ENLIST FOR THE WAR

Not everybody can go to the front in France to fight for his country. Everybody unable to serve in the army, however, can enlist in the Red Cross.

The chance to become a recruit in the greatest army ever mobilized to relieve human suffering, as well as to lighten the burdens and enhance the strength of the fighting men, is presented to all by the Red Cross Christmas membership campaign.

Here is an opportunity to show the 1917 Christmas spirit, as well as to get into the war work that summons all patriotic Americans.

HELPING THE CHILD.

Some Don'ts For Mothers to Turn Over in Their Minds.

A few don'ts might well be conspicuously posted in many a mother's mind. Don't consider it necessary to systematically underrate your child.

Don't think that the moment you are alone with your boy or girl you must find fault or endeavor to improve the occasion by a little moralizing, no matter in how loving a spirit.

Don't correct the child before others. Never mind if a well meaning relative does say: "My dear, I am surprised that you do not show more force of character."

Lastly, laugh often with, but never at your child. This takes self denial, but it pays. Make up your mind that whatever others may say he can depend upon you for a quick, sure understanding without quibble or joke at his expense.

STREET CROWDS IN MOVIES.

Strategy Used to Keep People From Spoiling the Effect.

Street crowds are notoriously difficult to handle for the movies. They will never do what you want, and even when you are sneaking them there is always some smart Aleck in the foreground who insists upon looking into the camera and cracking his foolish face.

On one occasion Donlon wished to get a close up picture of a crowd looking skyward. It was to be used as a cut-in for an aeroplane story.

When all was ready Donlon stood in the middle of the street with a megaphone and began to call directions to one Ben, who stood on top of the building.

Decimating an Army. To say that an army is decimated means, strictly speaking, that it loses a tenth of its men.

High Cost of Living. The researches of Professor Mead of the University of California show that 310 men own 4,000,000 acres of the best land on the continent.

Borrowed Books. Whenever you lend a book jot down in a small blank book kept in a convenient place for that purpose the date, the name of the person to whom the book is lent and the title of the book.

Tyranny. There are few minds to which tyranny is not delightful. Power is nothing but as it is felt, and the delight of superiority is proportionate to the resistance overcome.
