HERMISTON LOCALS

President F. B. Swayze of the First National Bank transacted business in Portland Thursday.

District Game Warden Geo. Tonkin was here Wednesday and Thursday sizing up the hunting situation.

The Farmers' Exchange has received a carload of non-irrigated potatoes from the Palouse country in Washington.

A. L. Larson, cashier of the First National, was forced to suspend his duties in the bank Monday and Tuesday on account of illness.

George L. Challis received his call this week for physical examination and went before the draft board for that purpose yesterday.

Mr. Sanders, a rancher 3 1/2 miles north of town, has traded 80 acres of irrigated land partly improved to F. D. Stanley for 160 acres of wheat land near Fairfield, Idaho.

B. F. Knapp and P. B. Siscoel returned Saturday from a business trip into the Bickleton country in Washington. The journey was made by auto.

Mrs. Geo. Gillette, day operator at Hinkle, while in town one day this week purchased a $100 Columbia phonograph from E. W. Mack of the Hermiston Drug Co.

The party that took two books out of Mr. Briggs' buggy at Kingsley's store corner last Saturday night is known, and in order to avoid trouble should return them at once.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Rogers, Columbia district ranchers, returned Wednesday afternoon from a month's visit at Hood River with their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Scull, who resides there.

The Red Cross Christmas boxes for the soldiers are now ready for distribution at the home of Mrs. H. E. Hitt, and any who have received overseas labels can call and receive them.

O. P. Burris, who has been operating a leased ranch from Mr. La Barre during the summer, left Wednesday to join his family at The Dalles, where they will reside during the balance of the winter and return in the spring.

Harold McKeen came up from the coast and spent a week visiting here with his parents and his brother Edward, who is here on furlough. The young man is employed in one of the government spruce production camps of western Oregon.

E. P. Hilsley was called to Pullman, Wash., early in the week on receipt of a message that his son Howard, who after being drafted entered the training school there, was dangerously ill with pneumonia. During the week the young man had a turn for the better, which allowed his parents to return home.

R. C. Challis went out on an automobile trading and selling rampage Tuesday, and before he got through he sold his Ford runabout truck to a man in Stanfield and his Overland touring car to J. S. Mattoon of this city. And then to cap the climax he traded his Ford ton truck in on a new Maxwell ton truck.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Payne from Upper Butter Creek were here the first of the week visiting at the home of their son, H. L. Payne, now owner of the Isaac Jay place east of town. Another son, C. B. Payne of Heppner, was also here, and like his parents looked over the project with a view to locating later.

Harry M. O'Connell, who has been visiting with relatives in this city the past ten days, left Thursday for Seattle, where he will remain until his call for service in the army, which he expects in a few days, reaches him from San Francisco. While here he took the physical examination before the county draft board at Pendleton.

Householders now can secure a monthly allowance of sugar up to three pounds per person instead of two pounds, as during the past three months. The full month's allowance may still be received at one time. Announcement of this change in the regulations was received by the county administrator last week and local grocers were notified of the change.

J. L. Stork returned from Pendleton Wednesday morning, whether he went the day before on receipt of a telephone call that his son Walter, who had contracted influenza, was quite ill. The little fellow is attending the Sisters' school there, and was taken down with the disease several days ago. Shortly after the arrival of his father the fever began to diminish and the lad is now out of danger.

Mrs. Anna Taylor and Miss Ina Gilbert passed Wednesday visiting in Umatilla. Miss Gilbert is the primary teacher in the Umatilla schools and went there on being informed by the board that school was about to re-open. However, there having appeared two more cases of the flu it was decided that it would not be wise to open school at this time, so the young lady returned to her home here to await another call to her duties.

James J. Reed, son-in-law of Madam Belcamp, returned yesterday to his home in Tacoma after a ten day visit here.

Theodore Parks proved up on his homestead north of town Thursday before U. S. Land Commissioner Warner. E. M. Rowe, Frank Ranney, W. H. Bense and W. T. Roberts were his witnesses.

Much interest is taken in the bulletins on war conditions that are posted each afternoon at P. B. Siscoel's confectionery store. They are furnished free by the East Oregonian of Pendleton, and contain very good advance information. Mr. Siscoel will continue posting them in his place of business the balance of this week, when they will be transferred to Hitt's confectionery store for a couple of weeks, and then back and forth for like periods until discontinued.

Council Compiles Budget

At the regular meeting of the city council Wednesday evening the city budget for the ensuing year was compiled and it is published elsewhere in this issue. Among other things the council done after canvassing the election ballot was to order Chief of Police Crandall to see property owners on the east side of Second street between Main and Gladys avenue and have them trim the branches off the shade trees that are now becoming a nuisance to pedestrians.
