THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

—is maintained by the state in order that the young people of Oregon may receive, without cost, the benefits of a liberal education.

The University includes the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, the Graduate School, the School of Physical Education, and the professional Schools of Law, Medicine (at Portland), Architecture, Commerce, Journalism, Education and Music.

High standards of scholarship are made possible by an able faculty, well equipped laboratories and a library of nearly 100,000 volumes.

Supervised athletics are encouraged and every attention given the health and welfare of the students.

With a heightened confidence gained by the recent expression of public support, the University is now entering upon an era of large development and extended usefulness.

EASTERN OREGON OFFERS DAIRYING FIELD

O. A. C., Corvallis.—Eastern Oregon irrigated districts offer splendid opportunities for successful dairying, says E. J. Fitts, U. S. and O. A. C. dairy field specialist. "The climate is favorable, and an abundance of the right kind of feed is produced.

Alfalfa Cheapest and Best
"The dairy cow for maximum profitable production must have a liberal amount of protein. One of the cheapest and best sources is alfalfa hay. Experienced dairymen everywhere recognize its value and feed large amounts of it even in places far distant from point of production. "This adds expenses of handling, baling, freight and commission or selling costs to the cost of hay where it is grown. Even with these added costs it is still the cheapest feed they can buy, and the handicap does not force them out of the business.

Cow Changes Hay to Milk
"Dairying is a manufacturing enterprise with the cow converting raw material—hay—into concentrated product—milk. The nearer the plant is to the source of materials supply, the greater the opportunity for profit.
"Alfalfa thrives luxuriantly in the irrigated regions, and corn, or sunflowers in the higher belts, does well and provides succulence of an ideal nature as silage.

"Alfalfa hay and silage make a dairy ration second to none, and with them grain feeding is reduced to a minimum."

COMMUNITY FAIRS HELPS PRODUCTION

If a community bloweth not its own horn by some form of community activities, verily by whom shall it be blown?

Advertisers have discovered that good characteristics of their products which are so familiar to them as to seem commonplace are often not so well known to the great buying public. Goods must be talked about if business is to be secured. The same holds true with communities. The excellence of neighborhood products and the special lines in which various individuals excel may seem like a very old story to those immediately concerned, but there are plenty of folks near by who have not heard this story, or, if by chance they have heard it, it is very much worth while from a business standpoint to repeat it—and more than once.

It follows that promoting some form of community fair, such as an exhibit of local products, is profitable from many points of view. It stimulates better production of stock, farm produce, and garden truck. It engenders community pride, and advertises in an attractive fashion good products and those who produced them.

Persons interested in securing further information on the successful management of community fairs should write the United States Department of Agriculture for literature on this subject.

Congress Needs to Know

All congress rather than the special committee needs education in the needs and merits of western land reclamation policies, according to N. J. Sinnott, congressman from the third Oregon district. Mr. Sinnott said that it takes more than petitions to western senators and congressmen to get the necessary laws and appropriations for carrying out the western program. The western group is outvoted more than two to one, and the best way to get votes is to enlighten eastern men in irrigation and drainage problems.

Maris, New Director

Paul V. Maris, director of O. A. C. extension work, has been appointed a director of the Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers. He believes the association is entitled to the moral backing of the college, and has accepted the appointment as an opportunity to further the important poultry industry of the state.

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:
In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.
For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.
For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.
For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.
