DISC HARROWS

Reversible Ball Bearing Box on our Dandy Disc Harrows

In each inside bearing box are hard chilled balls running between two chilled surfaces and always in oil, as the box is constructed cup-shaped so that the oil chamber retains the oil and the dirt is kept out. The box on this harrow is reversible, so that should the bearings become worn the boxes can be taken off one gang and placed on the other with bearing reversed, and thus have an entirely new bearing without expense. This is the best Ball Bearing Box made, with the best quality steel balls. Terms to suit.

HERMISTON LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Brownell were Umatilla visitors in this city Monday.

Col. J. K. Shotwell left Wednesday for a few days visit to his family at McMinnville, Ore.

Henry Notz is in Boardman this week laying a concrete floor in the basement of the school building there.

Arthur Beasley, who is in the employ of the O. W. R. & N. at North Powder, Ore., passed Thanksgiving day here with his parents.

Mrs. Geo. Holland went to Portland Wednesday to pass the Thanksgiving holidays with her husband, who is working in that city.

Mrs. Chas. Hood of Portland, a former resident of the project, is a guest in this city this week at the home of her cousin, Mrs. A. S. Johnson.

W. A. Finn, owner of a 55-acre ranch three miles north of town, departed the middle of the week for Seattle to spend the balance of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McPherson of Wasco visited here a few days this week with their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Sisco and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Udey.

J. W. Hamman, well known Butter Creek rancher operating near Westlap, was in town Wednesday. He came in with a load of hay, which he marketed locally.

Mrs. W. H. Hoffmann and little son arrived Sunday morning from Spokane after a visit of five weeks in that city at the home of the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Von Holt.

B. F. Knapp returned Sunday from a business trip to Portland. Mr. Knapp has discarded his trusty Ford for a Grant Six that he purchased while in the lower valley.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mack came Wednesday from Eagle Valley, Ore., and are passing the Thanksgiving holidays in this city with the gentleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mack.

Ernest Waterman is here on furlough from Corvallis passing the Thanksgiving holidays at the home of his mother, Mrs. Rena Waterman. He says he enjoys the student training work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gorham motored to Boardman Thursday to attend the community Thanksgiving dinner. While there they visited with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Blayden.

Harold Sullivan, a member of the Seamen Co. in the University of Seattle, came home Wednesday afternoon on a six day furlough, which he will pass visiting at the home of his parents in this city.

J. Pelmulder and family this week moved to their recently acquired ranch on the eastern edge of the city, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peed have moved into the house vacated by them at the eastern end of Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Blakely and family arrived overland in their auto Monday from Condon, Oregon, and after visiting here for a time went to the Horse Heaven country in Washington to look after a large cattle they own there.

Miss Ina Gilbert resumed her duties Monday in the school at Umatilla, the institution reopening on that day after a six weeks close down on account of the "flu" quarantine. During her enforced vacation the young lady visited at the parental home in this city.

Miss Marian Leek returned Wednesday from Riverside, a suburb of Pendleton, where she has been teaching school. Influenza has caused a shut-down of the institution again, and the young lady will visit with her parents on North Ridge until quarantine is lifted there.

A. W. Cobb, wide-awake Boardman rancher, was transacting business in Hermiston Tuesday and Wednesday. He said he would remain longer, only for having to hurry back to be present at a community Thanksgiving dinner held Thursday in Ballenger hall in that active little city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sapper motored to Pendleton Friday of last week. They were accompanied by their daughter Margaret and Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Sapper. While at the county seat Mr. Sapper had castings made for his Ford water cooling invention, which he expects soon to put on the market.

J. A. Rowan, who left here three months ago to work in the shipyards in Portland, returned Sunday morning from a two months visit to relatives in California. Mr. Rowan worked just a month in the shipyards after leaving here, and would probably have stayed longer at the job were it not that seeing men accidentally killed kind of got on his nerves, and he quit and took the trip to California after seeing one of his fellow laborers pierced through and through by a scuttling and fall dead beside him. He says that farm life will be good enough for him hereafter.

On December 14th there will be a special meeting of the voters of School District No. 14 at the school house in Hermiston to vote on a special tax to raise sufficient extra money to conduct the school during the fiscal year ending June, 1919.

A skiff of snow, the first of the season, fell in this valley Tuesday. Enough of it came to cover the ground with a mantle of white, but it could only remain until the following forenoon on account of sun appearing and the weather turning warm again.

Members of the Catholic church to the number of 35 constituted a jolly party that assembled at the priests' residence Thursday evening and infringed on the good nature of Fathers Butler and Killian by making merry with games, vocal and instrumental music and recitations, at the conclusion of which all enjoyed a light repast.

G. L. Hatzler returned to his home in Wasco Wednesday after having been here a few days looking over the project with the view of locating. He desired to purchase alfalfa land, and while he did not find anything to suit him this trip, he says he will return early in the spring and locate anyway, even if he has to lease.

Rex Sanford, who operates an alfalfa ranch of 50 acres on the south side of Cold Springs reservoir, was in Hermiston last Saturday. While here he patronized the local merchants liberally, and took time to drop into this office and leave an order for printing letter paper and envelopes with the name of his ranch thereon. This would indicate that Mr. Sanford is one of the progressive rancher kind, and others might profitably emulate his example. He has christened his place Ardmore Ranch and besides raising alfalfa he owns a flock of Merino sheep.

Notice of Annual Meeting
