HERMISTON LOCALS

Mrs. R. O. Dunning went to Payallup, Wash., Monday to make a short visit to her daughter Lilly, who is employed in that city.

After a pleasant visit here with his parents, W. J. Crandall left for Los Angeles Thursday to resume his studies in medicine.

Mrs. Lois Newport has returned from Boston, Mass., and accepted a position with the Alexander department store in Pendleton.

Attorney William Warner is having a garage built at his ranch home east of town, in which he will house the new car that he ordered some time ago from Sapper Bros.

C. H. Hall of Savage, Mont., is here on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Young, wife of the chief clerk and fiscal agent in the offices of the reclamation service.

E. O. Comegys, Hermiston' practical painter and paper hanger, and his assistant, Harry Coyne, passed several days this week in Umatilla decorating the interior of a residence for Frank Cline.

Mrs. M. S. Kern, wife of the president of the Inland Empire Lumber Co., returned to her home in Pendleton Monday after being a guest over Sunday at the home of Alderman and Mrs. Harry Straw.

Nicholas Codd of Spokane, president of the Hermiston Light & Power Co., passed a few days here this week looking over the holdings of the concern in this county in company with Frank and Joe Ralph, local officials of the organization.

John Weaver, one of the large stock raisers operating near Elgin, Oregon, was here Monday endeavoring to purchase a carload of alfalfa for his stock. In this he was unsuccessful, for it seems that just at that particular time all the baled alfalfa had been contracted for.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Doherty are occupying their home in this city after having been away several months to Prineville, Oregon, during which time the gentleman has had charge of J. K. Shotwell's stock used in that vicinity in railroad construction work. Shortly a road is to be constructed from Redmond to Prineville, and when the contract is settled Mr. Doherty will again leave to resume his duties as overseer.

Miss Bessie McPherson, the amiable accountant at the local creamery, went to Pendleton Tuesday afternoon and visited the following day at the parental home in that city. Prior to returning she bid goodbye to her sister Daisy, who is now on her way to Indianapolis, Ind., to enter the School of Missionary located there, the young lady's idea being to become a foreign missionary worker after completion of her studies in the Indianapolis institution.

Frank Rack, owner of a twenty acre tract of improved land five and one-half miles northeast of Hermiston which H. J. Stillings has been looking after for him, has concluded to live on the place, and is having a modern dwelling house built, also a stock stable. Mr. Rack has been in the poultry business near Pendleton for some time past, but after making up his mind that there was more money to be made raising alfalfa on his own place than raising chickens on some other man's land, he disposed of his poultry stock and will be settled in his new home shortly.

W. J. Downer, once an old-time railroad man who operated trains on O. W. years ago out of Umatilla, Walla Walla and other places on the system, but who later was overcome by the lure of the simple life, was in Saturday from the ranch he operates three miles east of town and in a short time disposed of the hay crop on the place amounting to 30 tons for $21 per. It used to be said by the railroad men with whom he worked that Mr. Downer was an expert in the railroad business. On casting that profession aside and becoming a rancher he evidently did not miss his calling, for it is now said and thought that he is even a better and more intensive farmer than he was a railroader in the halcyon days.

Dr. Alexander Reid, for many years one of the prominent citizens of Stanfield, has arranged to locate in Hermiston and expects to move to the government town next week, says the Stanfield Standard. He will occupy the house vacated by Dr. Wainwright, who enlisted in the army and has been called to the colors. Dr. Reid is now the only physician and surgeon in Stanfield, Hermiston and Umatilla, and it is expected that he will enjoy an excellent practice. He has long been a resident of Stanfield and has been identified with all movements for the good of the community. Mr. and Mrs. Reid have a large circle of friends here who are sorry to see them leave, but wish them prosperity and happiness in their new location.

Our New Fall and Winter Book of Samples

The Ed. V. Price Line is in and we are surprised at the moderate price for strictly all wool suits in view of the price of raw material at this time. We would advise those contemplating having a winter suit made, to do so now as prices are certain to be higher and the good patterns closed out early.

Mrs. Margaret Ralph arrived Wednesday morning from Spokane, to remain a couple of weeks, during which time she will be a guest at the homes of her sons, Frank and Joe Ralph.

John Pullar, Roy Dawson and George Pullar, homesteaders from near Echo, were in Hermiston Wednesday proving up on their land before Land Commissioner Warner.

Tuesday was naturalization day at the county seat, and among those securing their second papers were P. B. Doherty, Henry Notz, Soren Jensen and Carl Sachermeier of Hermiston.

Mrs. G. Gillett, who is a telegraph operator at Hinkle, as is also her husband, came over Tuesday and spent the day visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jay, at their ranch home on the eastern outskirts of Hermiston.

B. S. Kingsley arrived home Sunday evening from his trip to Culver, Oregon, where he has been visiting with his son Earl and attending to business matters connected with the store there that they jointly own.

A threshing crew consisting of neighbors, C. F. Ames, J. I. and A. W. Agnew, Geo. Strohm, Earl Boynton and a Mr. Olmstead who is visiting at the Carson ranch, made a short job of S. L. Carson's grain Sunday and put it all in sacks for him.

W. J. Stewart, who has held the position of section foreman here for the O. W. since April, 1916, has tendered his resignation and will leave soon with his family for Umatilla, near which place he has purchased a ranch which he intends to operate in future. His successor will be Frank Bryant, who comes from Danear, Oregon, to take charge of the section gang at this place.

An Editorial from the Oregonian of September 6, 1917

IS LUMBER REALLY DEAR?
It is generally understood that the lumbermen of the Northwest have had a tough time for quite a number of years, but there are few people, aside from those interested in some branch of the business, who understand fully, or even partially, the great slump several years ago and the prevailing unfavorable conditions at present. It is estimated by government officials that in normal times about 1,000,000 people are employed in the lumber industries in the United States, and one quarter of these, or 250,000, are employed in the Northwest—Oregon, Washington and Idaho. But during several years, up, say, to the first of July, 1916, 25 per cent of these men were idle. With the loss of wages to over 60,000 people and the low price of lumber, it can be seen that the lumbermen have had their worries. But many think that once more the lumbermen are profiting. Is that true? Is it not a fact that lumber comparatively is today one of the cheapest commodities on the market? An advertisement of the Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co. makes the following statements: In 1914 a Tum-A-Lum barn cost 40 hogs; in 1917 same barn cost 24 hogs. In 1914 a Tum-A-Lum house cost 450 bushels of wheat; in 1917 same house cost 225 bushels of wheat. In 1914 a Tum-A-Lum silo cost 220 bushels of corn; in 1917 same silo cost 110 bushels of corn. In 1914 a Tum-A-Lum machine shed cost 20 tons of alfalfa; in 1917 same shed cost 10 tons of alfalfa. Nowhere have we seen the facts as to the present comparative prices of lumber so tersely stated.
