HERMISTON LOCALS

Isaac Jay passed Monday and Tuesday visiting with his two sons in Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart left Tuesday for Tacoma, where they will spend a week or ten days visiting their daughter, Mrs. Wyckoff, and family.

Mrs. Frank Ralph returned from Pendleton Tuesday last after having been in that city several days securing medical aid for their little son Fracis.

Miss Eleanor Casserly, who is training in St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton to become a nurse, visited this week at the farm home of her parents northwest of this city.

Mrs. C. M. Jackson is enjoying a visit from her sister, Miss Daisy McPherson of Pendleton, at the ranch home of herself and husband in the Minnehaha district.

Mrs. J. D. Watson expects to leave today for Chelsea, Michigan, to visit a month with her mother and other relatives. It has been four years since the lady has visited at the parental home.

Mrs. A. White of this city has moved to Westland, where she is acting as postmistress. She has taken the examination for the office and expects to receive a regular appointment soon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Frick departed for Portland Wednesday, to remain there an indefinite period. Being a contractor and builder, Mr. Frick expects to enter the employment of the government there.

George R. Shafer purchased 24 stands of bees Tuesday from R. C. Bishop, a rancher near Irrigon, together with the honey, and has moved them to an apiary he has established north of town.

E. P. Dodd, who owns considerable property in the thriving little town of Boardman, returned Sunday from a short business visit to that city, which is termed the future metropolis of Morrow county by Boardmanite boosters.

Mrs. S. S. Thompson of Elgin, Oregon, who enjoyed a week's visit at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Thompson in Columbia district, returned to Elgin Monday. The lady's husband and the above named gentleman are brothers.

Word comes that Messrs. Callbeck and Correll did not tarry in Portland to work in the shipyards, as they at first intended, but went on to Astoria, where they are now in the employ of the government at the shipyards near that place.

Rev. L. S. Chapman, who has filled the pulpit in the Baptist church of this city the past three years, left for Portland Wednesday to join his family, they having preceded him. Soren Jensen went along with him, and together they expect to secure positions in the government shipyards at St. Johns, a suburb of Portland.

Mrs. Lottie Wilson, who has been visiting with Hermiston friends the past two weeks, departed last Saturday for her home in Palo Alto, Calif. The lady was a former resident, having resided here a few years ago, at which time her son-in-law, Mr. Dunham, operated a clothes cleaning and pressing establishment in this city.

Friends of Miss Kate Barton, former teacher of English and history in the Hermiston high school, will be interested to know that she has accepted a position in the English department of the Salem high school. This is a wonderful opportunity for Miss Barton, as the chance for advancement in the schools of the capital city is practically unlimited. Miss Barton is spending the summer with her parents on the farm near Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Zeller, who have resided in this community the past three years, part of which time they farmed on North Ridge and the balance lived in this city, departed Monday for Portland. The Rose City was their home for a good many years before coming here, and Mr. Zeller is returning there at this time to re-enter his former occupation of contractor and builder, which he followed in that city for many years.

Miss Bertha Dishon, who was a guest at the home of Mrs. J. F. McNaught several days prior to leaving last Saturday for Bend after a visit to relatives in Walla Walla, met many of her former friends during her short stay here. Her brother Charles, who is salesman in Walla Walla for the Dahlen Auto Co., accompanied her to Hermiston by auto, remaining until Sunday, during which time he was a guest at the home of his friend, J. A. M. Robb, and family. It will be remembered that it was Mr. Dishon Sr., who built and operated the first livery stable that now stands just north of the Hotel Hermiston on the west side, and that himself and family lived on the fine orchard tract now under lease to B. W. Smith, which reverted to the children after the demise of Mr. and Mrs. Dishon a little over a year and a half ago.
