STOP AND THINK

It has been brought to our attention that there has recently been a salesman through the project traveling for a Portland firm that sells supplies to our people in the country.

Some of the prices were given to us that this salesman asked for his goods. If we have been correctly informed, the good people who purchased from this salesman did not save a penny, but really, lost money on the deal.

We want to caution our country folk to think twice before they stock up on any kind of goods now. Prices are coming down, and when you buy in a quantity from an outside house, you are going to lose money sure. Sugar is coming down all the time, our local stores selling it for $12.50 this week, and other goods are gradually slipping, so why buy from these foreign houses when our own stores sell at the same price.

Stop and think before you let these slick salesmen slip anything over on you.

If you want to buy in large quantities, go to your local stores first and tell them that you are in the market for so much goods, and ask them to quote you a price, and we will gamble nickles to doughnuts that you don't save a red cent after you get through paying the freight charges to Hermiston.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Do you ever indulge in day dreaming? Possibly you do—most people do at some time or other.

When a fellow day dreams he revels in all sorts of fantastic situations. He sees himself possessed of millions, courted, admired and a power among men.

But he dreams of the actuality, and not of means of reaching it.

If men would devote their day dreaming to devising ways of solving difficult problems they would become in reality what their minds picture them in dreamland.

Ten minutes of quiet concentrated thought, or dreaming, each day—with the time devoted to searching for and analyzing the roads to success in life—would eventually point out to each individual the path most suited for him to travel, and would spur him on to the accomplishment of those achievements which now he sees only in his dreams.

Ten minutes each day—only a small portion of that which is idled away through life.

Why not?

All roads lead to success in life. It is only those who lose their way who fail to arrive at their destination.

Energy and perseverance will accomplish great things when they have will power to spur them along.

SOCIETY EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Quiet simplicity marked the wedding Thursday evening of Miss Helen Clair Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Curry of this city, to Estley Roy Farley of Hermiston. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock before a bower of greens, pink carnations and orchids shaded chrysanthemums, Rev. E. J. Huston of the First Methodist church officiating.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Geo. H. Curry of Baker sang "At Dawning," by Cadman, which was followed by the wedding march, played by Miss May Neil. The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as her matron of honor Mrs. Ernest Watkins (Alice Hill) of Bandon, while little Mary Helen Watkins carried the ring. Walter Kenyon of Baker attended the groom.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Farley left for a short wedding trip in the east. They will make their future home in Hermiston, where Mr. Farley is engaged in the automobile business.

Mrs. Farley is a graduate of the University of Oregon, where she was a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. After graduation she taught in the English department in the La Grande high school. Mr. Farley also attended the university. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

The bride was charmingly gowned in the white satin dress worn by her mother on her wedding day 22 years ago. The dress was further enhanced by a wedding veil, with lace bandeau in front, the veil falling over the train of the wedding dress. She carried an arm bouquet of orchids and bride's roses.

The tea table was suggestive of brides, with a dainty doll bride in the center. Mrs. E. G. Brown and Mrs. G. Lawrence Dutton presided at the samovars and cut ices, while the Misses Minna Ash, Carol Currey, Genevieve McClaren, Helen McDonald and Wilma Oesterling assisted in serving.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Brown of Enterprise, Miss Genevieve McClaren of Wallowa, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watkins of Bandon, Miss Nina Farley of Dallas, Mr. Walter Kennon of Baker, Mr. Clyde Hunnicutt of Portland, Mr. Harry Kuck of Pendleton, Mrs. G. Lawrence Dutton of Tacoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vohrs of Elgin.—Oregonian.

Mrs. W. J. Warner entertained at bridge last Monday afternoon at her home. Four tables were occupied and an enjoyable afternoon was spent after which delicious light refreshments were served. Mrs. Warner is giving another party this afternoon.

PLEASING PROFITS

Every farmer is in business for profit. He is interested in anything that will increase his profit. He knows the importance of good seed and well bred stock. He has been talking about it for years.

Thought and a little investment pay big dividends in buildings as in stock and seed.

When good farm buildings will pay for themselves in the saving of grain, stock, feed and machinery in one season—surely they can be called a good investment.

Practical working plans, specifications and bills of material free to customers.
