria for several years, serves from 100 to 150 every noon.

The total enrollment at the Gresham Union high school at the present time is 408 students and it is expected that approximately 35 students will enter at the mid-term the first of the year. Of the present enrollment, 184 students are registered from outside Multnomah county. Last year the tuition funds paid by 163 students from other counties attending the Gresham high school totaled over $23,000.

The high school has 11 busses which carry 334 students to and from school. When school is dismissed in the afternoon the 11 busses are all in their respective positions and the boys and girls march directly to their proper busses. In less than five minutes from the time the students are dismissed the busses are loaded and on their way. The busses, with a capacity of 25, carry on the average of 33 students, per bus, and cover a radius of eight miles in their gathering and disposing of the young people.

A Vecto will heat your whole house for no more than it costs to heat one room with the old type stove. Built in three sizes to heat from two to eight rooms. Nominal first cost, satisfaction guaranteed. Gresham Plumbing & Heating Co., at Cedar schoolhouse at 3 o'clock in phone 1233.

KIWANIAN GOLFERS PLAY MATCH GAME

Wednesday, October 31, fourteen Kiwanian golfers of Gresham matched their skill with Portland Kiwanians on the Glendover links, playing 18 holes with some very good scores. Portland carried off the honors with 26 points to Gresham 22.

This activity on the part of the Gresham Kiwanians has just started under the golf committee, consisting of Ray Martin, chairman; Bill Tuerck and Ed Aylsworth. While 14 members played in Wednesday's contest, there are several other enthusiasts and the committee expects to have at least 22 players enrolled and participating in future games. Six other Gresham golfers played with the Kiwanians on Wednesday, bringing the total up to 20 for the contest.

A tournament is planned for next week for Gresham Kiwanian golfers. Likely two leaders will be chosen and these will select players for the opposing teams. Full announcement of the plans will be made at the next regular Kiwanis dinner Monday night.

This is only a side issue of the recently organized Gresham Kiwanis club whose activities will touch many lines of civic and social life of the community.

Sunday services at the Mission church will begin at 9:50 with Sunday school, which will be followed by morning service in Swedish at 11:10. The pastor, Rev. Don Shogren, will take for his text "Return and show what great things God hath done for thee." In the evening at 7:30 the service will be in English from the subject "Jonah, Jesus and You." The gospel team of the church will hold a meeting at Cedar schoolhouse at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

City Election Will Be Held Tuesday

Ballots will be cast November 6, for candidates to fill city offices, in conjunction with the election of national and state officers. Although there has not been a lively contest waged or any active campaigning done, much interest is aroused as to who will be elected to hold offices for the city of Gresham.

Charles Cleveland, who has served two terms as mayor, is running for re-election and his contestant for the mayorality will be Russell K. Akin, retiring councilman. C. G. Schneider, for a number of terms recorder for Gresham, is the only nominee for the office. C. E. Johnson, cashier of the Bank of Gresham, and C. J. Lundquist, cashier of the First State bank have been nominated to fill the office of treasurer on account of the incapacity of the present treasurer, John H. Metzger, to run for another term. Mr. Metzger, who is seriously ill at his home, following a stroke of paralysis, has been city treasurer for Gresham since 1905 when the city received its charter.

Three councilmen are to be selected from the following candidates: Roy H. Gibbs, Frank Hamlin, C. E. Stockton, W. J. Todd, Dr. A. W. Botkin, and B. W. Thorne. Holdover councilman are T. R. Howitt, W. C. Metzger and C. I. Raker. Dr. A. W. Botkin, B. W. Thorne, and Russell K. Akin, whose terms are expiring are up for re-election, the first two councilmen and the latter for mayor, respectively.

Also of interest will be the results of the city elections at Troutdale and Fairview. Laura D. Harlow, who has served two terms as mayor of Troutdale and who was the first woman mayor in the state, is running for re-election. H. E. Boyd, who is serving his second term as recorder, and Isabella Waite, the present city treasurer, have both been nominated for their respective offices. G. F. Coons, who has been acting as marshal to fill the unexpired term of Alvin Copeland, who moved to Gresham, is running for marshal and will have as his contestant, W. J. Crawford. W. L. Richardson will be voted upon to hold office as a councilman for a two-year term. Frances May Fox, Ida Crawford and L. G. Howell are running for councilmen for four-year terms.

In Fairview the three individual city offices will probably be filled by the present holders as they have no contestants in the race. E. E. Heslin, present mayor, G. P. Lumsden, present recorder and John Moller, present treasurer have all been renominated. Nominees for councilmen for four-year terms are W. D. Brooks, J. I. Mahaffey and George Shaw. John Peterson, who was forced to retire from the council a year or so ago on account of illness, has been nominated to fill a two-year term.
