UNCLE SAM ON WHEELS

Takes Traveling Shows Throughout the United States.
Government is Fitting Up New Railroad Car Every Year to Carry Benefits of Experts' Work to the People.

Uncle Sam believes that while a rolling stone may gather no moss, a rolling demonstration produces great results. In the way of increased knowledge, saved lives and righted wrongs. And he backs up this belief by the purchase every year of a railroad car, fitted up to carry his discoveries to every corner of the United States.

Education on wheels seems to attract the interest and the plaudits of the multitudes. The traveling show has never needed to make a strong outside bid for favor; it carries its success with it; people welcome it inevitably. Uncle Sam remembered this.

Also he remembered that he has a tremendous family of nieces and nephews to reach. Why not combine their inherent curiosity about a show from "furrin parts" with their need for enlightenment? The problem was simple—just a matter of inoculating a little seriousness into the show or putting some "sure enough" tonic into the mixture beneath the sugar coating and inoculating a little novelty into the demonstrations.

Hence, the "Federal Special," which were they all coupled together in one train, would be made up of a car each from food research laboratory, the bureau of animal industry (both of the department of agriculture); the bureau of mines, of standards and of fisheries, with another, already appropriated for and soon to be added, from the bureau of chemistry.

The car from the food research laboratory demonstrates methods for reducing the appalling $50,000,000 yearly egg waste.

The wool-exhibit car of the bureau of animal industry shows ranchmen how to prepare their wool for market so as to increase their profits.

The fish commission car transports fishes from the Pacific, from the Atlantic and from the great lakes to stock the individual and public plants of those who are following the new pursuit, "fish raising."

The bureau of standards' car is designed to go about the country testing track scales on railways and weighing equipment of grain elevators and such establishments where commodities, destined for the general public, are weighed in bulk, to see if the measures conform to standard.

The bureau of mines car is an ultra-modern emergency kit on wheels which is rushed from its siding by a swift locomotive and hastened to the scene of every mine disaster for rescue work.

The newest car, which really is not yet a car, but only an order for one, is to be a peripatetic laboratory which will operate in connection with the pure food act. On the general lines of a Pullman car, it will be designed as a complete chemical and bacteriological laboratory, where the qualities of food products may be definitely established as in any other laboratory.

Uncle Sam's Doctors Urge More Fresh Air

Gluttony is common, according to a statement issued by the United States public health service, but it has a penalty despite the fact that it is much condoned. Fat inefficiency and the red nose are two of the results of gluttony, it is said. You must spend more of your time in the open air, warns Uncle Sam's physicians and they suggest that you be given the treatment dogs receive when they get fat and wheezy. The diet should be cut down and the out-of-door exercise increased. Dyspepsia, it is stated, is often cured by work in the open air. Simple and moderate diet is urged for United States citizens as a means for attaining health.

TWINE IS MADE FROM PAPER

Experiments Made by Uncle Sam's Experts in Forest Products Laboratory Prove Success.
That wrapping twines which give thorough satisfaction can be made from paper has been demonstrated by experiments made by Uncle Sam's forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis. Several hundred packages, each containing a medium-sized book, were wrapped and fastened with the lightest weight paper twine and were mailed to various points throughout the United States. Reports show that practically every package was received in good order and that in no case was there any damage which could be charged as a fault of the twine. In making twine the paper is cut into narrow strips which are then twisted tightly to form a cord. The strength of the twine depends upon the character of the paper used and the process of treatment. It is well adapted to a number of purposes, but the foresters say that as yet no satisfactory means has been found for protecting paper twine from the action of water, and it should not be used where it will be exposed to moisture.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

AN OPERATION AVERTED

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I soon noticed a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

MUCH IN A NAME, SOMETIMES

Gouverneur Morris, the Novelist, Slept in Suites When Other Correspondents Didn't.

Private information from the battlefields of Europe indicates that Gouverneur Morris, the novelist, has had a cinch over the other correspondents. In many of the hotels the correspondents were herded in one room at night, while Morris had a suite all to himself. Then again Morris was on friendly if not intimate terms with high officials and military commanders, while the other boys had to scrape around as best they could.

It was a mystery to the other scribes to understand how it was that Morris caught on so easily, got the best of everything and went hobnobbing with royalty, until one day a petty officer approached one of the newspaper men and said: "Will you kindly tell me what state it is that Mr. Morris is governor of?"

The above calls to mind the fact that years ago George William Curtis, editor of the Easy Chair in Harper's Magazine, was in Oberammergau to witness the "Passion Play." Unfortunately he was late in arriving at the open air theater and all the seats except those reserved for high officials were gone. The editor was in despair until he had a bright idea.

Approaching one of the high officials he said: "Has the duke of Hesse Castle or the duke of Cambridge arrived yet?" "I think not," the official replied. "Too bad," the editor remarked, "but when they arrive would you mind telling them that Mr. —, one of the electors of New York, is waiting for them?"

The official bowed and said: "Certainly, sir, but would you not prefer to wait for them inside?"

Mr. Curtis agreed that this arrangement was much to be preferred to the one of standing outside, so he permitted the official to escort him down front and seat him near a bunch of princes, dukes and other assorted specimens of royalty.

"It's a great thing to be an elector of New York," the editor said in telling the story.—From the Editor and Publisher.

"Him" Didn't Stop Screams.
John McKinney, living in Shelby county, was in Shelbyville recently with friends. He became separated from them and they went home without him. It was too far for McKinney to walk, so he called up a cousin living in Shelbyville and asked for some money to pay for a night's lodging. The cousin told McKinney to go to his (the cousin's) home to spend the night.

John started out and found a house which he thought was the right one. He pounded on the door, but no one answered. Then he tried a window. He raised it and crawled through. He was greeted by the shrill scream of a woman, who was standing on a bed. John announced that she need not scream, for it was "him." "Him" didn't mean much to Miss Lulu Long. She continued her screaming. A brother came running into the room with a gun and McKinney soon had his hands stretched far above his head. Hearing the noise, the cousin, who lived next door to the Long home, rushed to the rescue and the situation was soon cleared.—Indianapolis News.

Marketing for the White House.
Mrs. Wilson, as Mrs. Galt, was in the habit of going down to Central market two or three times a week and doing her own marketing. After the announcement of her engagement she gave that up, as she found the amount of attention attracted embarrassing. She will find that the housekeeper in her new home has the marketing habit, and will see to it personally that her mistress has just exactly what she wants. The present housekeeper, Mrs. Jeffrey, was installed by Mrs. Taft, who, at the beginning of her regime, took her housekeeper to the great market and personally introduced and instructed her. For Mrs. Taft, too, had the marketing habit, and if while at the White House she found it expedient to do it by proxy, she saw to it from the start that it was done according to her own ideas.

Gertie (who has just been kissed by Arthur under the mistletoe, which he discovered hanging in the hall)—Oh, Arthur, you wicked wretch, to take advantage of me like that! I wish I knew who hung it there; I'd pay them out, that's all.

Arthur (to little brother later in the evening)—Tommy, I'm going to take Gertie away from you soon; will you mind? Tommy—Not a bit. Sis and I are not friends.

Arthur—And why is that? Tommy (heedless of Gertie's killing glances)—Oh, she boxed my ears for tipping her of the chair when she was nailing up that mistletoe in the hall.

His Official Capacity.
William Collier and a couple of other actors were dining in a hotel cafe when Collier directed his companion's attention to a very dapper-looking man with a suspiciously red nose who had just passed. "A very prominent member of the Larchmont Yacht club," announced Collier, with a grave air. "Is that so?" asked one of the players, who, as Collier knows, always evinces a strong interest in the doings of society. "What is his official capacity?" "About three gallons, I think," said Collier.—The Argonaut.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW!
You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin. If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only the old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles. Up to this time, "Anuric" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing Tablet, Doctor Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of this country within immediate reach of all sufferers.
