A. D. Smith, whose announcement of lectures on "The Bible and the change in dispensations that is now taking place," appears elsewhere in this issue, is a man of recognized ability. For years before coming to Oregon he was connected with some of the leading papers of the country and we could give any number of press comments on his work. The Quincy Call says, "We need such men as Mr. Smith in congress." All speak very highly of him and those attending the lectures will hear a man accustomed to handling matters of importance.
