PENDLETON, OREGON QUALITY-SERVICE PENDLETON, OREGON

LOCAL BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Knapp and family enjoyed the Fourth of July visiting at the parental home of the lady in Richland, Wash.

Mrs. Carrie Furry left Thursday for Portland and other coast points after having visited the past six weeks here with her brother, F. B. Swayze, and family.

George Stewart, who has been holding down a position with the Newport Construction Co. at Prineville for nearly a year past, arrived home the latter part of last week to enjoy a little vacation recreation.

Mary Pickford, that wonderful film actress, will appear in "The Romance of Redwood" at The Movie this Saturday night. It is said this is a strong and stirring drama, in which the lady appears at her best.

Miss Neva Spinning returned to Toppish, Wash., Monday after a delightful visit here with her father, H. Spinning, and her brother Art and family. The young lady is book keeper for the Washington Nursery Co. at that place.

A letter from W. A. Jeppe, enclosing a check to advance him a year or his subscription to The Herald, states that himself and family will not move from Pendleton to Hermiston, as was intended, the gentleman having accepted a lucrative position in the county seat on his return there last week after having been here several days making arrangements to move to this city.

B. F. Knapp returned last Saturday from the Horse Heaven country, whither he went a few days before to look after cattle on the range there that he is taking care of for a big Portland concern. Notification of water shortage in that part of the Horse Heaven due to the continued dry weather was the reason for his trip. On arrival there he found that the well from which the cattle derived water had gone dry, and as a result he was compelled to move the stock to another place in the hills where water was more plentiful. He said it was reported to him that many of the wheat farmers and cattle men of that district have had their water supply cut short on account of the exceptionally dry season, and as this has never before occurred they are up against it hard, having made no preparation for such an unprecedented condition.

ENDED THE ARGUMENT.

How Dewey Settled an Ugly Native Official at Manila.

Frank Lombard of San Francisco, who was in Manila during the winter of 1898-9, tells this story of the late Admiral Dewey:

"In Cavite, you know, there are no dockage facilities. Vessels lie at anchor, and native freight boats called 'cascoes' carry things to and from the shore. One of the native officials contracted with Admiral Dewey to carry stuff to the flagship. After doing his duty he dressed himself in the latest European fashion to visit the admiral. Silk hat, white shirt, cravat, cuffs, etc."

"When he presented his bill Dewey remarked that there were many overcharges which he could not pay. The freighter captain protested that the admiral was wrong and that he had agreed to the terms. Dewey politely replied that he would pay the original bill, nothing more."

"Mistaking the quiet, gentlemanly manner of the admiral, the freighter became insulting in his manner and insisted upon payment. With a slight movement of the hand the admiral remarked to the watch, 'Drop that man overboard,' and in a minute the plug hat was floating in Cavite bay, while the insolent native was swimming to his vessel."—Exchange.

Pay Up Now.

If you have $3 or more or less for which you have no pressing need go and pay a debt with it. That is the best use you can make of money, unless you are naked or starving. Now is the time to obey the Bible injunction, "Owe no man anything." That is in the Bible, but from the way some debtors spend money they don't seem to know it or care for it. If they have a dollar extra it goes for a pleasure or a convenience. The duty to pay some one they owe never occurs to them. Nor does it occur to them that every unsettled debt is a drag on a community. Everybody has to pay interest on it.

People have to pay more for their sugar and coffee because other people owe the grocer and won't pay. It is one of the items in the high cost of living. And then there is a wholesome public policy in scattering the money around. It will help find work for some poor man and help some other debtor pay his debt. So pay up now.—Ohio State Journal.

What Kept Her Young.

I know a little lady, slim, bent, but unlined by the years, who sits absorbedly through all of the fashion openings of the great shops and watches breathlessly as the models in their marvelous gowns file past her chair. She particularly loves the tulle and be-spangled evening frocks that the young girls wear, and she tells us glowingly of the "wonderful color, my dear, and the way it was made!" She couldn't possibly wear the gowns that she admires so. She couldn't afford them if they were suitable, but she loves them just the same.

"It's time," I once heard a neighbor woman say rather sniffingly, "that she got over such vanity. She's old enough to stop thinking about clothes."

The neighbor didn't stop to reason out that it was the love of clothes that kept a spark of youth in the heart of the little old lady—a divine spark of youth that kept her from being colorless and tired and wan.—Christian Herald.

What Thrift Means.

Thrift is positively essential to success, and every American wants to be successful. A man should put his own name on his list of creditors. He should cut down his expenditures 10 per cent and pay that amount to himself. Any business should pay 10 per cent, and a man should consider himself a business proposition which should pay dividends. When he begins to see this he will become thrifty. It has been estimated that if a man who begins to work at the age of twenty on a salary of $50 a month and receives an increase of $5 each year for forty years will save 10 per cent of his salary and invest it wisely or put it in a savings bank at compound interest, at the end of that time he will be financially independent and can retire with a comfortable income.

Doing Others.

The famous phrase in "David Harum" which reads, "Do unto the other fellow the way he would like to do unto you—and do it fust," has had almost universal currency, and to most people its novelty was one of its attractions. "But if you turn to Dickens' "Martin Chuzzlewit" you will find that young Jonas remarks in one place, "Do other men or they will do you." Not so very far apart except in time—Hartford Courant.

At Home and Abroad.

"Solomon was the wisest man, was he not?"
"I'm not sure," replied Miss Cayenne. "Of course he managed to get a reputation with the public, but I'd like to know what some of those wives had to say about him."—Washington Star.
