BLAZING THE WRONG TRAIL

One of the leading farm journals of the south is authority for the statement that in the rural high schools of North Carolina seven thousand children are studying Latin, while only seven hundred are studying agriculture.

The significance of these figures are not grasped until we learn that of the pupils attending high school in this country not more than one per cent ever reaches the college or university.

When we assimilate the further fact that the high schools do not and can not impart a working knowledge of the Latin language we begin to appreciate the utter foolishness of an educational system that forces upon children the study of a dead language from which not one in 7,000 will ever benefit.

The above figures may vary in other states—we hope they do. But they serve to call forcibly to our attention a glaring fault in the school system of the United States.

And what is the conclusion? Why, that we are wedded in our schools to a fossilized, petrified and antiquated system that ordain that in order to acquire an "education" one must be conversant with a language that is so everlastingly dead it has not been spoken on earth in a thousand years. And this while the crying, burning needs of the hour are sidetracked as of minor importance.

The day of the antiquarian, the dreamer, the mummy, is past in this country. The age demands action, and the mind that is not trained to it in capital letters is doomed to be left at the starting wire.

An exchange says that ever since men began to print things that other people did not like there has been more or less controversy concerning the function of the newspaper. The grafter has always declared that the newspaper is a public nuisance, the tyrant has contended that it is arrayed against the interests of the state and the man with half-baked theories of life has contended that the press is the agent of the devil in overthrowing the community. Despite opposition, however, the press has won its way to freedom.

MAN AND HIS WEIGHT.

FOODS THAT ARE ENEMIES OF PERSONS INCLINED TO BE STOUT.

If you are inclined to be fleshy here are the foods you should avoid, according to an article in the American Magazine. The author says: "Overeating is not necessarily gluttony, or anything approaching it. A small meal made up of certain foods will furnish more fuel—and more fat—to the body than one twice as large and less discreetly chosen. Foods vary vastly in fuel value; for instance, one pound of olive oil will stand sponsor for more surplus flesh than forty-five pounds of the lettuce on which you are likely to eat it.

"The stout person must learn that he has both friends and enemies at the table. His enemies are sugar, bread, cereal, deserts, butter, cream, olive oil, bacon, cocoa and rich sauces. Among his best friends are lean meats, unsweetened fruits and green foods. Fat, alas, most plump people seem stricken with an ardent love for their enemies. This may be good Scripture, but it is mighty poor dietetics.

"Between forty and fifty a man who allows his weight to remain high is running more danger of an early demise than he would run if he contracted typhoid fever. What is more, if he were stricken with that disease his chance of recovery would be 10 per cent less than normal. A man who is thinner than the average, on the other hand, has less danger of dying in this decade than a man who tips the scales at the normal figure.

"When a man is in his twenties a deficiency of twenty pounds in weight makes him 12 per cent more liable to fall before the scythe of the implacable reaper. A slight surplus of flesh seems to assist one in escaping diseases that cause death in this period—principally tuberculosis and typhoid fever.

"A man in his fifties who is twenty pounds over normal weight has a 15 per cent mortality handicap to face. Should he be forty pounds over weight his chances of dying are increased 45 per cent thereby."

Cutting Retort.

The late Charles Frohman was one of those people who sometimes rap out a retort that in cooler moments they would wish unsaid. Of one of these Mrs. Patrick Campbell was the victim. During a rehearsal it appears Frohman made a constructive criticism which nettled the actress very much. Going to the footlights, Mrs. Patrick Campbell said: "Mr. Frohman, I want you to know that I am an artist."

Frohman, with a solemn face, instantly replied: "Madam, I will keep your secret."

Morocco and the Moors.

Five centuries ago Ferdinand and Isabella drove the Moor from Spain, and in Morocco they sought a new empire. The gradual conquest of north Africa by European powers has driven the true Mohammedan—the religious fanatic—southward or westward to the practically unknown interior, or to Morocco, Egypt, Tripoli, Tunisia and Algeria have all contributed from their populations to the peopling of Morocco.

Between Friends.

Jimson—I'd get married if I could find a sensible girl. Jobson—I know a nice girl, but I don't think she wants to marry. At least she refused me. Jimson—By George! She must be a sensible girl. Introduce me, will you? —Boston Transcript.

Indirect Taxation.

Brinker—Yes, your wife's clothes have cost me a good bit of money. Tinker—My wife's clothes! What do you mean? Brinker—Why, every time your wife gets a new gown my wife must have one just as expensive. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, FOR UMATILLA COUNTY

vs.
J. E. Keefe Jr., and — Summons
Keefe, his wife, defend.

In the name of the State of Oregon, we are hereby required to appear and answer or otherwise plead to the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit in said court within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons and on or before the 29th day of October, 1917, and you are notified that if you fail to so appear and answer or otherwise plead in this cause within said time, the plaintiff for want thereof will apply to the above entitled court for the relief prayed for in his complaint herein, to-wit, for judgment against the defendant, J. E. Keefe Jr. for the sum of $483.06 with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from March 2, 1917, until paid, and for the further sum of $8.00 for extension of abstract and for the further sum of $100.00 attorneys fees, and for plaintiff's costs and disbursements of this suit; and for a further decree declaring the mortgage described in plaintiff's complaint herein upon the N⁴ of NE⁴ of section 2, T³, N. R. 22 E. W. M. to be a valid and subsisting lien upon said property and that said mortgage be foreclosed and said property sold as by law required and the proceeds arising from such sale applied to the satisfaction of the amounts due plaintiff, including principal, interest, cost of extension of abstract, attorney's fees, costs and increased costs, and that the plaintiff may become a purchaser at such foreclosure sale and that the defendants and each of them and all persons claiming under or through them or any of them may be barred and foreclosed from all right, title or interest in and to the said premises, save the statutory right to redeem, and particularly may be barred and foreclosed of all equity of redemption, and that in the event said mortgage premises do not sell for sufficient to pay and satisfy said demands, any deficiency remaining may forthwith be satisfied from any other property of said mortgagor, J. E. Keefe Jr., and for such other and further relief as to equity may seem meet.

This summons is published pursuant to an order of the Honorable Gilbert W. Phelps, judge of the above entitled court, made and entered on the 10th day of September, 1917, and the first publication of this summons is made on the 15th day of September, 1917, and the last publication thereof shall be made on the 27th day of October, 1917.

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With The Oregon Farmer
Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.
