UMATILLA PROJECT WORK ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

C. M. Howard, engineer on the Pasco project, and J. C. Scott, county agent of Franklin county, Washington, visited the Umatilla project Wednesday and the Experimental Farm, investigating the border system of irrigation. H. K. Dean of the Experimental Farm has held border demonstrations on the Pasco project and as a result the farmers are using it very extensively. Messrs. Howard and Scott wishing to see the method as used on the Umatilla project, made the trip for that purpose.

Don't Go Hungry

Hermiston is going to be able to take care of its visitors Friday and Saturday most generously as far as eating places are concerned. The hotels and restaurant are preparing for big crowds and the churches will draw their usual throngs.

The Baptist ladies will serve the noon meal in the basement of the church, the Methodist ladies will begin about 5:00 p. m. to serve supper in Mack's hall and the Catholic ladies will have lunch ready to serve all day in McDermid's carpenter shop on Main street.

Distinguished Visitor Here

Paul de Jager, a Dutch engineer on his way to India, was in Hermiston Tuesday and was the guest of H. M. Shilling, of the Reclamation Service, while here.

Mr. de Jager has been engaged by a private corporation in Java, in the Dutch East Indies, to build irrigation works.

While in Hermiston he was looking over the project getting ideas to be used in his work, and was taken to Three Mile Falls, Cold Springs reservoir and dam and other works of a like nature.

Parent Teachers Association to Meet

The Parent Teachers' Association will meet October 14th. A most interesting program has been arranged by those in charge. W. W. Green, county superintendent of schools will give a talk, and there will be an explanation of ballot measures of interest because of the coming election by E. P. Dodd.

A discussion of the hot lunch question will be led by Mrs. Eli Winesett and Mrs. Sharpberg. Music will be enjoyed between the talks.

TUBERCULOSIS INVESTIGATION

Mr. Osborn stated, "for citizens to consider some means of combating the disease in their own county. The disease spreads rapidly and is found where it is least expected. Experts say that nearly every case of tuberculosis or consumption can be cured by early treatment, such as a hospital will provide."

Along with the survey the field worker has interviewed the representative citizens of each county and has obtained a favorable expression of interest from them.

The work of the Association is supported by the sale of Christmas seals. Mr. Osborn has charge of their sale in the state for 1920.

Local conditions in regard to tuberculosis are much better than in the eastern section of the country.

WHAT THE PIG CLUB MEANS

tional one whose swine are not eligible to register.

Of course in the end it means more pork, more of it and finer quality for grading and selection of the best types cannot but insure more and finer class of produce, and that is the great and growing need of today—more and better produce from the farm.

Mrs. E. P. Dodd entertained Tuesday from 4 to 6 o'clock in compliment to her mother, Mrs. R. Alexander of Pendleton. About 60 guests assembled to pay honor to Mrs. Alexander. The rooms were decorated with bowls of chrysanthemums and cosmos. In the dining room, Mrs. J. F. McNaught and Mrs. F. H. Taylor poured, and Mrs. DeLorme Harbaugh and Mrs. C. G. Bryant served. Mrs. A. E. Robb and Mrs. W. J. Warner also assisting were Mrs. C. W. Kellogg, Mrs. F. B. Swayze, Mrs. H. G. Newport, Mrs. Thomas Fraser, Mrs. A. C. Voelker, Mrs. C. S. McNaught, Mrs. F. C. McKenzie and Mrs. J. T. Hinkle.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McMillan, formerly of Hermiston, but now of Wasco, are visiting Miss Yudea Kelley. They have with them their little daughter, Dana Jean.

M. B. Signs and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ballenger of Boardman were in Hermiston on business Wednesday.
