FEEDING FOR RESULTS

Think of the folly of feeding your work horse, your cow your hog and your chickens from the same crib of corn. You expect a different result in each case—but you don't get it, and then you blame your stock.

DON'T DO THAT. USE

BALANCED FEEDS

We have feed for every purpose—and it will bring results. Feed for your cow, to produce milk and butter, feed for the horse, to make him strong; feed that will fatten your hog; feed that makes your hens lay.
