HELP THESE BOYS

Quick action must be had for our High School foot ball team. They need backing for suits in which to play games this fall, and it is up to the citizens of Hermiston to see that they get them, and get them quick. The boys have several games they can land for Hermiston, and they could nearly be self supporting, but they need encouragement and financial aid to get started. Let's see that they get this aid and by all means see that they get it quick.

SAVERS AND SPENDERS

Can you recall the little incidents of your young days?

Perhaps you remember some child who was "close" with his pennies, who put them in his bank and kept them there.

That child, even in its tender years, was imbued with the habit of saving, was cultivating the budding idea of thrift.

If you can locate that child today you will probably find a man who has made a commercial success of life, who is financially at ease, even if not wealthy.

The child who saves his pennies in time becomes the man who accumulates his dollars.

But the one who spends his pennies as fast as he gets them generally finds that in after years the habit has fastened itself upon him to such an extent that his life becomes one of endless spending—always earning money but never having a surplus dollar.

The greatest financial injury you can do your child is to encourage it to go out and spend its few cents.

It marks the beginning of a bad ending.

For it is easier for the leopard to change its spots than for the spender to be anything but what he is.

JUST A FEW FACTS

When a farmer ships a car load of cattle, or a ton of hay, or any other product away to the city market the money he received becomes a part of the wealth of this community.

It is upon the income from the products that we ship away that we depend for the prosperity of our home people.

That fact is plain to every thinking person.

Every article we consume or use must come from some source. If it is produced at home the money we pay for it all remains in circulation at home. But if it is not produced here we must buy elsewhere.

That, also, is a fact well known to all people.

A retail merchant can buy the article we want from the manufacturer or wholesaler for considerably less than we would have to pay if we ordered direct from the factory. That is the discount made by manufacturers to all dealers.

That is still another fact which requires no extraordinary amount of brains to understand.

If we send away ourselves for what we want all of the money paid for the article goes out of the community and helps to enrich some person in some other community.

If we buy from a local dealer the wholesale price only is sent away, the dealer's profit remaining in circulation as part of the wealth of our own community.

That is the most vital fact of all, and yet it is one which many excellent citizens seemingly fail to comprehend.

A home trading community is invariably prosperous.

A foreign trading one is more often depressed.

In either case, it is as we make it.

Editors as a rule have very little to say of themselves. But that is probably because their critics have left nothing unsaid.

Hang onto your nickles, fellows. Prices are sliding down, and there may come a time when they will be of use in making small change.

You are vitally interested in Oregon having a port equal to any port on the Pacific Coast. Initiative measure No. 310 on the ballot to be voted in November will provide Oregon with such a port. The cost will be born by the people of the Port of Portland, but all of the state must vote on it. Vote 310 YES on the ballot on November 2nd.

Two Candidates for City Election

There will be two candidates for the office of city recorder at the coming city election, on November 2nd. Petitions have been circulated by J. D. Watson and C. W. Kellogg, and both names will appear on the city ballot.

EMINENT ENGLISH ACTOR TO BE SEEN IN STRONG PLAY

H. B. Warner, the eminent English actor, whose work has made his name a synonym for excellence in the histrionic art, and who has enhanced his reputation by his remarkable screen productions, has added another remarkable photo drama to his list in "For A Woman's Honor."

The title of the play is suggested in the very opening scene, when Warner, as Capt. Mannerling, of the British India Medical Corps, at the reading of the will of his fiancée's father, is called out of the room by an adventuress, Valeska DeMarsay, who claims to have been married to the dead man and threatens to expose his bigamy. To save his fiancée and her mother from the disgrace of exposure, Mannerling buys Valeska off. But in the very act of giving her the money, he is interrupted by his bride-to-be's mother, who jumps at the conclusion that the woman is Mannerling's wife, and that he is paying her to go away in order that he might marry Helen Rutherford. From this premise and misunderstanding a powerful drama is built up, when the scene shifts to India where Mannerling, the adventuress, a sinister Oriental and Helen Rutherford, his estranged sweetheart, become involved in a series of plots and counter-plots which end in the death of the plotters and the reconciliation of Mannerling and Helen.

This interesting picture will be shown at the Play House on Sunday, October 17th.

J. T. Hinkle left Sunday for Marshfield, Oregon, where he will attend the state convention of the K. of P. Before returning to Hermiston he will visit in Roseburg, Salem, Eugene and Portland.

PLEASING PROFITS

Every farmer is in business for profit. He is interested in anything that will increase his profit. He knows the importance of good seed and well bred stock. He has been talking about it for years.

Thought and a little investment pay big dividends in buildings as in stock and seed.

When good farm buildings will pay for themselves in the saving of grain, stock, feed and machinery in one season—surely they can be called a good investment.
