The Hermiston Herald

Issued Each Saturday by
M. D. O'CONNELL
HERMISTON OREGON

Entered as second-class matter, December 1906, at the postoffice at Hermiston, Oregon

Vegetarians now have the opportunity of their lives to test the accuracy of their theory.

Looking for a safe bank for your war-price savings, neighbor? What's the matter with Uncle Sam's great Liberty Bank?

When a man between the ages of 21 and 31 resists the draft, we proceed to handle him without gloves. When a man past 31 works his jaw over time resisting not only the draft, but every other measure of self preservation the government has enacted, we pass a resolution to "investigate" his loyalty. We don't like the word "copperhead," but it's the only word that fits, and everybody knows the fate decreed for the serpent.

That bunch of Congressmen who proposed to visit the battle front in France should be careful. The fireworks over there are entirely different from those they are used to in Washington.

Three-cent postage is all right, and we will pay it with a grin if it will help win the war. Still we can't help thinking there should be some way to extract a few dollars from the tons of matter carried out of Washington under the franking system.

IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

Mr. Sealy of Portland and Rev. Blackman spoke Tuesday evening. The result was that they took up a better subscription than Boardman for having a minister.

Miss Esther Graybeal and Miss Myrtle McCoy gave a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Lester. Everyone enjoyed themselves greatly. Luncheon was served at 10 o'clock and every one went home happy.

The high school boys and professor took the school children from the fifth grade up to the Hermiston stock show. The girls prepared lunch at the school house Friday. Everyone enjoyed the outing.

W. A. Walpole and family have returned from Portland to their former home in Irrigon.

The people who subscribed for the support of the minister called a meeting Sunday evening to discuss plans for the home of the parson.

Mr. Rider is owner of a sorghum mill which is now operating here.

J. B. Davis and Miss Rena Robbins were united in marriage November 10. They will make their home in Bend.

Fred Davis went to Willow Creek Sunday and returned in the afternoon. He met some of his old schoolmates there.

Mrs. Elsie Dawson is very ill this week.

Fred Irvin has been visiting his sister since Saturday and went to Hermiston where he will make his home.

Tom Roach left to take a position as foreman on another division of the railroad.

Mr. Wadsworth is the proud owner of a Ford runabout.

Mrs. Doring and son Edgar spent Sunday in Messner and Boardman.

Mrs. White and daughter are leaving for Portland, where they will make their home.

Last Saturday Irrigon was to have had a local teachers' institute, but owing to the uncertainty of gasoline, it failed to materialize. Nothing daunted the girls of the domestic science department, who had prepared a rousing chicken dinner for the occasion, decided to turn the affair into a "good roads day." They accordingly sent their invitations to a number of men who were engaged in grading our streets with the result that there was 100 per cent of acceptance to the invitations sent. After a sumptuous dinner, in which more than thirty people participated, speech making became the order of the day and every member of the school board, the clerk included, made short talks, followed by talks from all the patrons present. All were loud in their expressions of praise at the excellent management of the school affairs, and especially of the proficiency won by the girls in their culinary arts.

We are in the midst of the worst coal famine that the west has ever seen.

The car shortage and the labor problem has limited the output of the Utah and Wyoming mines to such an extent that they cannot begin to fill their orders.

Conditions are not quite as bad on the coast and we are still able to get a limited quantity of briquettes which we are selling for $9.50 out of the bins and from the cars. We expect to have a
