PATRIOTIC MASS MEETING FOR THURSDAY EVENING

Thursday evening of next week a patriotic mass meeting will be held in the Hermiston auditorium. The meeting will be under the direction of the Public Safety organization, the executive committee of which is now busy arranging details.

It is not the intention to have a meeting that will be tiresome in any way, but on the other hand it will be interesting, instructive and entertaining. In the line of speeches the committee hopes to secure Fred Steiwer to make the principal address, which will be not to exceed 30 minutes in length. Mr. Steiwer is a young man, earnest and a good speaker. He is well known here and has a great many friends. In addition to Mr. Steiwer plans are being made for five or six talks of not to exceed five minutes each by local people.

A special committee is now at work preparing a program for the evening. There will be a good orchestra and a chorus to lead in the singing of patriotic songs. As fully half of the program will consist of songs there will be an opportunity for each one to hear and help sing his favorite.

Every man, woman and child in the Hermiston country is urged to attend and tell their neighbors and insist of them coming, too. The committee in charge hopes to make this the largest meeting ever held in Hermiston and this will be easy if each will do his part. On an occasion such as this the auditorium should be filled until there is not room for another person to get in.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS LAURELS IN PLAY

"Windmills of Holland" as presented Friday evening of last week by the high school, was splendid. The costumes were very appropriate, even the wooden shoes being used and special scenery had been prepared portraying a typical Dutch farm and mill. It was the cast, however, that brought out to the fullest the scene and the costumes. Miss Barton, popular high school instructor, showed her ability in training the young people, as she had the whole of it under her supervision. To many of those in the cast this was their first appearance in such work and all carried out their parts with great credit to themselves and instructor. It was gratifying, too, to see the good audience which filled the auditorium and enjoyed every minute of the entertainment.

The first number of the program was a concerto by Miss Walpole and Mrs. Hawthorne of Irrigon. Mrs. Hawthorne has ever been a favorite with the Hermiston music loving public and in this number she gave her pupil the leading part. The work of both was much appreciated.

Alfred Groom was next on the program with a solo rendered in his usual pleasing manner. It was "Beautiful Garden of Roses" and four girls were in costume to represent roses and gave a very pretty drill.

The quartette, Ursel Hiatt, Alfred Groom, Carroll Reeves and George Priddle were next and received a deserved encore, and also when they appeared between the first and second acts.

Frances Hinkle also appeared between the first and second acts and sang a Dutch lullaby in a very winning way.

Those taking part in the operetta were: George Prindle, Margaret Shotwell, Althea Smith, Gladys Smith, Carroll Reeves, Louis Garner, Durrell Murchie, Esther Graham, Nellie Davis, Marion Briggs, Janice Brigham, Bertha McKeen, Frances Hinkle, Viola Crandall, Emily Shotwell, Dorothy Ross, Mildred Percy, Eleanor Casserly.

CIVIC CLUB RAISES FUNDS FOR CEMETERY

The campaign by the Civic club to raise funds for fencing the cemetery is making good progress and enough will soon be on hand to start the work. Already about $40 has been raised. Just now the club is working on chain teas and these are spreading rapidly to all sections of the community. Feeling that the cemetery is something all will want to help with the teas are not being confined to club members alone.

The first chain tea was given last week by Mrs. Haneline. This week Mrs. Cressy and Mrs. McNaught each gave one and from now on there will be a number each week. The lady giving the tea invites five for an afternoon. Whatever entertainment is wished may be provided, neither is it necessary to give refreshments unless the hostess cares to. Each guest leaves ten cents with her hostess which is turned into the cemetery fund and each guest entertains five of her friends. A record is being kept and the ladies are not to accept but one invitation, which also means she will entertain but once. In this way the cost to each one is very light but taken collectively a good fund will be raised.

ENGINEER CORPS ENLISTMENTS ASKED

The war department desires to secure at once a large enrollment of enlisted men in the Engineer Enlisted Reserve corps, or in such other engi-ner organization of the United States army as may be called to the colors for war service and for this purpose suitable men are asked to make application.

Full instructions and information as to qualifications to enter the engineer enlisted reserve corps may be secured from Paul S. Jones of this city, together with application blanks. There are 22 grades for enlisted men in the engineer corps, rated according to ability and include many of the trades such as topographer, draftsman, master carpenter, master mechanic, blacksmith, photographers and blue print men, plumbers and pipe fitters, electricians, engineemen, steam or gas, masons, horseshoer, teamsters, saddlers, cooks, assistant cooks, musicians, etc.

Enlistments are for four years unless sooner discharged. Men in this corps are subject to 15 days of training each year and in time of actual or threatened war to such service as may be required. Men in the reserve corps will undoubtedly be called before other volunteers. Mr. Jones, who is authorized to receive applications, is second lieutenant of the engineer section of the reserve corps.

HERMISTON IS VISITED BY PREPAREDNESS TRAIN

NATIONAL HONOR GUARD IS FORMED

Monday afternoon organization of a branch of the National Honor Guard was completed. Twenty-five joined at the first meeting as that was all the application blanks on hand. Another supply has been sent for and at the next meeting at least ten more will affiliate.

Officers elected were: Vera Purdy, leader; Marion Briggs, assistant leader; Doris Percy, secretary; Esther Graham, treasurer.

The honor guard is really a branch of the Red Cross and those joining designate whether they may be had for home work only or whether if necessary they can take up active Red Cross work in the field.

The guard will secure all possible information on first aid and nursing work, learn what they can about handling automobiles and many other things that would be of assistance to the nation in time of war and relieve men who could be used in the actual fighting.

SCHOOL FLOWER SHOW PREMIUMS

As an assistance to those who enter the school flower contest, J. Peimulder has announced a reduced rate on all plants and bulbs he may be able to supply and will give all other assistance possible. C. D. Porter is another who wants to encourage flower culture among the school children. He is preparing a series of lectures covering the varieties to be grown this year.

These lectures have to do with the nature of the plants and other things along that line. The contestants are also free to go to him at any time for further instruction and care. At the time of the flower show in addition to the premiums already announced there will be given an examination along the lines of Mr. Porter's instruction and the one who's paper grades highest will be given a prize of $3 with $2 for second. This examination is not compulsory to make exhibits but is a separate class.

The time for planting most of the varieties for which premiums are to be given is here and those wishing to enter should send in their names and start their work.

The O. W. R. & N. and O. A. C. food preparedness train was in this city last Saturday and interesting meetings were held in the afternoon and evening with a good attendance to hear the lectures. The exhibit car was also open all afternoon and evening.

The afternoon meeting were attended more especially for women and the subjects discussed were highly interesting to those who could be present. Miss Johnson, the first speaker, dealt with food preparation and explained many ways in which food might be prepared at a less cost than ordinarily and yet be fully as palatable. Substitutes for more costly items were given and the difference in cost of many articles between bulk and the fancy package emphasized. Miss Cowgill devoted her time in explaining methods of canning fruits and vegetables, urging that all surplus should be saved in this way that the nation supply might be conserved to the greatest possible extent. Special stress was placed on the fact that one's ability to buy did not count so much as did the saving of the supply that we might not reach the point where these commodities were completely exhausted.

In the evening topics of equal importance as those in the afternoon were handled and the speakers were very capable. Prof. Boquet took up the subject of vegetable gardening and Prof. Lamb poultry raising. Both speakers gave special emphasis to the necessity of using the "back yard" or space otherwise allowed to lie unused which might just as well help furnish the support of a family with very little extra labor.
