Perhaps you find it difficult in the warm July sunshine to remember how the chill blasts of winter freeze one to the very bone! You may not be moved by the thought of coal for September, October, November, December and January—but you are indeed careless if you forget it. If you wait, you can by no means be sure you will get any at all.

Mrs. Geo. E. Briggs and daughter Eleanor enjoyed a short but pleasant visit with friends in Pendleton Thursday of last week.
E. P. Dodd, senior member of the real estate firm of Dodd & Knapp, made a short business trip to Boardman Saturday last.

"Prudence, the Pirate," at the Movie tonight. Next Wednesday evening the stirring drama, "Where the Trail Divides," will be shown.
The Baptist young people and their friends spent an enjoyable evening last Friday at the Shotwell home. The evening was spent in out door games and music, with refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Ray Jay, rancher week days, except Saturday, when he turns tonsorial artist in Auseon's barber shop, took a little pleasure trip to Pendleton Sunday last.
An entertainment by one of Hermiston's best musicians and readers has been arranged for July 19 at the Baptist church. An admission of 25 and 10 cents will be charged, the proceeds of which will be used to meet church expenses.

Mrs. Thomas Wiltse, who with her husband conducts a ranch a mile or so north of town, swelled the small exchequer of The Herald office Monday by advancing the subscription to the paper a half year.
Mrs. A. W. Purdy gave a delightful auction bridge party at her home on Main street last Saturday afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, which fact drew much favorable comment from those present, as did also the delicious luncheon served by the genial hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nelson and children, of Richland, Wash., were Sunday visitors at the home in this city of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Knapp. They came by auto over the Horse Heaven country, crossing the Columbia at Umatilla. Mr. Nelson, who is a banker at Richland, in which business Mr. Knapp was formerly associated with him, said the roads were in good shape between the two towns, and now that he negotiated his first trip here so easily he expects to visit Hermiston quite often. The gentleman commented most favorably on the thriving appearance of this city and the country district adjacent during a half hour chat with the present editor of The Herald.

Misses Charlotte Coates and Clara G. Burns, of Buffalo, N. Y., arrived in Hermiston Sunday for a month's visit during which time they will be guests at the homes of Mesdames Warner and Ralph, Miss Burns being a cousin of the ladies. Sightseeing has been the order of things with Miss Coates and Miss Burns since leaving their homes in Buffalo, they having visited all the scenic points of interest in Colorado and California before coming here. On the return journey it is possible they will have their tickets routed over the Canadian Pacific railway in order that they may view the grandeur of the Rocky mountains in Canada.

C. H. McElroy returned from the Madras country, Jefferson county, Oregon, Thursday after an absence of a week looking after grain acreage he owns there. He says that crops in Jefferson county are an utter failure this year on account of drought and the late season and he don't expect to get any returns from his land in that locality. He estimated that Hermiston looked doubly good to him on his return after witnessing the devastation wrought by drought in Central Oregon.

Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Wainscott returned Sunday morning from Portland where the doctor was in attendance nearly all last week at the convention of the State Medical association. While the gentleman attended the numerous meetings of the association, Mrs. Wainscott enjoyed visits with lady friends residing in various parts of the Rose city.

Sam Oldaker as a furry story teller can't be beat, although there are several hereabouts that run him a close second. In expounding the foibles of a circus clown or expressing other witticisms Mr. Oldaker has a drollness of speech which is conducive to create laughter. Even the face of the most staid listener broadens into a smile whenever Sam begins a narrative.

Dr. J. A. Campbell, formerly a dentist in this city but now practicing in Tacoma, states in a letter to The Herald that he was in San Francisco recently and while there took the state board dental examination and also the dental reserve corp examination. Continuing, he said he saw by the paper where Dr. Wainscott was told to hold himself in readiness to go to the front with the medical corps and concludes with the supposition that his successor here, Dr. Prime, is "hard at it by this time."
