COLUMBIA NEWS NOTES

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

The warm weather of the past week has been making a showing on the rose bushes in the community. In many places they are covered with buds although the bushes were frozen down to the snow line during the severe winter, but apparently did little harm.

Leslie Sampson who sold his farm last year and moved to Portland, is seen again on Hermiston streets, having returned with his family to visit his wife and folks and look up a new location. He has been in the barber business since leaving, but farming in the neighborhood looks good to him nevertheless.

A real jolly time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bellschamper, last Monday evening, the occasion being the 63rd birthday of Mr. B. Most delightful refreshments were served by the hostess after which stories of reminiscent days were related by several present, which proved that sand sage brush and jack rabbits can be very good topics for pleasant stories. Many gifts were received by Mr. Bellschamper. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jensen, Otto Heintz, Mr. and Mrs. F. Beddow, Mr. and Mrs. G. Beddow, Mr. and Mrs. J. Udey, and S. R. Oldaker.

Columbia pupils winning prizes at the final track meet held at Pendleton last Saturday were: Florence Hannan, Claude Hadox and Sherlock Stockard. On account of the play at the school which require a great deal of time of the pupils, they did not have the necessary training for the contests which made the number rather small in winning prizes. Great enthusiasm is now being aroused over base ball at the school, and people passing would think the White Sox were on the diamond from the amount of rooting heard.

A large sprinkling of ladies from Columbia attended the millinery school at Hermiston Tuesday and Thursday and will be continued over Saturday. The ladies will all appear to have bran new hats now, the H. C. L. being the least of their troubles on this score.

Mrs. Willard Felthouse is expected home now any time, having been at Spokane for the past month taking medical treatments.

Jim Catron, an old time resident and who is now living at Cascade Locks, was in the neighborhood the early part of the week on business.

The portrait of Rev. Owen Jones, Columbia land owner, has been seen in the Pendleton Tribune one day this week. Rev. Jones is touring the state in the interest of his candidacy on the Republican ticket for Congress. He has a great many warm supporters here.

Will Rhodes, who with his brother has bought the Lay Garage, has been farming in the East end for the past three years. Friends and neighbors hope he will succeed as well in his new venture.

Little Edna Ott has been threatened with pneumonia the past week and on Thursday was taken to the doctor at Hermiston, since which time her condition is greatly improved.

Frank Foulson, brother of Mrs. Wade Noble, and wife from San Jose, California, are visiting at the Noble home.

The neighborhood club will meet at the home of Mrs. Edmunds Tuesday the 18th, on the old Sellers place. Ladies bring needles and thimbles.

The city council held their regular meeting in the basement of the Library Thursday evening at which several bills were read and allowed also prices were placed on lots belonging to the city. Prices placed thereon ranged from $20 to $200. It was decided to give Geo. Holland $65 per month for tending to the city irrigation system.

Why Willamette University Needs Help

Willamette University, located at Salem, is one of the oldest denominational schools in the country, has a magnificent record of achievement and has given to the world many men and women of strong character who have contributed and are contributing to the best progress of the nation's life—especially of the Northwest.

Willamette exists for but one purpose—to educate men and women fully, in a Christian way, and to send them out into the world to help make it better. That is what it has been doing for 75 years and what it will continue to do on a larger scale.

Willamette now needs the rehabilitation of Waller hall, partially destroyed by fire last December, and completion of Lausanne hall, the former for men and the latter as a dormitory for women. A central-heating plant is also required.

Laymen of the Oregon conference have set out to raise $100,000 for this purpose. Confident that the old school is entitled to even more than this amount, they will canvass the state about next week. To what better investment could money be put?

Campaign headquarters are in room 605, Platt building, Portland.

LIGHT MULCH AIDS BERRIES

Tends to Keep Soil Moist and Prevents Frost Loosening Roots—Don't Smother Plants.

Most of the berries are hardy without protection in winter so far as cold is concerned, but the light mulch will keep the soil moist and prevent frost loosening the roots. When putting the mulch on strawberries we have to make it thin or it will smother the plants.

We Wish to Extend Our Thanks

To our many customers who have patronized us during the past year, and trust they will favor the new owner of Lay's Garage with the same generous custom.

We will still be at the old stand for a short while. Maxfield & Rhodes, however, will have complete management.

We are desirous of getting our accounts cleaned up during this month. Those who have accounts on our books will favor us by calling around.
