

LOCAL BRIEFS

Admission prices for the matinee are fixed at 25 and 50 cents and for the evening shows 50 cents straight.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its business meeting Friday, March 21, at 2:30 in the library rest room.

Services in the Methodist church Sunday at 11 a. m. will be conducted by a troupe of six business men from Pendleton.

There are many rumors of new buildings to be erected in Hermiston this spring. Among them are a couple or three business blocks.

The top floor rooms of the Hotel Oregon have been furnished and put in shape for accommodation of increasing guests of the hostelry, according to the landlady, Mrs. C. B. Hay.

George Holland came home Sunday from Portland, where he has been for some time in the employ of a meat packing concern. He expects to remain here during the spring and summer.

Neighborhood Club.

The Neighborhood club met last week at the home of Mrs. F. P. Phipps. A social hour was enjoyed until the club met in regular session. At the close of the business session little Miss Florence Yudy favored the club with two vocal selections, and Miss Laura Phipps rendered pleasing musical pieces.

Mrs. Gallaher in a most pleasing manner gave us an interesting talk on "Rescue Work." Throughout her address she made clear the fact that some of us Oregonians are asleep. It was without a doubt the best talk we have heard at the club in the past year.

Mrs. Gallaher gave her talk from her own observation of actual facts that exist in Portland today, of the danger rocks ahead of our boys and girls, and advised that we wake up to the dangers nearer home.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Reid Wednesday, March 19.

Fat Man (after squeezing through)—Confound it! The turnstile is a relic of the dark ages.

Gateman (smiling)—But you can't deny, old top, that it's one of the things that really count!

The Goose Step.

Mrs. Flatbush—What new step was that you were trying last night?

Mr. Flatbush—That's the goose step. Didn't you know it?

Mrs. Flatbush—I never saw a goose do it before.

VERY LIKELY.

First Congressman—He wants to be considered a giant in debate.

Second Congressman—I reckon that's why he uses such blamed long words.

A Rave.

There seems but little to be praised
In fortune's strange devices,
For every time your pay is raised
There comes a jump in prices.

No Doubt.

"You seem depressed."
"Got to write a story and dunnow what to write about," declared the popular novelist.

"That's a mean situation."
"Yep. A manufacturer could make money with a fountain pen that was a self-starter."

Super Solemnity.

"Wagnerian music always sounded noisy and incoherent to me."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne; "my idea of a Wagnerian orchestra is a big jazz band trying to take itself seriously."

Adapted.

"When the speeding motorist saw the traffic policeman after him, he saved himself by adapting an old maxim."

"What was it?"
"A spurt in time saves fine."

When They Lean Over the Rail.

"I see by the papers that aviators frequently suffer from a malady very like seasickness, due to the pitching of the plane."

"H-m. That's going to be mighty unpleasant for us pedestrians below."

The Arts.

"Of course, you admit the necessity of using alcohol in the arts."

"Yes," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop; "and just between ourselves I regard mixing a drink as an art."

Admits All.

Wife (during squabble)—You can't deny that I made you what you are.

Hub—I certainly can't, for what I am is head over heels in debt.

In the Kitchen.

"I have a grate trouble," sighed the Range.

"Perhaps," returned the Nutmeg, "but I have a grater."
