Obedience the First Great Step in the Training of Little U. S. Citizens.

By MARY E. DOZIER, National Kindergarten Association

The question of obedience to the laws of the home and to the community confronts each individual. Some pass it lightly by, giving it little thought, and less observance, but not so the thoughtful parent or teacher to whom the care of children is entrusted.

Obedience should underlie the life of each of us; it is essential to happiness. Only as we learn to listen and obey are we fitted to take our rightful place in society. We must obey the laws of nature if we would be healthy, the laws of home and community if we would be worthy members of each group, and above all, there must be obedience to the moral law.

Since obedience is such an important factor in each life, how can we best teach it to the child without destroying his individuality?

Many mothers admit their inability to obtain obedience, and teachers are often asked, "How do you make him obey? He does not mind me at all." A dreadful confession, but since it is made, let us try to help these mothers. First, let us ask a few questions:

Do you govern your child by love or by fear?

Are you honest with him?

Are your demands reasonable and do you explain why you make certain requirements?

Do you talk indiscreetly before your child and admit your inability to control him?

Do you require prompt obedience or do you tolerate disobedience and belated performance of duty?

These questions are all involved in obedience. Obedience is subjection to rightful control at all times and in all places.

Yet many parents are satisfied with only occasional obedience. One day a mother expects immediate response to her request, while a little later she waits indefinitely for obedience. The child under such conditions proceeds to decide matters for himself, and his motto becomes, "With mother, obey when it is convenient." Such a child soon demoralizes the children of the whole neighborhood.

COLUMBIA NEWS NOTES

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

There will be a rabbit drive Sunday, February 22, at 12 o'clock sharp. Will all meet at the F. C. Willhite ranch, known as the old Balch place, 4½ miles northeast of Hermiston. No dogs or guns allowed. Everybody be sure to come as the rabbits are very numerous over in this part of the country and a great drive is expected.

T. H. Haddox and sons John and Claud, with F. Waugaman, made a trip to Pendleton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Skovbo are the happy parents of a baby girl, born to them on Tuesday, February 10, 1920.

There will be Sunday school and church at Columbia school house at the usual hour this Sunday, there having been no services the past three weeks due to the flu.

BOARDMAN NEWS

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

The teachers of the public school were each voted a valentine by the school board last Saturday in the form of re-election. All salaries under $125 per month were raised to that amount. Acceptances are to be filed with the principal not later than March 11th, and it is requested that no one sign a contract unless it is their bona fide intention to carry out the same.

Special Flag exercises were held Friday afternoon in dedication of the new steel flag pole just erected.

Rumors are strong that Boardman is to have a bank. Estimates for a suitable building have been asked for, and parties are in town in connection with the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ballenger are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Ballenger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murchie of Wasco.

Rev. Self preached in the Community church last Sunday, and announced services for next Sunday. He will also preach at Irrigon.

Sylvester Attebury, a well known rancher of this community who underwent a serious operation at St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton on the 9th of this month, is reported by Dr. Gale, the attending physician, to be recovering nicely.

There are several children out of school on account of the grippe, but school will continue if matters do not get too serious. It has been our experience that pupils are as well off at school as on the streets.

A special school meeting is to be called March 12th to authorize the school board to sell the Castle Rock buildings.

Postmasters are to be appointed in Oregon as follows: Wayne E. Elliott, Veneta, Lane county; Charles W. Sharpe, Camas Valley, Douglas county; Percy E. Allen, Elsie, Clatsop county, and Mrs. Marie W. Havill, Hoff, Clackamas county.

By agreement with the state, the Pacific Livestock company will put on the market 10,000 acres of Harney valley land, and first choice will be given soldiers and sailors. They will have 90 days in which to take up the option of settlement.

Grasshoppers cannot be classed as squirrels, noxious rodents or predatory animals under the Oregon laws, and consequently county courts are not authorized to appropriate money for their extermination, according to an opinion by Attorney-General Brown.
